Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] With all our interest attracted to Russian activities this week I was joking Mr. Brisbane about me having been there and him not. Last night I got a cute letter from him which said: "Years ago European artists were kidding an American artist for painting scenes in Europe and yet he had never been over there. He replied, 'Well, Leonardi Da Vinci painted a pretty fair picture of the Lord's Supper and he didn't even have a ticket to it.'"

He is serious about this Russia. He thinks they are going to get somewhere. Well, anyhow, they got our Congress scared, and that's more than our country has been able to do with 'em.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

World Tribunal Jurists Picked

Kellogg Included in Fifteen Named at Geneva by League Groups

Latin America Wins Three Places in Increased Judicial Line-up

GENEVA, Sept. 25. (AP) — Amid scenes strikingly like the spectacle of a political convention in the United States, the Council and the Assembly of the League of Nations today elected a new bench of fifteen jurists for the World Court.

Frank B. Kellogg, former American Secretary of State, whose name is perpetuated historically in the pact for outlawing war, was among those chosen to serve for nine years, beginning January 1, 1931, when the membership of the court will be increased from eleven to fifteen.

Latin America won three places. Antonio Sanchez De Bustamente of Cuba was re-elected, while J. Gustavo Guerrero of El Salvador and Francisco Jose Urrutia of Colombia were newly named to the tribunal. Epitacio Pessoa, former President of

Ex-Governor of Korea on Trial

TOKIO, Sept. 26. (Friday) (AP)—The public trial of Gen. Hanzo Yamanashi, Governor-General of Korea from 1927 to 1929, charged with official corruption, began in Tokio District Court today. The courtroom was crowded. The trial is expected to prove the most sensational within the decade.

While Yamanashi was traversing a corridor en route to the courtroom a leader of an ultraconservative "patriotic" society attacked and struck him over the head with a heavy umbrella, shouting "traitor" and charging him with disgracing the army and the nation.

BABY'S VISTA EXPANDING

Life Expectancy Lengthened

Ten Years Added to Span of Existence During Last Two Decades

Child of 1930 Should Live to Age of 58, Public Health Service Computes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—To every child born in 1930 medical science, in the old fairy tale role of godfather, says: "You may logically expect to have ten years more of living than the 1910 baby."

Expectation of life at birth has been increased from 48 to 58 years in the last two decades. Older age groups also have an extended life span. Such is today's good news from the United States Public Health Service.

EFFORTS SUCCESSFUL

To the long campaign against infant mortality, and to increased public health activities throughout the land, the Public Health Service attributed the cheering results of the latest life table figures.

Life insurance and census bureau figures are the basis for the computations. Specific death rates are computed for each age from 1 year to 100 and beyond in arriving at what any baby may logically expect in the way of living.

The Public Health Service pronounced these the principal disease-control triumphs of the twenty years, chief factors in the longer life span:

FOES OF DISEASE

No child need now die of smallpox or diphtheria, among the most deadly sources of the past. Babies may safely be vaccinated for smallpox and be given antitoxin for diphtheria.

Scarlet fever has become so mild health authorities seldom recommend wholesale immunization, but it is possible to immunize.

If one child in a family has contracted measles, it is now often possible to protect the remaining children by administration of immunizing serum.

Typhoid fever is well guarded against in most American cities by sanitary control of water and milk supplies, and typhoid vaccination is excellent protection.

"But a great wastage of health and life still continues, due to the failure to apply existing knowledge," said Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, chief of the Public Health Service.

AGED TURK INJURED BY HIT-RUN CAR

Zaro Agha, 156 Years of Age, Seriously Hurt in New York Mishap

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Zaro Agha, the Turk who claims to have buried eleven wives and lived through 156 years without a scratch, was seriously injured tonight, when he ran afoul of a modern juggernaut.

The aged man, accompanied by his great-grandson, Ahmet Mussa, and his manager, Assim Ridvan, stepped out into Broadway at Sixty-first street. The running board of an automobile brushed his shins and he fell, striking his head against the car. He was taken to his midtown hotel, where specialists said his condition is too critical to remove him to a hospital.

A postman and a policeman attempted to halt the automobile but it kept going.

HUNDRED ARRESTED IN PRAGUE

Scores Injured in Rioting of Nationalists Against Germans and Jews

PRAGUE, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—The police department today ordered the discontinuance of all German talking pictures to preserve order. Nevertheless a mob of anti-German and anti-Jewish Nationalists over-rode the police and specially mobilized gendarmerie took command of the streets. Scores were hurt and 100 were arrested.

Having cleared all German theaters yesterday, the mob today turned its attention largely to German cafes. The mob of 2000 strong swung into the main street and visited the Cafe Continental and other German resorts and delivered themselves of plain and fancy vituperation of everything German and Jewish. The demonstration culminated at the Deutsches Haus which is the social center of the German-speaking population of the city, brushed aside police and smashed all the windows.

When Dr. Charles Pergler, Nationalist deputy who served as Czech minister to Washington, rose to speak in defense of the anti-German demonstrations, he was greeted with Socialist cries of "Sit down, you are just another Al Capone and "Legs' Diamond." Dr. Pergler declared that German sound films are a serious threat against Czech culture.

Another deputy, M. Gajda, declared heatedly that the German minority were nothing more than colonists.

Germany Again Denies Sabotage

THE HAGUE, Sept. 25. (AP)—Further denial that German agents had anything to do with the Black Tom munitions explosion in 1916 was made today before the mixed claims commission by Germany's representatives.

These latter are opposing American efforts to collect from Germany for damages on account of sabotage in the United States before America's entry into the World War.

Summer Returns to New Yorkers

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (Exclusive) While New Yorkers were getting their fall wardrobes today summer staged a comeback and pushed the temperature into the eighties, a maximum of 85 being recorded. The humidity did its bit, too, for it went to 58.

Moreover, there will be little change in temperature tomorrow, the forecaster warned, which means that a lot of overcoats may remain in storage for a few more days.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 35. (AP)—The body of Miss Grace De Lancey V. Newlin, 30-year-old member of a socially prominent family of Bryn Mawr, who disappeared from her home Tuesday morning, was found today in a clump of bushes five miles south of Malvern.

Coroner Ford of Coatesville said after an examination at the scene he is convinced the girl committed suicide by poison.

DIEGO RIVERA SAYS HE'S QUIT RED IDEAS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25. (AP)—Diego Rivera, Mexican artist, declared today he is not concerned over demands that he be denied the right to fulfill his contract for painting murals in the San Francisco Stock Exchange Building because he is a Communist. THREAT TO 'GET' BOXER ASSERTED

Woman Summoned by Campbell Death Jury to Explain Plot Accusation

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP) A surprise witness, Mrs. Anna Deliso of Oakland, was summoned by the county grand jury investigating San Francisco's boxing conditions tonight to explain a letter she wrote to the father of Frankie Campbell, whose death was responsible for the jury's hearing.

Mrs. Deliso's letter asserted she heard Jacob Baer, father of Campbell's opponent, say Max Baer would "win if he had to cripple or kill Campbell. 'Kid' Herman is going in as second to take Campbell's attention so Max can get him."

She said others beside herself heard the conversation, which occurred at a parking station here a few days before the fight.

She quoted the elder Baer as saying "No matter what Baer did, Traung (Charles F. Traung, State Boxing Commissioner) was bound to back him up."

The letter said the conversation followed a comment by one man that high betting on Baer "looked queer." Someone else remarked, she said, Baer "must be going to foul Campbell as 'Toby' Irwin is the referee."

Air Crash Kills Three Canadians

MOOSE JAW (Sask.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Two passengers and a pilot were killed when a Western Canada Airways mail plane crashed today within a few feet of the beacon light at Southest, Alta. The dead are G. McDonald and J. G. Gibson, both of Calgary, and Pilot Pat Holden.

It is believed the plane was caught in a snow and sleet storm. It was the first fatal accident in the history of the Western Canada Airways.

Amelia Earhart Injured in Crash

NORFOLK (Va.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Amelia Earhart, trans-Atlantic flyer and noted aviation authority, suffered slight injuries this afternoon when her plane crashed as she was landing at the Hampton Roads Navy Airport here.

Miss Earhart apparently misjudged the landing field. The plane cracked up and turned over. She suffered a slight cut on the head.

PARK TOLL HIGHWAY DECLARED FEASIBLE

MODESTO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Harmon F. Bonte, San Francisco engineer, told a meeting of the Modesto-Yosemite Cut-off Highway Association last night construction of a proposed toll road into Yosemite is feasible and can be completed in less than a year at an estimated cost of $2,000,000. A committee was named to meet with owners of the road franchise. The proposed highway would reduce by thirty miles the driving distance to the valley from Central and Northern California points.

REVOLT! CRY OF HITLER

"Third Empire" His Aim

Fascism Chieftain Declares Followers will Overthrow Present Germany

Mob Shouts "Awake!" While Leader Sketches Plot to Tear Up Peace Pact

LEIPSIC (Germany) Sept. 25. (AP) Adolf Hitler, chieftain of Fascism in Germany, took advantage of a ready-made platform in the Leipsic Supreme Court today to tell Germans and the world how he would set up a German "third empire."

The plan he sketched while a witness in the trial of three German Reichswehr officers on charges of subversive activities involved tearing up the Versailles Treaty, with such consequences as might follow that action, and intimation that blood would flow at home once his "revolutionary tribunals" were set to working.

With all of the conviction and confidence of a man who stakes his all on a cause, he asserted 35,000,000 or 40,000,000 German voters soon will rally under the Fascist banner.

FOLLOWERS SHOUT

The trial itself, occupying public attention for several days, lost its own prominence in the light of Hitler's personality. While he testified in the courtroom swarms of his followers remained in the streets before the building lustily voicing their slogan, "Germany, awake!"

So great did the pressure become in the area around the court building that finally after police reinforcements had been unable to make enough of an impression on the mob, firemen turned streams of cold water on the shouting Fascists and the throng gave way quickly.

Hitler said that just as soon as German Fascists, by legal means, have attained political ascendancy they will disrupt the peace treaty, if necessary by means looked upon by the world as illegal. He said his party does not regard Germany's international post-war agreements as law but as something "forced upon us."

He asserted Fascists do not acknowledge Germany's war guilt, "especially not the guilt of future generations."

Hitler declared that after two or three more elections his party will be in the majority in Germany.

CALLS IT "REVOLUTION"

He made frequent use of the word revolution. Asked by the court why he did so he replied promptly:

"What other name can we give to a movement which aims to overturn the present state and construct a new Germany in entirely new lines?"

Hitler, technically a man without a country, it was developed, lost his Austrian citizenship fighting in German ranks throughout the World War and has not gained German citizenship.

The Fascist chieftain's opportunity to expose his revolutionary program came in the trial of Lieuts. Richard Scheringer, Hans Ludien and Lieut. Hans Friedrich Wendt, retired, before Judge Baumgarle. He was called as a witness and reminded he had the right to refuse to give evidence incriminating himself.

It was announced tonight a Fascist parade planned for Sunday at Potsdam has been called off.

TREATY MUST STAND, SAY FRENCH OFFICIALS

PARIS, Sept. 25. (AP)—The revision of treaties is a more complicated affair than the drafting of a political program. This was the reply made in official circles here tonight to Adolf Hitler's remarks at Leipsic today regarding his revolutionary and treaty-scrapping intentions, the full text of which has not been received here.

So far as France is concerned, officials declared, the Treaty of Versailles has been revised as far as it is going to be.

FORD REFUSES TO SEE FASCISTS

MUNICH (Germany) Sept. 25. (AP) The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports Henry Ford, now staying at the Bayerhof Hotel here, today declined to see leaders of the National Socialist Party (Fascists) who called on him in an attempt to enlist his support for the Hitlerite movement.

STORMS HIT MIDWEST

Havoc Wreaked in Five States

High Winds Sweep Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa and Illinois

JOPLIN (Mo.) Sept. 25. (AP)—One woman was killed and another injured when a windstorm of near-cyclonic proportions struck Neta, Mo., tonight.

DES MOINES (Iowa) Sept. 25. (AP)—Several persons were injured and extensive property damage was done by a series of terrific windstorms that lashed sections of Iowa tonight.

Wire service over the entire area was seriously affected and many communities were cut off from communication for several hours. No loss of life was reported.

HEAVY RAINFALL

Heavy rainfall which accompanied the storms added to the difficulties. Basements of business houses and homes were flooded. Rainfall of 5.39 inches was reported in Iowa City.

Charles Phillips, a farmer, was seriously injured when struck by flying timbers from a barn torn from its foundation near Summitville.

THREE INJURED

At Iowa City, Miss Margaret Hiss, 18 years of age, student at the University of Iowa, was struck by a falling tree. O. L. Lawrence, 32, was probably fatally injured, and James Nelson, 44, severely hurt, when lightning struck a building on which they were working at Council Bluffs.

Two farm homes were destroyed and considerable damage done to crops by a storm of tornado proportions at Alba.

In Galesburg, Ill., streets were flooded and windows broken by a severe rain-and-hail storm.

MISSOURI, OKLAHOMA AND KANSAS ALSO HIT

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 25. (AP)—Wind, hail and lightning late today swept over portions of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, damaging buildings and lines of communication, but first reports indicated no loss of life.

At Norman, Okla., an endurance airplane flown by Bennett Griffin and Roy Hunt of Oklahoma City was forced down. The flyers had been in the air for 293 hours. A large Western Air Express passenger plane also was grounded there.

Winds estimated to have velocity as high as fifty miles an hour swept through Southwest Kansas. Motor-car traffic was halted on highways near Wichita and much newly mown wheat was blown from the ground. The dome of the Observatory of Kansas at Lawrence was lifted from its support.

Several residences in Richmond, Mo., were damaged by wind.

SNOW FALLS OVER WESTERN PRAIRIES

OMAHA (Neb.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Western Nebraska cast an anxious eye toward the coal pile today as Old Man Winter reached out and dropped a bit of snow down over the prairie.

At Ellsworth two inches of snow was reported early tonight with the fall continuing. From Big Springs and Hyannis came reports of a half inch of snow. Rains were reported throughout the day from nearly all points west of Omaha to Lexington. The snow storm was reported traveling eastward.

New Barrymore Triumph Scored

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Ethel Barrymore Colt, ninth generation of a family famous to the stage, made her debut tonight in "Scarlet Sister Mary," a dramatization of Julia Peterkin's prize novel. Miss Colt's mother, Ethel Barrymore, appeared in blackface in the title role. A capacity audience stopped the show on the appearance of both mother and daughter and required five curtain calls at the end.

COLUMBUS TRAILED BY SIOUX

Dakota Chief, Annoyed by Tribesmen's Debates, Goes to Settle Discoverer's Birth

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—With a research fund of $75,000 in United States currency Chief Two Moon Meridas, who hails from Devil's Lake, N. D., arrived in New York today. He will sail for Europe Saturday on the steamship Augustus on a strange, interesting mission.

Possessed of a sizable inheritance, Chief Two Moon, who is an ordained chief of the Ogallala tribe of the Sioux, has been commissioned, it is said, to establish the true nationality of the forebears of Christopher Columbus.

An ardent history student, Chief Two Moon said he had lost much sleep because of the bickering of associate redskins on his North Dakota ranch over the real lineage of the discoverer of America.

Some Indians, he said today, hold with the claim that Columbus was a Corsican; others assert he was a Spaniard, and still others a Barcelona Hebrew. His Indian relatives have agreed to hold their peace, however, until he returns from the tour.

Tammany Chiefs Want Immunity

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Five Tammany leaders appeared briefly today before the extraordinary grand jury investigating corruption in the city judiciary and refused to sign waivers of immunity, as did their chief, John F. Curry, yesterday.

All were excused as witnesses. Curry yesterday declared himself "insulted" by the request to sign a waiver of immunity.

SCHOBER LOSES AUSTRIA'S REINS

Cabinet's Fall Great Blow to Most of Country

Irreparable Economic Loss Feared Inevitable

Herr Vaugoin Expected to be Given Control

VIENNA, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Cabinet of Chancellor Johann Schober fell today. The resignation was a severe blow to the greater part of the country, which regards the pretext of the Christian Social party for overthrowing Schober a frivolous one.

The business community believes Austria will suffer irreparable economic damage because of the Cabinet's action, which must cause postponement of measures the Chancellor had in view for obtaining a foreign loan.

It was expected in official circles tonight that Herr Miklas, President of the republic, will ask the resigned Chancellor to carry on the office provisionally, at the same time charging Herr Vaugoin, the Vice-Chancellor and leader of the Christian Social party, with the formation of a new government.

The appointment of a Fascist, Dr. Trakella, to the office of Minister of State Railways yesterday led to the dispute among the Schober ministry. With the Chancellor and Vaugoin at loggerheads on that appointment, it was only a question of which would yield, political observers said. The Chancellor himself capitulated.

Dr. Schober, formerly chief of the Vienna police force, formed his Cabinet September 26, 1929, and has been in power in Austria since.

"What Sargon Did In My Case Is Wonderful"

"It's wonderful what Sargon did for me! Why, I've taken only four bottles and have gained fourteen pounds", recently stated Mrs. Hattie Boss, 1445 E. 4th St., Long Beach.

MRS. HATTIE BOSS

"Two years ago my health seemed to go to pieces all at once, and from then on until I found Sargon I did nothing but spend money for medicines and treatments, but got no relief worth mentioning. At times I couldn't stand the sight of food much less retain anything on my stomach; frequent dizzy spells would put me to bed and I'd be so nauseated I couldn't lift my head from the pillow. My back ached terribly, and was so stiff and painful that when I stooped over I'd have to hold on to something before I could straighten up. My kidneys had me up many times during the night; I was extremely nervous, and often never closed my eyes before three o'clock in the morning. I lost weight rapidly; my circulation was so poor that my feet and hands would get numb, and if I climbed the stairs, or exerted myself unduly I'd have to fairly fight for breath. But thank goodness Sargon has changed all this! My whole system seems to be in perfect condition, I feel strong and well, and my health is better than it has been in years.

"Sargon Pills are the most effective laxative I've ever taken, and their action is easy and natural. I'm recommending Sargon to all my friends, and will always remember the day I learned about this wonderful medicine."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggetts Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

KLAN TRAIL STRUCK IN FUNDS QUIZ

LINCOLN (Neb.) Sept. 25. (AP)—After trailing the activties of a Ku Klux Klan Grand Dragon through the recent Nebraska Republican Senatorial primary the Senate Campaign Funds Investigating Committee left today to inquire into the North Carolina and Tennessee primaries.

Senator Nye, chairman, said the committee will convene again October 14, but it is undecided as yet which primary will be investigated first.

Senator Nye charged that false testimony was given the committee in its investigation of the reasons why George W. Norris, a Broken Bow grocer, filed for Republican nomination as Senator in opposition to Senator George W. Norris.

"We are through with that kind of business," Nye said, "and there is going to be a demonstration that this committee is not a thing to be played with."

Nye said he believes there are grounds for perjury prosecutions in connection with the Nebraska hearing, but indicated this matter probably will be left to local authorities.

Testimony regarding the political activities of the Ku Klux Klan came from J. W. Reed of Lincoln, Grand Dragon of the Nebraska Klan, who testified to his "personal" political investigations and surveys in Colorado and Nebraska.

He told the committee his purpose was to see if "a machine had been set up in the interest of Al Smith, and that is my conclusion.

ISMET QUITS AS PREMIER OF TURKEY

Angora Officials Expect His Reappointment to Form New Cabinet

ANGORA, Sept. 25. (AP)—Ismet Pasha, Premier of Turkey since November 1, 1927, tonight handed his resignation to Mustapha Kemal Pasha. Official circles expect he will be reappointed as Prime Minister and charged with the duty of organizing a new Cabinet.

The resignation came as the country's single-party Assembly for the first time was opened to two-party politics.

Under the eye of the Ghazi, sitting in the Presidential box, Fethi Bey, leader of the new Liberal party, and sixteen of his supporters took their seats today and immediately opened an attack on Ismet Pasha's government.

Fethi Bey got the floor and announced he wished to criticise the present government's policies, "one and all," but he added that as the government had less than twenty-four hours to live he would save his criticisms until the formation of a new one.

Deep-seated financial difficulties and refusal of Ismet Pasha to clinch a sorely-needed foreign loan have made unusually significant Turkey's graduation from a single-party to a two-party parliamentary system.

Indian Pupils Number 71,000

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Seventy-one thousand Indian children in the United States during September responded to the call of the school bell, according to announcement today by the Interior Department.

Of this number 38,000, or more than half, are in public schools along with the children of the general run of citizens. The number of Indian children in public schools is steadily increasing. The Federal government is this year paying tuition for Indian children in 881 white communities, which is twenty-three more than last year, and hundreds of other communities admit Indian children without collecting any tuition.

FAMOUS SCOUT ON LAST TRAIL

Harvey S. Faucett, Known as "Arapahoe Harve," Dies

Once Captured and Doomed to Death at Stake

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 25. (NANA) Harvey S. Faucett, 86 years of age, last of the old ring of famous scouts that guided civilization westward in the early '70's, an associate of Buffalo Bill, Kit Carson and many others, died here today from the effects of an injury suffered the 6th inst.

Mr. Faucett, whose body bore the marks of the tomahawk, hunting knife, arrow and bullet, received a broken hip when he was knocked to the pavement by two men in a friendly scuffle and never recovered.

As "Arapahoe Harve, the Eagle of the Trail" Faucett served as a scout for Gen. George H. Custer, and was the only white man who had an inkling of the massacre that awaited Custer and his men on the Little Big Horn River in June, 1876.

TRIED TO WARN CUSTER

An Indian scout who had been befriended by Faucett told him of the massing of Indians.

"Arapahoe Harve" was 200 miles away. He rode northward over the Wyoming prairies in an effort to warn Custer, but the ride never was completed for his pony died after galloping twenty hours over the broken prairie.

In skirmishes in the early '70's with Cheyenne and Sioux Indians, preceding the defeat of Chief Dull Knife and 1000 warriors on Crazy Woman's Creek in Wyoming, "Arapahoe Harve" was captured by a band of 200 Indians and sentenced to be burned alive at the stake.

His trial was held at night before a great council fire. When sentence was pronounced he was tied to a stake while wood was heaped high about him. The death dance followed. An Indian scout who had served with him arrived at the camp. He pleaded for "Arapahoe Harve's" life, describing him as a brother of the Indians. Another council was held and Faucett was released.

GUIDED SCIENTISTS

His last scouting was done when he piloted a United States Government Geological Survey into the Black Hills, an expedition known as the Newton survey, which was attacked by Indians. One of the scientists was killed in battle. The white men fought a running battle, pushing their horses hitched to a prairie schooner as fast as they could travel, while "Arapahoe Harve," with an arrow in his shoulder, kept the Indians back with his rifle.

When peace settled and mining developed "Arapahoe Harve" was made Chief of Police at Leadville, Colo., then an outstanding mining center of the Rocky Mountains. For his services there against road agents he was given a diamond-studded star, which he leaves in his collection of trophies.

Faucett in recent years had led the prosaic life of a night watchman.

Four deputy judges also were elected. They are Joseph Redlich of Austria, Melita Novakovitch of Jugo-Slavia, Rafael Erich of Finland and Jose Da Matta of Portugal.

HOPES AT GENEVA

In well-informed quarters at Geneva it is frankly conceded certain results are hoped for in the United States as a result of the election of Kellogg and Bustamente. It is felt that choice of the former Secretary of State will not do the Hoover administration any harm when the campaign begins for Senate ratification of the World Court, acceptance of which by the upper chamber of the United States Congress will mean American entrance into the World Court.

Bustamente's election, it is predicted, will conciliate the opinion of political leaders in Cuba and hasten ratification by that country of the protocol for revision of the World Court statute. Cuba now is the chief opponent of that protocol.

This revised statute contains guarantees of American interest before the court which are counted on to gain favor for the tribunal with influential quarters at Washington.

Today's election was marked by two striking features—first, the ease with which fourteen judges were agreed upon by the delegates, by the Council and the Assembly, and second, the great difficulty which attended the choice of the fifteenth jurist, who, after night had fallen, proved to be Urrutia of Colombia.

ACCOSTED GIRL USED TO FAINT

Catherine Deshon

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—In the olden days when a masher accosted a woman she was likely to faint. But the modern miss, like Miss Catherine Deshon, simply feints, with her left, and slams her right fist right to the so-called button. And that's just what Miss Deshon, 19-year-old New Orleans writer, did here with Harry Hyricon as the asserted target.

Miss Deshon was walking near Times Square, she told police, when a curbstone Romeo chirped "Hello, baby." Now, Miss Deshon has three brothers who have gained considerable prominence as amateur boxers, and these three brothers have taught Miss Deshon the fine points of the manly art of self-defense, or maybe now it's womanly art. Anyway, they taught her.

So, the gutter shiek had hardly more than uttered the phrase, when slam! Right on the old chin. And while the little birds sang sweetly the gathering crowd counted him out. Then a policeman called the patrol and the masher was taken to headquarters, where Miss Deshon signed a complaint. And, at last word, Hyricon was being held under $500 bail.

SCHNITZLER BOOK RATED AS PROPER

'Casanova's Homecoming' Ruled Not Obscene and Summons Dismissed

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Magistrate Gotlieb ruled today "Casanova's Homecoming," by Arthur Schnitzler, is not obscene, and dismissed a summons against the publishing firm of Simon & Schuster and members of the firm charging them with possessing and selling an obscene book.

"The standard of life today as to plays and books, and the very habits of the people, have so changed that what was regarded as obscene and immoral yesterday is today reckoned as being in proper taste," the magistrate said in his ruling.

Opinions of literary figures like Henry L. Mencken, Theodore Dreiser and Sinclair Lewis were cited by the magistrate as supporting his conclusion regarding the book.

He ordered John S. Sumner, head of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, to return to the publishers 1564 copies of the book seized several weeks ago.

HUNGER PARADE HELD BY CUBAN FARM FOLK

HAVANA, Sept. 25. (AP)—The newspaper El Pais said tonight that more than 800 farm folk in the vicinity of Placetas, faced with starvation, organized a "hunger caravan" today and paraded through the streets begging for food. Those of advanced years and the children in arms remained at the outskirts of the city awaiting the return of those able to march.

DEBTS REPUDIATED

Russian invasion of the American market with products ranging from matches to manganese has stirred much industrial and labor opposition to the soviet regime this year, while recognitionists are considered by some here to have suffered in the furore over Russian speculative trading in the Chicago wheat pit.

The extent of Russian repudiated obligations to American citizens is estimated roughly at $400,000,000. There is also a $187,000,000 credit extended by the United States to the provisional government, which followed the Czar, and $86,000,000 of Russian bonds sold privately in this country.

Hearst Invited to Make Visit in His Home Town

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—William Randolph Hearst's explanation tour for his ejection from France will include San Francisco if he wishes, the Board of Supervisors having issued a formal invitation today, but the feeling obviously is not unanimous, even in what is considered the publisher's home town.

At least one Supervisor, Warren Shannon, had sufficient nerve to express his feelings about it. Shannon said:

"The idea of this reception is ridiculous. All that it amounts to is Hearst inviting himself to visit the city. The invitation, of course has been arranged by his representative.

"Such a reception will be merely a duplication of the one in New York City, where a few lame duck Congressmen waddled down to the dock to welcome him. You didn't see Mayor Walker there, did you? He wasn't there."

Slayer of Baby Receives Life

HAZARD (Ky.) Sept. 25. (AP)—B. E. Hill, special traffic policeman and fire chief, was convicted of murder today and sentenced to life imprisonment for slaying Norma Lee Maggard, 21-months-old baby, as she was riding in an automobile with her parents.

Hill asserted he fired at the tires of the automobile to stop it and the bullet accidentally glanced into the car.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25. Conference Held at Capital on Wheat Short-Selling

Chicago Trade Board Group Meets Federal Officials

New York Inquiry Meeting Scheduled for Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—What steps will be taken by the Chicago Board of Trade to prevent short-selling of wheat such as that indulged in by traders for the soviet government was undecided after a conference here today between members of the board and high Federal officials.

Silas H. Strawn, general counsel, and three members of the Chicago board conferred at length at the Agriculture Department with Secretaries Hyde and Lamont and Chairman Legge of the Farm Board, but aside from informal statements by both sides that no unfriendly feelings exist and an expression by board members that they will cooperate in any preventive measures, nothing concrete developed.

"We have left it with them in the hope they will do something," said Secretary Hyde after the meeting. "We are not asking that they do anything but clean their own house."

FRIENDLY ATTITUDE

Strawn was reluctant to talk. He did say, however, the board entertains the most friendly and sympathetic attitude toward the government and "not the slightest hostility" exists.

Differences of opinion as to the effect on prices of short selling of as much as 7,500,000 bushels of wheat, the amount Hyde complained was sold by soviet traders over a period of four days, developed after the meeting between Hyde and the Chicago visitors.

Replying to questions of newspapermen, Strawn said it is his personal belief that short selling of this amount of grain was insufficient to depress prices. Peter P. Carey, board member, agreed with the general counsel.

DIFFERENCE CITED

The Agriculture Secretary, however, took the view that if it was an individual trader like himself, for example, it would make little difference, but with a whole government backing the transaction and prepared to continue similar activities, it is more likely prices will be affected.

The contention that a 7,500,000 bushel short sale is negligible in so far as the effect on prices is concerned was described by Hyde as the "traditional attitude of grain exchanges."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE INVESTIGATION TO OPEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Congressional committee named to inquire into Communist activities in the United States will convene here tomorrow seeking information in the short-selling of wheat by the All-Russian Textile Syndicate, a soviet agent.

ELATION MARKS WILBUR RETURN

Secretary, Back at His Desk, Cites Glowing Outlook

Nation's Rising Confidence in Hoover Set Forth

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Secretary Wilbur returned to his desk at the Interior Department today after spending the summer in California and the Far West, enthusiastic over the auspicious launching of the Colorado River project, the upward trend of business and the confidence in the Hoover administration he encountered on his travels, but expressing disappointment and deep concern over the fact that more rapid progress has not been made in solving the overproduction problem in the Kettleman Hills oil field in Southern California.

He declared Californians apparently do not realize the importance of the Federal government's effort to curb overproduction and waste.

"Unless our efforts are successful at Kettleman Hills," Dr. Wilbur asserted, "all the other oil fields in California will have to shut down because they cannot compete with the outpouring of the rich oil from this region.

SERIOUS PROSPECT

"Only a limited number of persons in California have grasped the significance of what we have been doing. We've been sitting on the safety valve at Kettleman Hills. If we cannot get a unit plan that will stop the waste of gas and thereby control overproduction of oil we will find the entire industry on the Pacific Coast seriously handicapped."

Secretary Wilbur said the "real test" lies in whether the California gas law can be made effective against waste in the State, adding that a decision in a case brought by the State is expected to come down within the next week from the California Supreme Court. This case is being watched with tremendous interest by the entire petroleum industry and also by public officials in other States which may copy the California statute if it is upheld by the courts.

OKLAHOMA CASE

A decision in another suit of vital importance to the oil conservation campaign also is expected within a few days in Oklahoma, where C. C. Julian, who has transferred his activities to that State from California, has flouted the State law enacted to regulate oil production. Officials and oil men here conversant with the litigation predict that the courts will hold against Julian.

Secretary Wilbur announced that Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, will leave for California in the near future to continue work with the committee of producers grappling with the problem at Kettleman Hills.

CONFIDENCE IN HOOVER

During his summer in the Far West Secretary Wilbur held numerous conferences with various groups on problems pertaining to his department, and delivered addresses to the chambers of commerce in a number of cities including Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Salt Lake City, Ogden, San Francisco, Pasadena and Los Angeles. These contacts brought him in touch with political and economic discussions over a wide area and he declared that he can report with no little satisfaction that everywhere he went the record made by Hoover in the last eighteen months as President seems to be commending itself to the country.

"I found," he said, "evidences of increasing confidence in the program of the administration in handling the industrial situation during the post depression period and real enthusiasm for what President Hoover has done to soften the disastrous effects of the drought. The people I came in touch with are not blaming the President for the things that were wished on his administration, or for the natural working of nature, but on the contrary are sincerely grateful for the wise steps he has taken to remedy conditions."

NEW ERA FOR SOUTHWEST

Secretary Wilbur believes that the Boulder Dam (now Hoover Dam) project, will prove a boon to the entire Southwest. Already, he said, the mere fact the development is under way has stimulated business and put it decidedly on the upgrade over a wide territory.

LIPTON CUP DONATIONS INCREASED

Sum $2923.47 Now in Hands of Mayor Walker; Angelenos Contribute

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—More contributions toward the purchase of a consolation cup to be presented to Sir Thomas Lipton, whose Shamrock V was defeated by the Enterprise, poured in today. The day's donations totaled $877.90 and swelled the fund to $2923.47. Mayor Walker is chairman of the committee raising the money.

Additional contributions for the "better than the America's cup" for Sir Thomas Lipton were received yesterday by The Times and will be forwarded to Mayor Walker of New York, custodian of the fund which was suggested by Will Rogers.

Three traffic officers, E. Geary and K. A. Ward of Taft, and Robert C. Dear, California highway patrolman, sent in $1 each for "the best loser in the world." The money is to go to "Sir Thomas, who has never given a traffic cop grief by speeding." Twelve other contributions of $1 each were received.

Village Takes Holiday as Home Town Girl Marries Wealthy Bachelor

FALLS OF THE SCHUYLKILL (Pa.) Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—A demonstration such as an American community ordinarily reserves for its channel swimmers and trans-Atlantic flyers greeted Mary Elizabeth Altemus this afternoon when she arrived at the Church of St. James the Less for her marriage to John Hay Whitney, New York's richest bachelor and sportsman.

Ten thousand inhabitants of this suburban village gathered and overran the ancient churchyard burial ground for a glimpse of the home town girl who was about to wed the heir to a $200,000,000 fortune.

It was no less than a public holiday in Schuylkill with every housewife, every school child and every man who could get the afternoon off from his job acting as supers in the mob scene.

Cheers, halloos and hand clapping broke about the bride like summer thunder when she stepped from her motor and began the 400-foot trip through the churchyard and the door of the old gray stone edifice, erected long before the Civil War, for the nuptials to which only 200 had been invited.

Inside the church the society guests were not too blase to gossip about the same report. Whitney, it is said, told his bride she could buy any one of five things worth $1,000,000.. She has always had plenty of money but not quite that much, so she hasn't been able yet to make up her mind, according to her mother, Mrs. Estelle Dobson Altemus Eastman. No one will reveal what the five choices are.

Except for a $225,000 diamond necklace gift of Whitney's mother her costume might have been that of any society bride, so closely did it conform to the snowy simplicity tradition has declared fitting.

PIRATING OF FILM SONG ASSERTED

"Chant of the Jungle" in "Untamed" Declared to Have Been Stolen

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (Exclusive) Nacio Herb Brown, composer; Arthur Freed, lyricist, and Joan Crawford, motion-picture actress, all of Los Angeles, and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation, the M.-G.-M. Pictures Corporation, the M.-G.-M. Distributing Corporation and the Robbins Music Corporation are named defendants in a suit for infringement of copyrights filed here today in United States District Court by William F. (Billy) Peters of this city.

In his complaint Peters charges that the defendants took the chorus of his unpublished copyrighted song, "That's My Heaven Right Here," and used it for the "Chant of the Jungle," theme song of the M.-G.-M. picture, "Untamed." Brown is listed as the composer of the song, Freed wrote the lyrics and Joan Crawford sings it in the film. All the defendants except Miss Crawford, Peters asserts, were familiar with his composition.

He asks for a permanent injunction stopping the sale and distribution of the "Chant of the Jungle," for an accounting of all profits on the song and for $100,000 damages.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Employment of nonunion labor in repainting the White House has called forth so many protests that Col. U. S. Grant III, director of public buildings and parks, today made public an official explanation.

A total of $117,805 worth of work has been done on the White House since January 1, Col. Grant said, and the job of painting the exterior, costing $6300, was the only one let to a nonunion contractor.

HOOVER SET FOR SPEAKING TRIPS

Itinerary of Massachusetts and Ohio Visits Decided

Additional Stop Also to be Made in North Carolina

Talk Before Banking Group Scheduled for Thursday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—President Hoover has virtually completed the itinerary for the trips which during the next two weeks will take him into two of the States in which Republicans and Democrats will match oratory and wits in a hotly contested struggle for Congressional seats in the campaign now under way.

In addition to the three speeches he is to make in Massachusetts and Ohio, two traditional battlegrounds of the parties, the President decided today to make a stop on his way to Kings Mountain, S. C., in one of the North Carolina Congressional districts which exchanged a Democrat for a Republican Representative in the landslide which gave him that State's electoral vote in 1928.

President Hoover will go to Cleveland next Thursday to address the American Bankers' Association.

SUBJECTS UNANNOUNCED

The subjects of the speeches to be made have not been announced, but they will take him before four very different assemblages, three of which will be meetings of organizations national in scope.

His visit to Boston on October 6 will take him before the American Legion in the morning and the American Federation of Labor in the afternoon.

Leaving Boston after the afternoon speech, he will travel during the night to Kings Mountain, where he will speak the following day. At Charlotte, N. C., his train will stop and he will greet the crowd from the back platform. The city is in the Ninth Congressional District, where Charles A. Jonas, a Republican, unseated A. L. Bulwinkle, a Democrat, in the 1928 overturn. Jonas is seeking re-election.

SENATORIAL CONTESTS

More than House seats are at stake in the Massachusetts and Ohio bombardments. The Democrats are waging vigorous campaigns for two Senatorial seats now held by Republicans. In the former an erstwhile chairman of the Republican National Committee, William M. Butler, is contesting with Marcus A. Coolidge, a Democrat, for the seat now held by Senator Gillett, who retires in March.

Ohio has Senator McCulloch, a Republican, jousting with Robert J. Bulkley, a Democrat, who is seeking to unseat him.

In both States the Republican candidates are running as drys and the Democratic as wets.

GASOLINE FOR ROAD WORK NOT TAXABLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Gasoline burned in tractors and other equipment used for repair and construction of public highways is not subject to the State tax, as the Supreme Court interprets the law in a decision today. Because of the decision $128 paid in taxes will be refunded to the Oswald Brothers' Paving Company of Los Angeles.

CATHOLICS END HUGE CONCLAVE

Thousands Join Procession Despite Cold Drizzle

Streets of Omaha Thronged for Colorful Spectacle

Panic Averted When Blaze Starts in Cathedral

OMAHA, Sept. 25. (AP)—Marching to the strains of solemn chants through a cold drizzle, 25,000 Catholics took part in a colorful procession here this afternoon to close the sixth National Eucharistic Congress.

Thousands more lined the sidewalks about St. Cecilia's Cathedral to witness the public demonstration of Catholic belief in the sanctity of their Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist.

Preceded by an army band, the line of marchers, composed of men, women and children, pushed through the rain for several miles, then climaxed their procession by kneeling on the wet cathedral grounds to attend benediction celebrated simultaneously on three outdoor altars.

A host was borne through the procession by members of the clergy, arrayed in rich vestments, and was placed on one of the altars from which benediction was celebrated.

CATASTROPHE AVERTED

A catastrophe was averted during the morning session of the final congress day when fire broke out in the choir gallery of the cathedral while Rt. Rev. John J. Dunn, auxiliary bishop of New York, was celebrating mass attended by thousands of nuns and lay women. The fire was noticed by but a few women in the rear of the cathedral and these, becoming excited, were quieted by nuns kneeling near by. Firemen extinguished the blaze while the New York dignitary continued the celebration of mass, although apprised of the situation.

IMPRESSIVE FESTIVITY

Cardinal Archbishop Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, apostolic delegate to the United States, addressing a meeting of clergy this morning, described the congress just closed as the most impressive festivity he has witnessed during the seven years he has been in America.

Resolutions adopted by the Priests' Eucharistic League, which met in connection with the congress, include a recommendation that the Holy See at Rome be petitioned to establish three official "feast days" in addition to those now in force. Those requested would honor "the priesthood of Jesus Christ," blessed Juliani Falconieri and blessed Petr Julian Eymard.

STIMSON SINGS HOOVER PRAISE

Secretary Sounds Keynote for New York G.O.P.

Campaign Pledges Virtually All Fulfilled, He Says

Repeal of Prohibition Urged in Chief Plank

ALBANY (N. Y.) Sept. 26. (Friday) (AP)—Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment is urged in the Republican platform plank voted 39 to 12 by the committee on resolutions early today. The declaration is substantially that proposed recently by former United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who is expected to be nominated for Governor. It calls for a Federal amendment to the Constitution to prevent the return of the saloon.

ALBANY (N. Y.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, in the keynote address at the Republican State convention today, declared the Hoover administration by legislative or executive action has redeemed thirty-four of its thirty-five campaign pledges.

Following his address, the convention adjourned until tomorrow after perfecting a temporary organization and appointing convention committees.

Secretary Stimson made no mention of prohibition, one of the major problems before the convention's platform makers.

He devoted his address to praise of the national administration and asked it be measured in the light of the business depression. Citing President Hoover's activities after the stock-market crash last fall, Secretary Stimson declared these held "the ship of business steady."

PANIC PREVENTED

"It was the first time such leadership had been exercised by any of our Presidents in a similar crisis," he said. "It prevented the immediate panic which threatened in the autumn of 1929, and to date throughout a long and world-wide strain it is still holding the labor and industry of the United States in a situation which is favorably compared with that in other countries, and in this country in other times.

"It is inevitable this economic situation should be in the background of our minds when we appraise the work of the administration, in whose thoughts and work it has occupied so prominent a position during these past months.

"Not only has it added immense problems and burdens to the original program of the administration but undoubtedly it has blinded many people to the actual accomplishments of the government during the last eighteen months."

FOREIGN RELATIONS

The principal problem to which President Hoover addressed himself on assuming office, said Mr. Stimson, was the betterment of foreign relations. The Secretary praised the manner in which these were handled and declared:

"The entire relations between this country and Latin America have been placed upon a new and sounder basis.

"The maintenance of peace is an active practice with Mr. Hoover. The best way to maintain peace is to watch incipient irritations between nations and remove them—to study and plan to guide events beforehand as far as possible, a method particularly characteristic with Mr. Hoover. This is shown by the way in which he created the opportunity for the London naval conference. . . .

"The results of that conference are so recent and well known it is unnecessary to review them. When that treaty is finally ratified, for the first time in history naval competition will be entirely ended between the three greatest naval powers — America, Britain and Japan."

Summing up, Secretary Stimson said "no President in recent years, if at any time, has so completely translated his campaign pledges into performance."

Crossing Crash Fatal to Three

BEAVER CITY (Neb.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Three persons in an automobile were killed by a train at a grade crossing at Hollinger today.

The dead were P. M. Duree, 72 years of age, a farmer; Mrs. Duree, 70, and their 1-year-old grandson, Floyd Duree of Longmont, Colo.

DISCARDED WARSHIPS WIN NAVAL HONORS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Florida, Utah and Wyoming, three battleships to be discarded under the London treaty, go out of service with colors flying. They won, respectively, first, second and third places for the past month in the Navy's engineering efficiency competition. The Wyoming is at Philadelphia for conversion to a training ship; the Utah at the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., to be converted into a radio-controlled target ship, and the Florida at Hampton Roads, Va., from which port she will go to Philadelphia to be scrapped.

VETERAN HOME HEAD NAMED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Frank B. Graves, Oakland attorney, was appointed by Gov. Young today as a member of the board of directors of the State Veterans' Home. He will fill the vacancy left by the death of Capt. Elbridge L. Hawk of Sacramento last month.

BRITISH EMPIRE RIFT WIDENING

Australia Backs Dominions' Right of Secession

LONDON, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Something like a bombshell has been cast in Imperial Conference circles with the announcement in private talks to British officials by James H. Scullin, Australian Premier, that he will support the South African and Irish demand for explicit declaration of a dominion's right to secede from the empire.

Australia has been relied on by the English Tories to resist such a declaration, but Mr. Scullin is reported to have said that it is useless to blink at the fact that the dominions have the right, if they wish to exercise it, and nothing will be gained by refusing to put it in words. This leaves New Zealand the only "loyal" dominion which is quite content with any colonial status Britain is willing to give it.

JAILED POLISH WOMAN PATRIOT FREE ON BAIL

LUBLIN (Poland) Sept. 25. (AP)—Irene Kosmowska, Polish patriot and Deputy from Lublin, recently sentenced to six months' imprisonment for Calling Premier Pilsudski insane, has been released on bail. She has rejoined her followers in Warsaw.

Rail Rate Cut on Fruit Held Vital

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—With voulme of California deciduous fruits lower than in any previous year, reduction of shipping rates to eastern markets is vital to the industry, Frank R. Buck told Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner Aitchison today.

Buck is president of the California Growers' and Shippers' Protective League, which is fighting the efforts of railroads to hold up rates.

Buck was the last witness for the California growers, and Aitchison closed the hearing with testimony from Oregon, Washington and Idaho fruit men. He announced that oral arguments will be heard by the commission en banc in Washington.

CHILD AUTO VICTIM TO BE BURIED HERE

BREMERTON (Wash.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Her skull fractured by the door handle of a moving automobile she walked into accidentally yesterday, Joyce Hattie Loveless, 6 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Loveless, died here today. Her father is chief electrician's mate on the U.S.S. New Mexico, now at the navy yard here. The body will be sent to Los Angeles for burial.

AMERICA-JAPAN TIES STRESSED

Forbes Makes First Public Talk as Ambassador

TOKIO, Sept. 26. (AP)—In his first public utterance as the new American Ambassador to Japan, W. Cameron Forbes tonight addressed the America-Japan Society at a welcoming dinner given in his honor by that organization, referring briefly to the exclusion provision in the United States immigration law.

"Speaking of the possible causes of irritation between the United States and Japan, I am not unmindful of the immigration problem," said the Ambassador. "But as that depends upon the action of Congress and cannot be handled by either executive or diplomatic officers, I feel it is wiser not to discuss either its prospects or merits."

Mr. Forbes spoke of favorable sentiment he had encountered on his recent visit to the Pacific Coast toward Japanese residents there, quoting passages in this vein from speeches at a banquet of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce which he attended.

"All up and down the Coast," said the Ambassador, "I heard words of appreciation but not a single comment unfavorable regarding Japanese residents of California."

Acción Judicial por el Supuesto Plagio de una Canción

NUEVA YORK, Septiembre 25.—Nacio Herb Brown, compositor; Arthur Freed, autor de la letra; Joan Crawford, actriz de cine, la compañía Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, la Compañía de Vistas M.-G.-M., la Compañía Distribuidora M.-G.-M., y la Compañía Musical de Robbins, figuran como reos en una demanda interpuesta hoy aquí ante el Tribunal de Distrito de los Estados Unidos por violación de propiedad literaria. El actor es William F. (Billy) Peters de esta ciudad.

En su demanda acusa Peters a los citados reos de haber hecho uso en la película "Untamed", de la Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, del coro de una canción inédita registrada por él y titulada "That's my heaven right here". De ese coro, dice Peters, está tomada la canción "Chant of the Jungle", que inspira a la película citada.

A Brown se le hizo aparecer como autor del canto, Freed escribió la letra, y Joan Crawford la canta en la cinta. Afirma Peters que todos los reos, salvo la señorita Crawford, sabían que la composición era suya.

Pide un auto inhibitorio para impedir la venta y distribución del "Chant of the Jungle", una participación en las utilidades que haya dejado esa venta, y una indemnización de $100,000.

Nuevo Linchamiento en Georgia

THOMASVILLE (Georgia), Septiembre 25.—Hoy temprano ha sido linchado aquí Willie Kirkland penado negro de 20 años, que, se dice, fue identificado por la chica de escuela de 9 años a quien intentó violar.

Kirkland, que purgaba, en cadena de presidiarios, una condena por abigeato, fue arrebatado de las manos del sheriff Davis y varios de sus tenientes, que trataban de trasladarlo, para su seguridad, a una población vecina.

De cincuenta a setenta y cinco fueron los que se apoderaron del negro, a quien colgaron de una rama de árbol en los jardines de Magnolia, suburbio de ésta, y como a una milla del corazón de Thomasville. Tras la ejecución, los hombres ataron el cadáver detrás de un camión, lo pasearon por la plaza pública, y lo depositaron, por fin, en el césped del Palacio de Justicia.

Los Viticultores Solicitan un Préstamos Mayor

WASHINGTON, Septiembre 25.—Frederick Koster, presidente del California Grape Control Board, ha pedido hoy a los miembros de la Junta Federal de Agricultura, que se sirvan aumentar de 2 a 2½ centavos el anticipo para el cultivo de la uva.

Koster, como presidente del Control Board, dirige las sociedades co-operativas formadas a principios de este año para hacer frente al programa de la industria uvera. Recomienda que el medio centavo adicional de anticipo les sea entregado a los viticultores con el pago inicial.

Koster delineó la solicitud de los cosecheros a C. C. Teague, miembro de la Junta de Agricultura. Esta no considera probable que se resuelva inmediatamente a los viticultores sobre su petición.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

VII.

Cuando e:. todavía casi un bebé, Clara empezó a ir a la escuela (When she was still a baby, Clara began to go to school). Aun antes de ir a una escuela formal, sus hermanos y hermanas grandes le habían enseñado a leer y a sumar guarismos en una pizarra (Even before she went to the real school, her big brothers and sisters had taught her to read and add figures on a slate). No tenía Clara juguete que le gustara tanto como la pizarra, y al fin quedó resuelto que ya tenía edad para llevarla a la escuela, cuidadosamente fajada con la cartilla y el silabario, como lo hacían los otros chicos y chicas (Clara had no toy that she loved as much as she did that slate, and now it was decided that she was old enough to carry it to school, strapped carefully up with her primer and spelling-book, like other little boys and girls).

La nieve invernal amontonada en el camino a la escuela era mucha para ser vadeada por las piernecitas de Clara, así es que hizo la jornada solemnemente subida en las anchas espaldas de su hermano David (The winter drifts on the way to the schoolhouse were too deep for such short legs to wade through, so she journeyed in state, perched high and dry on the broad shoulders of her brother David).

Grand Jurors Return Two Indictments

After hearing several witnesses concerning the asserted theft of funds from Los Angeles county by the use of forged vouchers by a former Inglewood constable, the grand jury adjourned at noon yesterday after returning two indictments in Superior Judge Wood's court.

The second indictment is asserted to concern a group of promoters who obtained large sums of money from investors through misrepresentations of their plans.

The next meeting of the grand jury will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

McCabe Starts Trip to Folsom

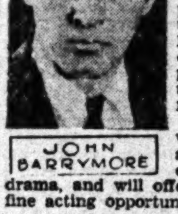
Wilbur McCabe, sentenced to hang for the murder of Henry P. Miller, clerk at the University Club, started for Folsom prison yesterday. Three other men convicted of major crimes were taken by deputy sheriffs to the prison at the same time.

McCabe shot Miller during an attempt to hold up the club. His defense was that he and Miller had planned the hold-up, but that the clerk later changed his mind, slashing McCabe with a pocketknife when he sought to carry out the robbery.

BARRYMORE VEHICLE PLANNED

Fay Wray Will Play Feminine Lead in "North of 36;" Mary Astor Wins Role in "Queen's Husband;" Louis King Directing for Columbia

BY GRACE KINGSLEY



JOHN BARRYMORE

A popular novel of the moment, the title of which is not yet ready for announcement, is to serve John Barrymore as his next starring vehicle for Warner Brothers, we learned yesterday.

Maude Fulton, well-known playwright, author of "The Brat," and other successful plays, is writing the adaptation for the picture.

The story is, we have found, a combination of comedy and drama, and will offer Barrymore a fine acting opportunity.

FAY WRAY TO PLAY IN "NORTH OF 36"

FAY WRAY

When Richard Arlen begins work on his next starring vehicle, "North of 36," by Emerson Hough, the lady who will stick to him through all his film trials and tribulations will be the beauteous Fay Wray.

Miss Wray, as you will remember, was also heroine to Arlen in "Sea Gods." The combination of temperaments and talents brought such good results that Paramount has decided to team the two popular film players again in the new picture.

MARY ASTOR WINS LEAD AT R.-K.-O.

Officials think so much of Mary Astor over at the R.-K.-O. studios that she has, we learn, been assigned by that concern to play the leading romantic feminine role in "The Queen's Husband."

As announced yesterday Nance O'Neil will play the Queen, while Lowell Sherman will have the name part.

Lowell Sherman is carving out a strenuous career for himself these days. Not only is he acting, but he is also directing, and "The Queen's Husband" will be no exception to the rule.

Louis King Directs Too!

Not all the directorial ability in the King family, it appears, is centered in M'sieu Henry. Henry's brother Louis is coming along the same road very successfully, we learn, and has just been assigned to direct "Vengeance," a Buck Jones vehicle for Columbia.

Director King expects to leave Hollywood the latter part of this week in search of locations.

Edgar Selwyn Departs

Twelve hours after he previewed his latest directorial effort, "War Nurse," Edgar Selwyn was on the train speeding back to New York. When he reaches the eastern metropolis he will prepare to try out in Newark, N. J., a Chicago company of "Strike Up the Band," his New York musical success of last season.

It is likely, we hear, that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will film "Strike Up the Band" next season, when Selwyn returns to direct his next picture.

Spanish Players Recruited

AMELIA SENISTERRA

Amelia Senisterra and Fausto Rocha, well-known figures of the Spanish stage, will arrive at Universal City October 20 to play featured roles in the Spanish version of "The Boudoir Diplomat." Carl Laemmle is bringing the two Latin stars from the Argentine expressly for the picture.

The actress has appeared in Spain and South America, and is a favorite, we hear, both in South American made films and on the stage. Rocha is a character actor of wide popularity in Spain and Latin America.

Paramount Appoints Director

Paramount continues to choose its directors from among the well-known stage figures.

Now it is Lester Lonergan, whose experience in the theater covers about thirty-five years in directing acting and writing, who has been added to the directorial staff of Paramount, according to announcement of B. P. Schulberg.

Besides enacting some 300 roles on Broadway, Lonergan directed the following plays for New York production: "The Bad Man," "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," "The Command to Love," "Abraham Lincoln," "Mary Stuart," "The Lady," "Woman on the Jury," "The Night Stick," "Tin Pan Alley," "Children of Darkness" and "The Road to Fame."

LUBITSCH FILM SMART AFFAIR

Ingenious Humor Delights in "Monte Carlo"

Jeanette MacDonald Again Displays Cleverness

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The abounding cleverness of Ernst Lubitsch is manifested once again in his second talking picture. Sans the personality of Maurice Chevalier, which lent radiance to "The Love Parade," this new production, yclept "Monte Carlo," (and any other title would probably do just as well,) offers the fascination of continuous and smart entertainment. It is replete with delectable touches of humor, and has a pleasant and never obtrusive appeal of romance.

Jeanette MacDonald and Jack Buchanan are the leading players in this feature of the Paramount Theater program. Unquestionably it is Miss MacDonald's personality that rules the screen, but Buchanan is an eminently versatile aide, and further brightness is lent by Claud Allister and ZaSu Pitts.

Lubitsch has again invaded the realm of European nobility, and treats of them in a frivolously human way. The story paraphrases an unfamiliar one, "The Blue Coast," by Hans Mueller, and the very well known "Monsieur Beaucaire." Ernest Vadja did the adaptation, while musical embellishments were provided by Leo Robin, Richard A. Whiting and W. Franke Harling. The general list of credits is appropriately given, because in virtually all respects is the picture worth while.

TRAIN SONG CLEVER

One can particularly praise the use made of song in the railroad train episode. This is an unforgettable event of the film. A joyous number is rendered by the heroine of the fast-moving express, while the people working in the fields respond in the chorus. The opening and close of the song are skillfully woven into the rhythm of the turning wheels of the locomotive and the sound of the train whistle. Here is a truly ingenious presentation of a melody on the screen.

"Monte Carlo" is all about a countess who declined to be forced into a marriage with a prince, of her flight to gay Monte Carlo and her attempt to hide there and avoid masculine attentions, of the invasion of her self-willed solitude by the dashing Count Falliere, who disguises his identity as a hairdresser.

The lady, of course, falls in love with the count while he is thus incognito and, therefore, is faced with the "Beaucaire" perplexity. Can she afford to marry her barber?

Lubitsch has made the most of the slight idea, continually adding to its significance in the dialogue and in the adroit emphasis on each situation's values.

OPERATIC TRAVESTY

He has evolved a particularly deft close to the picture in introducing an operatic performance of "Monsieur Beaucaire" to parallel the love affair of his count and countess. The opera in itself is a rich burlesque, the chorus finale being masterful.

The detail in the picture is at times most original. I like that bit especially when various doll-like musicians emerge from a huge clock to play music appropriate to the various hours. Only a Lubitsch could have thought of that, and of having the instruments on which they render their tunes altered humorously to fit the time of night and morning.

"Monte Carlo" is a sparkling mental stimulus, and it is going to mean much for its principals, especially, perhaps, Miss MacDonald, who, under the Lubitsch guidance, has a singular charm and vitality as a presence. Her acting and singing are both excellent.

Buchanan is a resourceful comedian and should prove extremely popular in this. Besides the principals already named, there are John Roche, Tyler Brooke, Edgar Norton, Albert Conti and various others well cast.

In the stage show Rubinoff the violinist, was distinctly a hit, playing several numbers to large applause. The final ensemble was approved for its scenic effectiveness. Babe Morris, tap dancer; Heras and Walace, comedy acrobats, pleased, among the others. Jules Buffano directed. Nelson and Knight offered some fair comedy.

"The Ostrich" Presented at Theater Mart

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Olga Printzlau's "The Ostrich," now playing at the Theater Mart, is a sort of indictment-of-fahtrs play, with a bit of feminine flaming youth thrown in. Mrs. Alice Pike Barney and Olga Printzlau have secured a good cast, which includes such names as Bruce Evans of the New York stage, who plays the serious-minded son; Carl Miller, who is the friend-of-the-family doctor; Gloria Grey, as the flaming-youth daughter; Bodil Rosing, as the all-knowing mama; George Irving, as the hypocritical judge-father, and Maryon Aye of "White Collars" fame, as the complicating secretary.

Father is a judge with soi-disant lofty ideas, who is also writing a book on "The Sanctity of the Home," while carrying on very inadvisedly with his attractive secretary. Daughter discovers them under compromising circumstances and speaks her unpleasant youthful mind, using this as a good excuse to elope with a notorious character. Secretary leaves and judge has a horrid time without her, so understanding mama brings her back for the judge's greater peace of mind. There is a scene with the secretary in the judge's mountain cabin, which, through the lively conscience of the secretary, proves an awkward denouement, with son, and later mama appearing on the scene. Son nobly takes the blame for the secretary and temporarily exonerates papa . . .

In the end everyone is tidily paired off with someone else and even disillusioned flaming-youth daughter is to be comforted by nice family doctor-friend.

The last line of the play finds high-minded son consoling improper papa with, "Remember, father, when I was a boy, you told me to square my shoulders, raise my chin, and be ready for the next one to come." This brings shouts of laughter and turns the play into a farce.

"I didn't try to write a smart-crack play," Miss Printzlau says, "but just to depict things as I see them."

The real question, as someone said later, "is whether an ostrich can have sex-appeal.

STAGE REVUE PREMIERE

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

And now it's "The Temptations of 1930!".

The new show, lavish in scheme, a little overcrowded with purposes, and deficient at times in quality of ideas, but swift and entertaining, opened last night at the Mayan Theater. It won laurels especially because of the zip of its ensembles and specialty numbers, and also by the amplitude of its staging.

The first performance, undoubtedly, did not reveal all that was best in the production. Cohesion and balance were not attained in the progression of the numbers. There were some transposings of programmed divertisements and some filling in of time—and so a few slow spots.

However, the audience seemed to welcome the revue presentation, and particularly one that glows with attractive girls and that has tunes that step along at a lively pace.

Unquestionably, "The Temptations of 1930" will seem to overstress the sex idea for the more discriminating theatergoer, and to many it will appear to be very much "in the rough" especially in its black-outs. The Earl Carroll model, one might say, has been adopted in this regard and also in the inclination toward nudity.

SKETCHES VARIABLE

The humor could stand improvement, as regards taste, in which it is at times utterly lacking. But there are a number of funny sketches to compensate to some extent.

The start of the show is very bright and colorful, the "American Beauty" introduction of the chorus being neatly accomplished. The second act also begins picturesquely in the Spanish mood. Individual specialties that shone out were the "Coming Home to Harlem," sung and danced by Leonard Sillman, "Friday and Saturday" done by Lester and Garson, the men-of-the-future number proffered by Robert Emmett Keane, who acted as master of ceremonies; "Gold in the Sky," offered by Doris McMahon and Clarence Nordstrom; the "Thar She Blows" dance of Bert Prival. The "Operatic Bridge" feature pleased, and "The Gun Man" burlesque had its mirthful points.

ENSEMBLE HITS

Best in the ensemble were "Spanish Love" and the "Bull Ring," portions of "The Enchanted Forest," which was rather overcrowded, unfortunately, and "Birth of the Golden West," and part of the finales.

The efforts of such principals as Solly Ward (featured,) Miss McMahon, Nordstrom, Keane, Mona Ray, Fred Scott and others did not go unrewarded in the applause. Scott sang very competently, having a voice of quality and resonance.

The music for "The Temptations" was written by Ted Snyder, and the dances and ensembles were staged by LeRoy Prinz, the production as a whole being supervised by Franklyn Warner.

ROBINSON DOMINATES MELODRAMA

Former "Racket" Star and Other Popular Players Act "Outside the Law" Roles

BY JOHN SCOTT

Screen racketeers may come and go, but Edward G. Robinson remains as the best of the lot, as a trip to the R.-K.-O. Theater this week will reveal. "Outside the Law" is the current film fare from Universal Studios and, coming as a sort of fade-out as far as this type of melodrama is concerned, presents the former star of "The Racket" in another memorable characterization.

As Cobra, the snarling gang leader, Robinson enacts what, to most, would seem to be the real underworld character. He is no gentleman crook—he is just a plain bad egg and his arrogant attitude makes of his portrayal something to remember, when visions of the suave and dapper Raffles type are forgotten.

Robinson dominates each scene in which he appears, and his acting had the R.-K.-O. patrons on the edges of their chairs yesterday. Tired as one is of underworld stories, with gunmen mowing down their victims, "Outside the Law" should not be missed.

Owen Moore, another crook in the film, who mulcts Robinson out of money taken from a bank, also offers a smooth performance. This actor's versatility cannot be passed over lightly, for he goes from comedy to melodrama with the utmost ease. In "Outside the Law" he is one of the central figures and handles the role pleasantly and competently.

As Moore's partner, Mary Nolan portrays a hard-boiled young lady who has no use for sentiment until the child of the police captain across the hall throws its arms around her neck and starts to cry. Then she breaks down and becomes a very human person. Miss Nolan is well cast and shows a marked degree of talent.

Delmar Watson is the child actor in "Outside the Law" and unlike the greater percentage of baby performers is not precocious, appearing as natural as a child in any home. His crying scene is noteworthy.

While there is nothing spectacular about the picture, the individual characterizations stand out to such an extent that backgrounds and even plot incidents are of minor importance. The cast is balanced well and besides the principals includes Edwin Sturgis, John George, DeWitt Jennings, Rockcliffe Fellowes as the police captain, Frank Burke and Sydney Bracey. Tod Browning is responsible for some efficient direction.

The Berkoffs, Russian dancers, headline the new vaudeville bill at the R.-K.-O. These fiery persons gained a lot of applause yesterday for their work. The chorus of girls accompanying the principals were also well received. Other acts are Don Galvan, Bert Walton, and a domestic comedy skit. Better than average this week.

TWO COLLABORATE

With the beginning of production on "Madonna of the Streets" Evelyn Brent and John Robertson are collaborating for the first time in eight years. In 1922 Robertson directed Miss Brent in "Spanish Jade," made in England and Spain.

GRIM TALE OF "WOLF" RECOUNTED

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Again "Wolf" Larson strides the heaving decks of the Ghost, sealer and hell-ship. Jack London's classic, "The Sea Wolf," reached the screen at Loew's State Theater yesterday afternoon as a graphic talking picture, and in its name role there appeared the late Milton Sills. The story of this ruthless skipper, "a superman with a touch of book learning," has been painstakingly transferred to the sound medium by Fox Films; it is well made and often well acted, but withal it is an inordinately depressing piece of cinema.

To the memory of the actor who portrays the leading role it may be said that he has never appeared more at home in any part than that of "Wolf." This skipper, who lives by the dogma of "eat or be eaten," who crushes life as relentlessly as death, creates an almost active hate in the spectator; outrage piles on outrage until a sense of horror like a dark cloud casts its pall over the theater. But the retribution that comes upon "Wolf" Larson, who, blind and "all broken up inside," dies at last in ignominous defeat, is surely a strange compensation for the onlooker!

I think "The Sea Wolf" is too real; but especially at this time, when it is impossible to disassociate the feeling of actual loss in Mr. Sills's passing, its vivid chapters take on a somberness its sponsors never dreamed of when they set out to film it. Unrelieved by any ray of humor—unless one excepts a certain sardonic strain that is exemplified in the cockney cook's yearnings over a carving knife—the picture encompasses a series of bloody deeds that makes the Ghost's last voyage one almost better untold.

"The Sea Wolf" is representative of a curious type of expression which has been born with the new medium. It is stark as life in its pictures, theatric in its dialogue, never subtle in its treatment and as remote from romance as a news reel. Neither the stage nor the silent screen has known anything like it, and the question of its lasting worth is still to be decided.

Raymond Hackett does good work as the waster who finds his manhood at sea. The sequence in which he is forced aloft, a pitiful figure swaying dizzily atop mast and boom, is a triumph of suspense, its handling masterful. Jane Keith, a newcomer, brings a sultry blond lethargy to her interpretation of Lorna Marsh, the girl who left a waterfront bagnio to follow her man. Her lines lack expertness.

John Rogers has the part of the scurvy, unsavory lord of the cookhouse; and the various others are Mitchell Harris (better than he ever was on the local stage,) Nat Pendleton, Harold Kinney, Harry Tenbrook and Sam Allen.

Al Santell directed "The Sea Wolf" efficiently from the screen play by Ralph Block. The dialogue is by S. N. Behrman—a far cry from that which he penned for his lilting Theater Guild comedy, "The Second Man," to be sure.

Fanchon and Marco's "Fountain of Youth" Idea discloses a group of mermaids diving effortlessly into a large tank on the stage, as well as walking blithely down a flight of steps into water from which they later emerge differently costumed. I haven't seen anything like it since, a terrified and expectant youngster, I watched whole regiments of ladies march under water at the New York Hippodrome, never to emerge at all.

Lotti Loder, Warner Brothers' importation from Vienna, seems somewhat out of place in a stage show as typically fast and American as this which Larry Ceballos has created for Fanchon and Marco. She sang a characteristic number about a poor gigolo, first in her native tongue and then in charming accented English, after which she attempted to dance in "hot" jazzique: I wish she hadn't.

The remainder of the show presented Barton and Young, Frank Stever, Bob and Jack Crosby and Ed Chaney.

New Play Lists No Minor Roles

There are no minor roles in "Death Takes a Holiday." At least that is said to be the attitude of the thirteen players selected for the Pacific Coast premiere at the Biltmore Theater October 3.

Each role is deemed vitally important to the plot and is consequently a vivid characterization, giving each actor an opportunity to display his own particular talent.

CONTEST FACED BY DEMOCRATS

Malaby of Pasadena Seeks State Committee Chair

Liberals Declared Backing Fight Against Bryan

Organization at Sacramento Fixed for Tomorrow

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Dr. Zachary Taylor Malaby of Pasadena, a direct descendant of President Zachary Taylor, announced here today that he is the candidate of the liberal wing of the Democratic party for chairman of the new State Central Committee in opposition to Milton K. Bryan of Los Angeles. The central committees of the four parties, Republican, Democratic, Socialist and Prohibition, will meet here Saturday to organize.

Dr. Malaby has been promised the united support of the wet element of the party in Northern California, and a large number of proxies already have been gathered in by Martin I. Welsh of Sacramento, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, in Dr. Malaby's behalf.

Justus Wardell of San Francisco, who also is interested in Dr. Malaby's candidacy, declared today the liberal wing of the party is determined, if possible, to wrest control of the new State Central Committee from the drys, headed by Milton K. Young of Los Angeles, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and Bryan.

CANADIAN NEWSPRINT CHAIRMAN RESIGNS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Col. John N. Price, chairman of the Newsprint Institute of Canada, announced his resignation today in a statement charging violation of the institute's rules by certain unnamed members. The institute was organized to curtail production and relieve a glutted market, his statement said. It operated as a pool and its members were supposed to abide by its rulings. Recently, he said, there has been a growing tendency among its members to "scramble for markets," disregarding the rules of the institute.

RACKETEERS GET POLICE DOCUMENTS

Chicago Gangsters Found to Have Copies of Orders Issued by Officials

CHICAGO, Sept. 25. (AP)—A slashing offensive against racketeers today resulted in more than a score of arrests and revealed that Capone henchmen have been receiving copies of official police communications.

The documents, carbon copies of plans for a campaign against hoodlums, were seized in a spectacular raid on the Carleon Hotel, where twenty men and two women were arrested and records of the dealings of the Capone gang were found.

The records were secreted in the upholstery of a chair in one of the rooms. Some were only a week old. Among the communications seized was one headed "from Deputy Detective Chief John Ryan to Chief of Detectives John Norton."

This communication listed names of thirty men, some of them notorious underworld characters, against whom vagrancy warrants were to be issued. It was dated September 18, 1930.

Chief of Police Alcock announced he was astounded at the discovery of police memoranda, and indicated he will immediately start an investigation to discover who was responsible for the leak.

Pope Reported Resentful of New School Decree

Anti-Catholic Move Feared Back of Order

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—An open breach between the Vatican state and the Greek republic loomed today over the school question, under which are said to be issues of a far more complicated nature than those concerning the general international religious movement. These issues, according to news coming from the Vatican, concern what the Vatican fears to be a concerted and widespread anti-Catholic movement in which British Anglicanism, American Episcopalianism and Greek orthodoxism are said to be combined in a move against Rome directed by Canon Lord Archibald Douglas of London.

No Vatican mission will attend the celebration of the centenary of Greek independence unless a recent decree forbidding children to attend foreign schools within Greek territory is withdrawn, as it affects many Catholic missions and institutions established there. This announcement comes from Vatican City today, though not yet officially.

Diplomatic relations do not exist yet between the Vatican and Greece, but the Pope, according to news from the Vatican, had nevertheless decided to participate in the Greek celebrations by sending a papal state delegation. This now has been called off and assurances that the Greek gesture was only intended to avert the danger of Greek children being instructed in a way incompatible with Greek traditions and history are called misleading by Catholic papers and Vatican writers. According to these no such accusations can be made against Catholic churches and schools in Greece.

This situation, according to charges from the Vatican City tonight, has been brought about by the work in Greece of Canon Douglas co-operating with the Greek Metropolitan, Germanos Di Tiarti, in a violent campaign against the Holy See. Furthermore, one Vatican writer charges that "it would not be superfluous to know that the Douglasists head one of the anti-Roman movements which, arising just after the war and sustained by dollars of North American Episcopalianism would like to coalesce and join up all the orthodox churches with itself in order to form a new catholocism to confront the Catholicism of Rome. Also in the recent Lambeth congress this Canon Douglas reported on his proselytist activities in Greece against Catholic schools."

MOB HANGS NEGRO HELD IN ATTACK

Convict Identified by Girl in Georgia as Man Who Attempted Assault

THOMASVILLE (Ga.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Willie Kirkland, 20-year-old Negro convict, said to have been identified by a 9-year-old schoolgirl as the man who attempted to attack her, was lynched here early today.

Kirkland, serving a sentence on the chain gang for horse stealing, was taken from Sheriff Davis and several deputies who were seeking to transfer him to a near-by town for safe keeping.

The men who seized the Negro numbered between fifty and seventy-five. Kirkland was hanged from the limb of a tree in Magnolia Gardens, a suburb, about a mile from the heart of Thomasville.

After hanging him, the men tied his body to the rear of a truck and drove to the city, circled the public square and deposited it finally on the Courthouse lawn.

Kirkland was arrested yesterday along with five other Negroes.

During the night it was said that Kirkland, in custody of officers, was taken from the jail to the home of the girl, who identified him. Shortly after daylight he was taken before the girl, who again said he was the one who attempted to attack her. It was after this second visit that officers sought to spirit him away, but were balked by the mob.

POWDER
REMOVES GREASE SPOTS WITHOUT LEAVING A "RING"

Most silks are now "weighted" or "loaded" with foreign substances to make them appear of better quality. Liquid cleaners dissolve this "weighting" or "loading," and this causes "rings" on Silks. We have therefore created Carbona Grease Absorbent Powder for use on Silks only. This Powder will not affect "weighting" or "loading" in any way—it absorbs Grease Spots instead of dissolving them, and no "rings" can result from its use on Silks.

PLAN FOR RULING SISTER FINE, BUT POLICE OBJECT

CHICAGO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Justine Klophowski, with a background of fifty-one years' experience, offers advice to modern parents on how to keep the young upstarts at home nights.

With Justine's sister Josephine, however, his strategy did not work.

Josephine is 30 years of age. Justine thought she ought not to go out alone, night or day.

So he devised methods to inforce his fraternal injunctions.

He hung crepe on the door and locked it. He poured acid on the front porch and told Josephine it would burn the soles of her shoes. He nailed a shoe to the porch in such position it would appear from within the house a man was on guard without.

But Josephine used the telephone, received police callers, and Justine is no longer his sister's keeper.

Koster Asks Farm Board to Advance 2 1-2 Cents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Frederick Koster, chairman of the California Grape Control Board, today requested members of the Federal Farm Board to increase the advance on raisin grapes from 2 cents to 2½ cents.

Koster, as chairman of the Control Board, directs the co-operative organizations formed earlier this year to handle the industry program. He urged the half-cent increase in advance loans be made in the initial payment to growers.

Koster outlined the request of growers to C. C. Teague of the Farm Board.

It was considered unlikely at the Farm Board that a decision on the request will be made immediately.

CITY PLANS TO ESCAPE FLOODING

Burbank Reverting Water Channels to Head off Wash from Mountains

BURBANK, Sept. 25.—Each year Burbank suffers more or less from flood waters that come careening down the mountainsides in the eastern part of town. An effort is being made this year to obviate much of this. According to City Engineer Stites much work is now being done at the junction of Stough Canyon and Sunset Canyon, in preparation for the rainy season which is expected, according to reports, within another three weeks.

The improvements consist of revetting the water channel, from the new pavement on Sunset Canyon Drive to the first check dam, a short distance above, and the sides of the channel are being lined with rocks and cement blocks encased in woven wire, the bottom being covered with cement blocks.

Stites states work on this channels will control any reasonable overflow that may be expected to come from Stough Canyon.

COAST RECORD BROKEN AT FAIR

BY BURTON L. SMITH
"Times" Staff Representative

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 25.—The greatest event in the history of the Southern California Fair made a high spot in the racing program this afternoon, when Hollywood Pat, belonging to the Gold Seal Stables of Pomona, driven by John P. Quinn, stormed around the half-mile track in the free-for-all trot in 2:04½, breaking all records for the Pacific Coast and coming within a half second of the national record for half-mile ovals. This gives to Riverside the distinction of having one of the fastest tracks in the nation and the fastest in the West. The grand stand was filled to capacity this afternoon, and a program of speed events of the first magnitude was offered for the entertainment of the visitors. The usual number of vaudeville entertainers were present to add to the gayety of the occasion.

The largest crowd of the week, estimated at well over 25,000, was on the grounds today, with hundreds of members of Kiwanis Club mingling with the throng.

KIWANIS LEADERS THERE

With the Kiwanians were two distinguished members, Charles E. Millikan of Los Angeles, district governor of the California-Nevada district of Kiwanis. The other was Senator Frank Merriam of Long Beach, who is the candidate of the Republican party for Lieutenant-Governor at the November election. Senator Merriam is also a prominent Kiwanian.

Attorney A. Heber Winder, past district-governor of Kiwanis, introduced both District-Governor Millikan and Senator Merriam, and they were given a rousing reception by the grand stand patrons.

The Kiwanians came to the fair grounds from the Mission Inn, where Millikan was the speaker at the luncheon at noon.

Great throngs visited the agricultural, live-stock and educational divisions today, and approved the awards made by the judges in these departments.

The San Joaquin county exhibit, which won first honors in its division, is sporting the coveted blue ribbon which it won after a close contest with Ventura county. These two exhibits are considered the most beautiful ever placed in the Riverside fair.

The program in front of the grand stand today included Mrs. Eula Wolfe and her Spanish musicians and dancers, and vaudeville acts, chosen from the Winter Garden Revue performers.

Tonight the Winter Garden Revue presented its second performance, a rare treat for those who appreciate high-class music and vaudeville performances.

Friday's racing card brings out the 2:24 pacers and the 3-year-old trotters. The pacers in the line-up are Dicara, Jr., Hi Wa, Brinkerhoff, Jack Rabbit, Red Rambler, Binkey Logan, Ethel Logan, Buster Boy, Loganberry, Major Pat and Greta June.

The pace will bring out Santa Barbara, Stockton Express, Wano, Myrtle Logan and Etta Crysta.

These horses have all been over the western circuit and some good racing is sure to result.

Officials and executives of the San Bernardino National Orange Show motored over from the Gate City last night and paid their formal visit to the fair.

There were about twenty in the party, headed by Louis Wolff, president of the Orange Show, and General Manager R. H. Mack and member of the executive committee.

The Gate City visitors were greeted by President August Rohrbacher, who escorted them over the grounds, spending much time in the agricultural tent, where the orange show has a beautiful exhibit. The live-stock division was visited, as was the poultry division. The visitors pronounced the fair as the best Riverside has yet held. Hundreds of fair visitors have found much pleasure in the exhibit of fine arts, displayed in the studio beneath the grand stand.

ART EXHIBIT SHOWN

The exhibit is sponsored by the Laguna Art Association, with W. W. Riddell as director. Mrs. C. S. Pomeroy of Riverside is in active charge.

The majority of the canvases, both in oil and water color, are from the Laguna Gallery and include many lovely pieces in both natural and modern treatment. There are approximately 100 canvases on display.

In addition there are eleven pictures by Riverside county residents which rank well with the Laguna works.

Mrs. Pomeroy has entered two lovely water colors, "Roses" and "San Juan Capistrano." Willet Foster shows a tempting scene in his "The Forbidden Garden." He shows a second picture, also.

Evelyn Mondon of 3937 Eighth street shows two seascapes, "Water and Rocks" and "Laguna Cove," which are commendable, and Franklin Pearce shows two mountain pictures, "Distant Mountains" and "In the Mountains." The triumvirate of Southern California is completed by Warren Squires's "Desert View."

O. H. Rowland of Highgrove has shown a western scene in his "Saddling a Willowtail." and August Lederer of Corn Springs shows a picture called "Monarch of the Coxcombs."

WEST INDIAN VISITS

MANHATTAN BEACH, Sept. 25. A visitor from Trinidad, West Indian Islands, the Hon. Guy Ponsonby, is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Matier, here. Ponsonby is in Southern California to study the oil production fields and finds a petroleum wealth undreamed of on his last visit twelve years ago.

TEETH HELD IN LIEU OF CHECK

Hotel Retains Artificial Molars Until Woman of Charm School Remits

PASADENA, Sept. 25.—Hundreds of local wives and daughters who attended a certain charm school conducted here by a beauteous blond expert on feminine lure, will be interested in a discovery made in her local hotel suite following her departure.

It was learned here today from "sources deemed reliable" that through a purely accidental mistake, payment on the check which the beauty presented in payment for her hotel accommodations was stopped.

Hurrying to the suite which still bore mute evidence of lingering charm, the hotel clerk pulled out drawers and crawled under the bed with the hope of finding something of value which he could hold until the check was made good.

At first blush, nothing appeared to have been left, but (here's where the charm devotees must prepare for a shock) a second search revealed, glistening in a glass of water, a set of lower false teeth!

A short time after, a messenger boy raced into the hotel lobby and handed a telegram to the clerk—"Send me the false teeth," recited the wire.

The return wire was dispatched immediately. It read: "Yours received, stop. Send another check and I'll send the teeth."

It is not known who owns the teeth, but it is known that they were found in the beauty's room immediately after her departure and that they are being held today, pending settlement of her hotel account.

SUSPECTED MURDERER SOUGHT

Police of Pasadena Told Man Wanted for Killing of Wife Tries to Rent Room

PASADENA, Sept. 25.—Reports that Charles F. Murphy, alias Everett P. Lindsay, wanted on suspicion of killing his wife and attacking three small girls in Seattle, attempted to rent a room in this city last night were received by local police today.

A man whose name is withheld by the police for fear that the asserted murderer might seek to still his lips, stated that a man answering Murphy's description and newspaper photographs, attempted to rent a room in the vicinity of Lake avenue and East Orange Grove avenue.

He is reported to have been driving a roadster or black coupe and was wearing a dark gray suit and black felt hat.

The man wanted has a cleft in his chin, is 42 years of age, five feet eleven inches in height, has dark hair tinted with gray, and a slightly ruddy complexion.

The police believe that a mistake in identity may have been made, but request anyone seeing a man answering this description to telephone police headquarters.

Several persons reported Murphy was in Los Angeles during the last twenty-four hours.

CARAVAN PLANS MADE

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 25.—Arrangements have been made by joint committees from the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club for participation in the Sepulveda Boulevard fiesta caravan next Saturday, it was made known today. Members of each of the organizations and many of the city's official family will take part, going from here in decorated automobiles.

PUPILS FASHION MODEL OF SCHOOL

Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Teacher, and Young Architects, With Miniature Structure
The Sierra Madre Grammar School in miniature as reproduced in cardboard by youthful architects, under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal, pictured above with her pupils. The boys are, left to right, Jack Paschall, Jr., Howard Morgridge, Mitzu Kunihiro and David Brown.

SIERRA MADRE, Sept. 25.—Not content to wait until their new school building is completed, which will be about November 15, five ambitious Sierra Madre grammar-school boys, who are inclined toward architecture, have just finished an exact replica of the school building now under construction. The model was developed under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the school.

The boys fashioned the building from ordinary cardboard and each detail has been worked out to perfection, even to the red-tile roof and grilled windows. The roof of the miniature structure is of corrugated cardboard painted red which represents tile, and the wrought-iron fixtures on the exterior of the building are made of rusty wire.

In landscaping the grounds the boys used sponges dyed green for the shrubbery and trees, and complemented the scene with a typical school playground representative of their own ideas.

The youthful architects are: Jack Paschall, Jr., Howard Morgridge, Mitzu Kunihiro and David Brown.

SMOKER IN CLOSED AREA FREE

Jury Decides That Puffing on Pipe in Mountain Wash Where There Is No Vegetation in Close Proximity Does Not Constitute Fire Menace

UPLAND, Sept. 25.—It required the deliberations of twelve men to decide that smoking in a mountain wash where there is no vegetation in close proximity, did not constitute a fire menace, and Robert Perdew, 732 Pine street, came out victor when called to trial before Judge George R. Crane charged with smoking in a closed area.

Perdew was arrested by William F. Roth early in September while smoking a pipe in the wash of Cucamonga Canyon.

He testified that there was nothing but rocks about him, and he didn't think they would burn. A blacksmith's forge used by Perdew and other workmen in sinking a well in the wash, was giving off fire, also, it was brought out.

The prosecuting attorney, Dep. Dist.-Atty. J. B. Kavanaugh, quoted from a county ordinance that smoking is prohibited in closed areas, except at established camps. It developed during the hearing that the well diggers had established a camp in the wash, and that smoking, therefore, was not forbidden there.

The jury deliberated over the testimony nearly an hour, and then voted in Perdew's favor.

FAIR'S DAY PROGRAM TOLD

Directors of Orange County Association Plan Events for Forthcoming Annual Exhibition

ORANGE, Sept. 24.—Directors of the Orange County Fair Board met last night for the purpose of definitely outlining the day-by-day program for the 1930 event. The tentative program, as thus far arranged, will begin at 2 p.m., although the entrance gates will be thrown open at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Arrangements are being made for free entertainment daily, afternoon and evening, under the big tent. The arena program for the first day, the 30th inst., is as follows: 2 p.m., grand entry parade followed by running races, interspersed with aerial and vaudeville acts.

Programs for the next two days will carry five running races daily, in addition to vaudeville and aerial acts, each day varying in some particulars. On Friday, October 3, begins the rodeo attraction. This will run through the fair, which closes October 5. Six running races a day also will be part of this program.

A number of the horses entered for the races during the entire fair are thoroughbreds that frequently are on the racing schedule at the Tia Juana track.

Saturday, October 4, in addition to the regular rodeo program will be "Japan Day." Many thousand Japanese are expected to be present and following the rodeo in the afternoon there will be Japanese jiu jitsu, fencing, sword dancing, dancing girls, and daylight fireworks, in an entertainment on the stage in front of the grand stand.

Elaborate Rites for Aged Priest of Jesuit Order

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 25.—Elaborate funeral services participated in by a half-dozen or more priests, will take place in the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows here tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. for Father Dominic Giacobbi, veteran California missionary, who died yesterday. The body will be sent to San Francisco, where a solemn funeral mass will be celebrated in St. Ignatius Church.

The aged priest died after Rev. Father Gleeson of the church had administered the last sacrament and was reading the prayers of the church.

Father Giacobbi was born in Corsica eighty years ago. At the age of 18 years he entered the Jesuit order. He came to California in 1872, arriving first in San Francisco.

He made his theological studies in Woodstock College, Maryland, and was ordained to the priesthood by Cardinal Gibbons. He was the guide and father of many young Jesuits in the Novitiate of Los Gatos for seventeen years, and following years saw him teaching philosophy in Santa Clara College, and later in the house of philosophy at Mt. St. Michaels, near Spokane.

As assistant pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows here, Father Giacobbi became a well-known figure here. Later he was devoted to the work in laymen's retreats in Los Altos and in the foothills of Santa Clara.

NO CADDY HOUSE, NO COURSE

Because City Council Dug Up Ordinance Prohibiting Business Building in Location Sought for Bantam Golf Site, it's All Off

ONTARIO, Sept. 25.—Because the City Council dug up an ordinance that would not permit him to build a caddy house, J. Fleet Lund has definitely abandoned his plans for an elaborate miniature golf course at Fourth street and Laurel avenue, he announced today.

The Council, after considerable cogitating and debate, finally decided it would be fine for Lund to build his costly miniature golf course directly opposite Chaffey Union High School and Junior College.

Then when all seemed to be going along smoothly Lund ran into an unexpected hazard when City Attorney E. H. Jolliffe informed him that he could not have a caddy house or any other type of structure on the place, as the city's ordinance forbids construction of any type of structure for commercial purposes in a residential district.

Lund waited several weeks, hoping something would develop to permit him to build his golf course, but when it seemed evident that the ordinance is to be enforced to the letter, he put away his clubs and called the deal off today.

A golf course is absolutely worthless without a house for the manager to stand in, he said. The Council had been involved in a pee-wee golf controversy all summer, hinging on the Fourth street, Laurel and Euclid avenue corners. William Atchley of Upland was denied the right to build an elaborate course at Fourth street and Euclid avenue, and a short time later Lund was given permission to erect one at Fourth and Laurel, one block from Euclid avenue, but the joker in the deck happened to be the law against building a caddy house.

Albert A. Russ Dies at Ranch

ANAHEIM, Sept. 25.—Albert A. Russ, 52 years of age, prominently known Anaheim rancher, associate of Capt. (now Brig.-Gen.) Robert Wankosky in the Spanish-American War, and Jonathan Club member, and a descendent of one of San Francisco's prominent pioneer families, died here early this morning.

Prior to his enlistment for service in the Spanish-American War, Russ was identified with the Harper and Reynolds Hardware Company of Los Angeles. Following the war he became identified with the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company of San Pedro, now known as the Southwestern Wharf and Warehouse Company.

He was a native of San Francisco, his father having been the founder of the Russ Lumber Company, still in existence. For nine years he had lived on his ranch near Anaheim.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Kathry M. Russ, daughter of Joseph Backs, pioneer Anaheim settler; a sister, Mrs. Belle R. Moore of Los Angeles, and his mother, Mrs. Louise R. Russ of Los Angeles.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 1 p.m. Saturday from the Backs, Terry & Campbell parlors, Anaheim, with burial to take place in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale.

BILLBOARD LOCATION WILL BE REGULATED

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 25.—Complaint made by the owner of a new barbecue stand in this city to members of the City Council has caused City Attorney Clyde Woodworth to prepare an ordinance regulating the location of billboards within the city limits, and also other outdoor advertising, and the attorney also will draw up a setback line. The owner of the barbecue stand informs the city officials that he is conducting a business in a building thirty-five feet from the building line so that his customers may have parking space for their automobiles. On one side of his building site, however, there is a large billboard within ten feet of the building line, and another on the opposite side a short distance further out, and that these boards obstruct the view of his establishment, which handicaps his business.

RAY RILEY IN VALUATION TALK

State Comptroller Pleads for Uniform Appraisals

County Assessors' Meeting at Catalina Addressed

Collection of Auto Tax at License Time Indorsed

AVALON (Catalina Island) Sept. 25.—The annual convention of the State Association of County Assessors of California was called to order yesterday in the Catalina Casino by President W. A. Horton of Santa Cruz. Mayor Fred Paulson of Avalon gave a brief address of welcome after which the meeting adjourned until 1:30 p.m. when J. H. Hartman, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Assessor's office, spoke on "Tax Values," from an economic standpoint with relation to assessed values, and discussed the various methods used by county assessors at arriving at base values.

Ray Riley, State Comptroller, made an urgent plea for equalization of assessment values throughout the State. At present, Riley pointed out, each county has its own base value, making it impossible to arrive at any uniform State appraisal. He also urged that a State board of equalization or other efficient body, be vested with the right to act as a continuous tax commission, to check on constant economic changes, and to go into counties that have no uniform method of appraisal and assist them in solving their problems.

Riley also pointed out that governmental expenses are increasing more rapidly than normal increase of revenues, this being due largely to paternalistic obligations which the government is gradually finding necessary to assume, such as pensions, tuberculosis sanatoriums, etc.

David F. Smith, counselor for the Motor Dealers' Association of Southern California, gave a short address on automobile valuations.

The assessors indorsed the passage at the coming Legislature of Amendment No. 18, which provides for the collection of automobile taxes at the same time that the license plates are secured.

Last evening the assessors took the flying-fish trip on board the launch Blanch W. Headquarters for the convention are maintained at the Hotel St. Catherine.

Speakers today included Van T. Ellsworth of the California Land Bureau, who talked on "Assessment of Agricultural Lands;" A. E. Allen, County Assessor of San Bernardino, who will discuss "The Allen System of Valuing Citrus Trees," and Dr. Milbank Johnson of the California Taxpayers' Association, who spoke on "The Relation of the California Taxpayers' Association to the Public Official."

Contract Let for Gymnasium

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 25.—Contract for the new high school boys' gymnasium was awarded the Beswick Construction Company last night, on a low bid of $73,000. The figure represents the general contract on the building exclusive of electrical work and plumbing.

The gymnasium, when completed, is expected to be one of the most modern in the State and will be elaborately equipped. Allison & Allison are architects for the building and for the landscaping of the surrounding athletic field, which forms a perfect bowl, part of which is reserved for competitive games alone.

Bleachers seating 4000 persons are now under construction at the field, under a separate contract awarded to M. M. Waddell.

Funds for the building and the athletic field improvements and equipment were provided for in a bond issue voted last March. Arrangements provide for the retiring of the bonds from the general fund of the school district, without increase in the tax rate.

Rites Conducted for Aged Man

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 25.—Funeral services were conducted this afternoon for Henry Ritter, 81-year-old resident of this place, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Kibler, after a short illness. He was a native of Missouri and had lived here for ten years. He had been a member of the Masonic order for fifty-six years, making but one transfer in that time, and was a past-master of Arrow Rock Lodge No. 70, in his home State.

He leaves, in addition to his daughter here, a son, H. Ritter of San Pedro.

Services were from the Glade L. White mortuary and interment was in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

RIO GRANDE OIL OMITS DIVIDEND

Announcement of Step Made to Stockholders

Action Held Advisable Under Present Conditions

Earnings Expected to Run at Substantial Rate

Directors of the Rio Grande Oil Company at a meeting yesterday afternoon voted to omit the quarterly dividend of 50 cents. In announcing this action, L. E. Lockhart, president of the company, in a statement to stockholders pointed out that the effect of the oil conservation program and arrangements with the company's bankers for a loan of $5,000,000 upon a revolving fund basis to continue for one year, made the passing of the dividend the only prudent course to pursue in the opinion of the board.

Net earnings for the first half of the year were equal to $1.80 per share on the outstanding stock and during the first two months of the third quarter the net earnings after all charges including Federal taxes have been substantially in excess of dividend requirements, according to the statement.

SHOWING GOOD

Since December 31, last, the company has disbursed in dividends $1,854,000, has materially expanded and developed its properties in all departments and has increased its net working capital position more than $900,000.

"While it has not been the company's policy to forecast its earnings, the directors see nothing in the general condition of the industry or in the business of the company that would contradict their belief that the earnings will continue at the substantial rate as at present," Mr. Lockhart stated.

The company has whole-heartedly co-operated with other producers of crude oil in the reduction and conservation of its production and has also co-operated with the refiners and marketers of the country in an effort to balance production of both crude oil and gasoline with the demand.

OIL STOCKS REDUCED

As a part of this co-operative movement it has been necessary for the company to construct and provide a large amount of additional storage and to accumulate in storage crude oil and gasoline to an extent which would be excessive under normal conditions, the statement continued. Conversion of these inventories is being gradually accomplished and the amount of oil in storage has been materially reduced within the last sixty days.

In order to fund the bank indebtedness and to provide additional working capital for the company's expansion program, serious consideration was given to the issuance of senior securities in the form of debenture notes but this plan was rejected because of the cost in marketing such securities under adverse market conditions and arrangements were made with the company's bankers for the $5,000,000 loan.

By conserving its cash resources and the gradual liquidation of its inventories to a normal balance the company can retire its bank indebtedness and when the securities markets are such as to permit the company to do financing on a more favorable basis, consideration will again be given to the debenture plan of providing capital, the statement said.

Hancock Profits Exceed Dividend

Earnings of Hancock Oil Company are running materially above present dividend requirements, Will J. Reid, president of the company, stated yesterday. The company paid a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share the 1st inst.

The next dividend meeting will be held in November. Mr. Reid said that he knew of no reason why there should be any change in the present dividend policy of the company.

DRIVE ON OILS SUCCESSFUL

BY EARLE E. CROWE

If the judgment of the speculators is accepted, the oil business is in a bad way. The savage attack yesterday was levelled at the small and large companies alike, and when the fury of the selling had spent itself most of the Pacific Coast oil companies were appraised at about $11 and $12 a share.

Prices as low as these are hardly the reflection of calm and unbiased judgment. Some of the companies now placed in the $12 class are probably worth more money even if dividends are passed and the oil business does surrender to strife and overproduction.

CONDITION BETTER

It would not be accurate to say the industry has wiped its slate clean and is again on a healthy basis. But it is fairly close to the truth to state the business is in better shape than it was thirty days ago. The prospect of obtaining sizable reduction in curtailment is excellent and substantial progress, moreover, has been made in this direction.

Refining companies, in addition, are in much better condition through the reduction in crude oil prices and the 1-cent increase in gasoline quotations. Refiners have been placed in a position to make money, something that was almost an impossibility prior to the recent price readjustments.

The fever to sell stocks is more accountable for the depressed state of oil share prices than the status of the industry or the individual financial condition of companies. There is always a reckoning, however, for reckless enthusiasts on the short side as much as on the long side of the market.

If oil stocks have been pushed below natural market levels as measured by current and prospective earnings, there is no promise, on the other hand, of a corrective in the shape of a booming bull market. The industry is a long way from working out of its difficulties, but it is making sound and intelligent progress in that direction.

NEW BOTTOMS HIT

Yesterday's drive was notably successful in establishing new lows for most of the Pacific Coast oils. Rio Grande was particularly the object of selling to discount the passing of the dividend later in the day by the directors. The stock touched a new low during the day at 10 3-4.

Richfield common and preferred also found new bottoms, the former at 10 7-8 and the latter at 15. The attack on Richfield common was predicated on the assumption that this company also will pass its next dividend, a supposition strengthened by the action Wednesday in omitting the payment on Universal Consolidated, a subsidiary company.

Union Oil and Union Oil Associates were not overlooked. Both stocks scored new lows, 36 for Union Oil and 35 for Union Oil Associates. Even the premier Standard Oil was shoved down to within ½ of its low for the year, while Shell Union at 12 1-4, Hancock at 11 and Macmillan at 8½ all were in new low ground.

NET OF LESLIE SALT COMPANY DECLINES

Net profits of Leslie California Salt Company for the year ended June 30, last, amounted to $186,603 after all charges except Federal income tax provision, equal to $1.60 a share on 116,320 shares outstanding, which is a material reduction from the earnings reported a year ago, the company reported yesterday. Subsidiaries' earnings accounted largely for the reduction, particularly in the case of Oliver Salt Company, wor which officers deemed it expedient last January to cancel certain sales contracts.

STANDARD-PURE OIL TO SHARE PIPELINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—W. C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and Henry M. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil Company, confirmed today a report that the two companies are to participate in the ownership of Ajax Pipe Line Corporation.

HAL ROACH EARNINGS INCREASE

Studio Reports Gain of 23 Per Cent in Period Ended July 26; Outlook Bright

Hal Roach Studios, Inc., yesterday reported for the thirty-four weeks ended July 26, last, total net profits after all charges of $36,082.93. This is an increase of 23 per cent over the profits reported in the preceding thirty-four week period when earnings were $29,245.15.

Gross earnings under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release totaled $1,085,554 for the period, compared with $1,089,033.40 for the preceding thirty-four weeks. Current assets as of July 26, last, were $996,376.69, against current liabilities of $215,786.08, or a ratio of 4.4 to 1. Total assets were reported at $2,789,131.42, compared with $2,655,080.98 on November 30, 1929.

Under the present plans of the company to further strengthen its working capital, no action has been taken toward the resumption of preferred dividends which were omitted last December. It was pointed out in the report, however, that the company is now in a sound position and headed for progress in the next few months.

Twenty-one pictures were produced during the thirty-four-week period. Work on a feature picture, "The Rap," starring Laurel and Hardy, is now under way and the elevation of this team to feature-length pictures is expected to revive demand for their two and three-reel comedies.

"Practically all of the Hal Roach stars, including Laurel and Hardy and Charles Chase, have recently been signed on a new five-year contract basis," according to the report. "The company now has what is considered the most outstanding group of comedy stars in the entire industry."

Price War on in Coast News Print Circles

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Warfare between producers of newsprint paper for domination of Pacific Coast markets got well under way yesterday through announcement by Louis Block, chairman of the board of Crown Zellerbach Corporation, that his company will meet the $58 per ton price posted by the Powell River Company, Ltd., of British Columbia, Canada. The new price represents a cut amounting to $5.50 per ton from the $63.50 price established by Crown Zellerbach last year.

Earnings of Crown Zellerbach have suffered perceptibly during the past six months. For the fiscal year ended April 30, 1929, the corporation reported earnings equivalent to $1.72 per share on the common. For the year ended April 30, 1930, net earnings available on the common were reported at $1.43 per share. During the three months' period from April 30 to July 31, earnings dropped to 18½ cents per share on the 1,991,680 shares outstanding. What may be expected for the current quarter is difficult to state, but with the present price-cutting it is likely the net after reserves for bond interest and preferred stock dividends will be small.

Directors of Crown Zellerbach declared the regular 25-cent quarterly dividend on the common at their last meeting, the dividend to be payable October 15 on stock of record the 30th inst.

Net Earnings of Southwest Utility Gain

While August gross earnings of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation and subsidiaries declined $4255.99 to $461,418.99 from the August, 1929, total of $465,674.98, net operating profits through a reduction of operating and general expenses and taxes increased $5552.56 to $239,433.67, it was revealed yesterday in a statement issued by the company.

The balance available for dividends after all charges, however, amounted to $57,451.07, against $75,231.43 in August, 1929, a decrease of $17,780.36. A large reduction in other income account and an increase in the charge-off for depreciation accounted largely for the decline in the net, according to the statement.

Gross earnings for twelve months ended August 31, last, amounted to $5,620,663.69, against $5,595,387.65 for the same period a year ago, a gain of $25,276.04. The net operating income totaled $2,861,065.26, as compared with $2,956,665.01 last year, and the net after all charges, $877,045.27, against $988,310.20.

GOLD SHORTAGE FORECAST

Published Report to League of Nations Points to Possibility Within Four Years

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—When Dr. Hans Luther, president of the Reichsbank, meets the heads of the Bank of England and the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve officials in New York shortly, the question of gold distribution will cause plenty of discussion.

The published report of the gold delegation of the League of Nations is now out. Its conclusion—that there is a real possibility of a shortage of new gold for monetary purposes within four years—will be carefully analyzed and discussed.

George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, is the American member of the committee, which has just concluded its study.

Can the present gold supply plus the annual gold production take care of the normal growth in business in the future? The answer of the committee is definitely in the negative, under existing conditions.

In this gold report the monetary requirements are calculated on four distinct assumptions: (1) That a reserve of only 33 per cent is needed and that the rate of growth of demand is 3 per cent per annum; (2) That the reserve rate is 33 per cent, but the rate of growth is 2 per cent per annum; (3) That a reserve of 40 per cent is needed, but the rate of growth is 2 per cent per annum; (4) That the reserve ratio is 40 per cent and the rate of growth is 3 per cent per annum.

The League committee found, except in the case of the first assumption, that the supply of "new gold available for monetary purposes will be inadequate by 1934 unless measures to alleviate the situation are adopted in time."

What measures can be taken to meet the problem? That's the subject, doubtless, which will interest the world bank leaders when they meet at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Two new faces will be seen there. One is that of Dr. Luther, who succeeded Dr. Hjalmar Schacht as president of the Reichsbank. He has had a distinguished career. He is a former Chancellor and has the confidence of the business groups to a remarkable degree.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., new governor of the Federal Reserve Board, will be the other new figure. He has had a world of experience, is familiar with Federal Reserve policies and has the entire confidence of the administration.

Montagu Norman, head of the Bank of England, has a real job on his hands. Under the Norman leadership in the Bank of England the British pound was brought back to prewar par. It was a very painful process, for deflation is much harder to attain than inflation. Put it this way: Inflation is the good time; deflation is the morning after.

The recent condemnation of the gold standard by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce has caused many business men in England to wonder whether a new drive against the gold standard is about to open.

The French are sitting pretty. Unlike the English, who deflated to bring the pound back to normal, the French, after a long period of inflation, refused to deflate, but did stabilize the franc at about one-seventh of its prewar value. This resulted in a business expansion that has been the envy of the world.

But the report of the gold committee of the League of Nations, plus the rumblings heard throughout the world against the gold standard, makes the coming meeting of the banking leaders a world event.

Anaconda Group Reduces Rate on Copper Shares

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Anaconda Copper Mining Company declared a quarterly dividend of 62 1-2 cents today, placing the common stock on a $2.50 annual basis, against $3.50 previously. The reduction represented a 50 per cent cut from the second quarter of 1929.

The Andes Copper Company, controlled by Anaconda, declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents, placing the stock on a $1 annual basis. Three months ago the company paid a quarterly dividend of 37 1-2 cents and for the preceding six quarters it had paid 75 cents a share.

Directors of Inspiration Consolidated Copper Company, in which Anaconda has a one-third interest, also omitted the dividend. A company statement said the directors decided to take no action because of the prevailing price of copper and curtailed operations of the company. Three months ago the company paid a quarterly dividend of 50 cents and for the five preceding quarters paid $1 a share.

Directors of Greene Cananea Copper Company, which is about 90 per cent owned by Anaconda, omitted the quarterly dividend due. A statement said the action followed consideration of "the prevailing low price for copper and the necessity for completing the construction program enlarging and equipping the metallurgical plants of the company." Three months ago the company made a quarterly payment of 75 cents and for the preceding five quarters had paid dividends of $2 a share.

Baad on Board of Union Bank

Charles Baad, vice-president and manager of the Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel, yesterday was elected a director of the Union Bank and Trust Company of Los Angeles at a special meeting of stockholders. The announcement was made by Ben R. Meyer, president of the bank.

Mr. Baad, who is widely known through the country in the hotel trade, came to San Francisco from Ohio in 1910 to become manager of the St. Francis Hotel. In 1920 he came to Los Angeles as manager of the Alexandria and two years later was made manager of the Los Angeles-Biltmore.

Clay, president, last May stated that temporary suspension of dividends would be necessary unless earnings of the company showed material improvement.

Wheat Futures Turn Off After Early Advance

CHICAGO, Sept. 25. (AP)—In a late selling flurry today, the wheat market suffered quick loss of 2¼c a bushel advance that earlier had step-by-step been attained. The sudden drop in wheat values went hand-in-hand with reports that James C. Stone, a member of the Federal Farm Board, said he agreed with the theory the price trend would be downward the next few years. Many standing orders to stop losses at various set limits were forced into execution by the market tumble, but hurried rallies were in progress as trading came to an end.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous and irregular, ranging from ⅛c under yesterday's finish to ⅝c gain. Corn closed unchanged to ⅝c higher, oats ¼@1c advance and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 12c.

Failure of wheat values to hold upturns came after a period of rather persistent buying, which to some observers appeared to be a continuance of the purchase movement that late yesterday whirled the market skyward. Buyers received a further stimulus from word that snow storms were sweeping over the Canadian prairie provinces.

Unusual dampness of large quantities of new wheat in France was also reported.

Strength in the corn market faded out suddenly when wheat prices broke. Corn values though, recovered better than wheat did. Oats paralleled the action of corn.

Provisions were easy owing to scantiness of demand for lard.

WARD ACTS NEXT MONTH

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Montgomery Ward directors will meet for dividend action at the usual time, October 22. Rumors of a meeting today were unfounded.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—The battle of the bears and bulls today became a fight to the finish for control of the immediate price movement. With the market at a recognized critical point, professional operators for the decline hurled all their resources into an effort to depress prices, and won at least a temporary victory by forcing seventeen stocks to new low prices for the year on the San Francisco Stock Exchange, while casualties on the Wall-street exchanges were even more numerous.

Failure of the oil industry to report profits sufficient to cover dividends for many companies was seized upon by the bears as an excuse to turn their attack on that group. The onslaught carried six issues listed on the "big board" here to 1930 record lows. They were: Richfield, 10⅞; Honolulu, 30; Richfield preferred, 15; Shell Union, 12½; Union of California, 36, and North American, 13. Most of these issues closed at their lows, which in all cases except Shell ran from 1 to 3 points. Union Associates and Standard also lost a point or more. Tidewater absorbed one sale of 4000 shares, yielding only a ¼-point.

Transamerica's turnover led the list, but was moderate in view of the increased activity in the oils and industrials.

Leaders were Transamerica, 11,600 shares; Richfield, 10,600; Standard, 6100; Crown Zellerbach, 5100 and Union Associates, 5100. No others exceeded 5000.

Utilities provided strong resistance, losses being small fractions. Two utility preferred issues even advanced to new high marks for the year.

The industrials were hard hit, those reaching new lows including Caterpillar, Langendorf B, Marchant, Roos Brothers, California Packing, Crown Zellerbach, Magnavox, Ltd., Golden State, Byron Jackson and Spring Valley, losses running from a fraction to 3½ points. Paraffine was a heavy loser, slumping 4½, but remained well above the year's low.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—The wool market is quite active with demand covering all grades domestic wools from fine to common and braid. The finer grades including 58, 60s and above are receiving bulk of demand although demand for lower grades is better and appears to be expanding in a moderate way. A fairly good volume of late repeat orders on heavy weight goods which may account for the more active demand on medium wools, is being reported in the trade.

SANTA FE OUTLOOK

Gorman, Kayser & Co. in a bulletin just issued outline the favorable position of the Santa Fe Railroad from the viewpoint of the investors in rail shares.

Are You in the Market for Public Utility Bonds?

During recent months, sound public utility bonds have enjoyed a greater popularity than any other class of securities. This comes as a natural result of the long record of dependability established by such issues.

CONTINENTAL GAS & ELECTRIC CORP.

5% Gold Debentures, due 1958

Price 92½ and Interest, to yield about 5.53%

—offer a sound utility investment priced on an attractive yield basis. The company through its operating units serves a population of 1,500,000 in the Middlewest. For the year ended July 31, 1930, income, after depreciation, available for interest charges amounted to 3.09 times such requirements on these debentures, which constitute the corporation's only funded debt.

We shall be pleased to send detailed descriptive circulars on request.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Oil shares provided the leadership for a further break in curb stocks today.

With activity at the best level of the year a half dozen of the most active petroleum stocks, including Standard of Indiana, broke into new low ground for the year, on losses ranging from 1 to 4 points. Recessions in the general list ranged from a small fraction to 25 points.

The reactionary trend which carried many stocks to the lowest level of the year gained headway during the afternoon in sympathy with the trend on the big board. It followed a morning of uncertain price movements when many pivotal issues which have been under pressure steadied. Oil shares, however, moved downward from the start and the unsettling influence gradually spread to the remainder of the market. Standard Oil of Indiana broke sharply under a heavy volume of offerings, selling down 2 points and closing 1½ off. Cosden sagged 3 but regained half of its loss, but together with Standard Oil of Kentucky, Gulf, Vacuum, and Richfield with warrants rested on new bottoms at the close. Cities Service was very steady, moving narrowly to finish ⅛ off.

There were indications that the principal interest of the bearish element had swung from utilities to petroleum and industrial issues, for the reaction in the utility group was less violent than yesterday. Electric Bond & Share found support just above yesterday's low and lost only ¾. American Gas & Electric, Electric Power & Light warrants, Tampa Electric and New England Telephone & Telegraph lost 2 to 4.

Aluminum, Ltd. dropped 28 points to a new year's low. Consolidated Mining, 12; Huyler's of Delaware preferred, 20½; Continental Shovel preferred, Cooper-Bessemer, Crocker-Wheeler, Aluminum Company of America, U. S. Radiator sagged 2 to 5, most of them to new lows for the year. Weakness of Fokker Aircraft, off 2½, and Technicolor, down 1¼, both to new 1930 lows stood out. Goldman Sachs lost ⅛.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Resumed Bear Attack Sweeps Local Stock Prices to Lowest Levels in Recent History

Distressed selling combined with professional operations for the decline plunged the Los Angeles Stock Exchange to lower depths yesterday as bear forces followed up Wednesday's uncertain close with a flood of sales unequaled in months. Basic levels, heretofore thought impregnable, were penetrated in wholesale fashion when the selling wave knocked down prices from one to more than two points, caused a turnover of more than 10,000 shares for many of the more popular issues and established thirteen new bottom records.

Richfield headed the activity with sales of more than 13,000 shares, under which the stock sank to 10 7-8 and closed at 11 1-4 for a net drop of 2 3-4. The preferred fell off 2 3-8 to 15. Rio Grande, about which speculation on dividend action was an additional depressing factor, broke 1 1-2 to 10 3-4 and closed at 11 1-4. The dividend was passed after the close of the market.

In addition to Richfield and Rio Grande new lows were chalked up for Union and Union Associates, with net losses of more than 1 1-2 points each. Shell also hit a new bottom at 12 1-4, ending at 12 5-8, off 5-8 net. Standard of California dropped 7-8 and Signal 1 1-2, while Pacific Western closed firm at 15 1-2. Macmillan struck another new bottom at 8 1-2, down 1-2, and Hancock yielded an additional point to 11.

While a preponderance of the selling was among the oils, other divisions of the list were not excepted from the trend. Transamerica dropped 1 1-4 to 20 1-4 and finished at 20 3-8. Pacific Mutual struck a new low at 72 1-4, off 1 3-4, and Pacific Finance preferred C sank 1 1-2 points to a new bottom at 7. Byron Jackson lost a point to a new low at 10 and Pickwick, on the transfer of only 100 shares, crashed a full point to 2.

Southern California Edison, after hitting 55 7-8, swung back to close unchanged for the day at 56 1-4. Claude Neon, under severe pressure in the recent past, was only lightly traded, but fell off 1 3-4 to 21 1-4. The balance of the list which participated in the dealings recorded fractional losses. Goodyear Textile preferred advanced 2 3-4 points.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Eight issues in the dollar list made new lows for the year on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday as the decline in quotations continued with most of the active stocks showing net losses running from a fraction to 2 1-8 points.

Aviation of Delaware, off 3-8 to 5, Chapman Ice Cream down 1 1-2 to 21 1-2, Fokker Aircraft off 1-2 to 14 1-2, Mexican Seaboard at 19 1-4, closing at 19 1-2, off 1; Packard Motors off 7 8 to 11 3-8, Radio off 2 1-8 to 30 7-8, Riverside Cement common down 1 to 13, and Universal Consolidated Oil off 2 to 5, all registered new bottom prices.

Gladding-McBean, the only dollar issue to make a net gain, was up 1 point at 35. Consolidated Steel common at 5 and Cord Corporation at 6 5-8, were both off 1 point. General Motors on a turnover of 3000 shares held its net loss to 1-2 point, closing at 41. Intercoast Trading dipped 1-4 to 11 7-8.

Bandini Petroleum in the cent list jumped 55 cents to $5 following the action of the company's directors in resuming dividends. Barnhart-Morrow moved up 3 cents to a new high at 19 cents. Lincoln Drilling dropped 17 1-2 cents to $1.40. Kinner Airplane closed unchanged at 52 cents.

Sales totaled 48,295 shares, valued at $253,032; previous day, 39,520 shares, valued at $387,671.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Prices in the outside crude rubber market today held steady and unchanged throughout the list. At one time quotations were inclined to display strength, incident to the receipts of advices from London that spot was quoted in that market at 3 15-16d. up ⅛d. but as in London, local prices by closing time had edged back to the previous day's levels, which were record lows. The rubber market here is watching with interest the plans of various automobile companies to stimulate sales by the bringing out of new models ahead of schedule time.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—In addition to the eight cars fresh arrivals by rail, around three loads arrived via truck out of near-by feed lots. Holdovers numbered 290. Most of the trading yesterday centered on she stock at unchanged levels. Very little interest was shown in steers with no carlot sales up to a late hour.

A few odd lots of steers grading common and medium went out to killers and feeders at 5.75@6.65.

A load good 1115-pound Montana cows secured 6.50 and a couple loads medium to good 1028 to 1040-pound averages 6.00@6.35. Two sizable strings California feed lot offerings made 5.60 and 5.65 and some part loads 5.00@5.50. Fleshy dairy types ranged up to 5.75, with low cutters and cutters 2.50@4.50. Bulls were weak to 25c lower, with nothing passing 5.75. A load northern holdovers cashed at 5.40, with some common sorts at 4.00.

CALVES—The undertone continued weak, but a little more action was in evidence than on Wednesday. Some good light veals sold up to 11.00 and 11.50 and some 255-pound average at 10.00. A part load southwesterns scaling 235 pounds made 8.75 and common kinds down to 5.00.

HOGS—About 75 head arrived via truck and the same number was held over from Wednesday. Not enough was here to definitely establish values and sales were uneven as compared to last previous sales. A truck lot good 173-pound Arizonas made 11.65 and other small lots trucked local butchers scaling 172 to 225 pounds at 10.75@11.50. Odd head packing sows secured 8.00@8.50.

SHEEP—The rail contingent carried 19 decks. A fairly active trade developed with lambs weak to 25c lower and sheep steady. Two decks good 79-pound Utah lambs made 7.50 and around eight decks medium 69 to 74-pound averages, 6.50@6.75. Fat yearling wethers reached 5.75 and two decks good Utah and California ewes, 3.75.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Near-month liquidation promoted by the circulation of October notices was quite readily absorbed during today's early trading by covering and trade buying.

Advances of a few points appeared to meet increased selling, however, and the market eased off later under local, Wall street and New Orleans selling. Prices made new low records under this pressure and some stop orders were uncovered on the decline. The midafternoon market was barely steady at about 10.49 for the new October, and 11.00 for March, or 2 to 5 points net lower.

Eureka! Husbands need no longer leap off the Colorado-street bridge. At 6:45 tonight both KHJ and KNX, a chain broadcast, sponsored by a hosiery company—and they will award prizes to women listeners. First prize will be a new pair of stockings every week for ten years.

For lovers of good music and song—two good bets. KFI at 4, a chain with Jessica Dragonette, the Cavaliers and Rosario Bourdon's Orchestra, and KHJ at 3:30 tonight—Singing Strings—Lehar, Nevin, Friml—there is music.

Do you like organ music? KTM from 10 to 11 tonight—Edgar Eben, organist. It reads like a delightful repertoire, guaranteed to provide a background for your reading or bridge game.

If you like southern melodies and songs tune in for the R.-K.-O. hour—KFI—at 6:30 tonight. Violin sextet, Southernaires Quartet—an N.B.C. broadcast.

KHJ at 4—yes, Columbia's "Nit-wits." They burlesqued "Julius Caesar" last week. They're going to murder something else today—you might just as well lose all your tragic ideals.

If you could read all the publicity on KHJ's "Radio Follies" at 6 tonight you'd tune in. If it's only half as good as they say it should be worth while. Prehearings of Cantor's hits in "Whoopee."

What the kiddies can do. KMTR at 6:30 p.m. will romp out another Fanchon and Marco Idea with the Meglin Kiddies.

How do you like KNX's new "Lion Tamers" at 9 p.m.? Three rings, reperfected lions—a ten-piece band and the same old ringmaster, Roy Kellogg. Give it a twirl.

If Raymond Paige can't make you ruin the hardwood—KHJ at 9 tonight—then you simply don't dance. A half hour of dance music—and perhaps a little song, too.

And that's all.

Federal Control of Harbor Terminals Opposed

National Authorities Group Expresses Disapproval

Commissioner Allen's Views Favorably Received

BY WALDO DRAKE

Position of the Los Angeles Board of Harbor Commissioners against control of publicly owned port terminal facilities by the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday found strong favor with the American Association of Port Authorities, in annual convention at Milwaukee. A telegram to that effect was received at the port offices yesterday from Harbor Engineer George F. Nicholson, announcing the association's favorable reception of a paper read on the subject by Walter B. Allen, president of the local harbor board.

Mr. Allen contended in his paper that the Interstate Commerce Commission now has the authority necessary to control railroad-owned marine terminals in the public interests, but that serious inequities would occur if the I.C.C.'s jurisdiction were extended to ports owned by States or municipalities.

"Were it possible to have one central authority to fix and enforce charges on all services usually performed by port terminals, the goal of port authorities throughout the country will have been achieved," said Mr. Allen, "since these officials have been aware for some time of the necessity of closing the wide gap which exists in the practices and charges at the various ports. However, the port authorities are making progress in the solution of their problems, considering them in geographical sections wherein there is similarity of conditions, so that Federal control may unsettle a situation which is slowly clearing."

NORWAY CRAFT HERE FOR YACHT CONTESTS

As forerunner of the promised European campaign for California midwinter yacht-racing laurels, the Norwegian twelve-meter sloop Irina III will arrive at the port this morning from Copenhagen aboard the Westfal-Larsen motorship Heranger. The famous racer, now owned by George von Erpecom, managing director of Westfal, Larsen & Co., first cleaned up in Scandinavian waters in 1919 under ownership of Fred Olsen.

Mr. von Erpecom plans to sail her in the annual midwinter regatta off this port next February 21 to 25 and until his arrival from Norway she will be in charge of Capt. Harry H. Birkholm, friend of the owner.

E. J. Brown, Central American representative of the Panama Mail Steamship Company, arrived from San Salvador yesterday aboard the company's liner Colombia for his annual conference with Panama mail executives. He said Central America is well on the road to recovery from its recent business depression, predicting that Salvador's new coffee crop will reach a total of 750,000 bags.

Three hundred passengers for San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco are aboard the Panama-Pacific electric liner Virginia, due at the port tomorrow morning.

Aboard are Don Marquis, playwright and humorist, coming to Hollywood with Mrs. Marquis; Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, former women's national golf champion, here to play in the national women's tournament at San Francisco next month, and Maurice Kann, editor of Motion Picture News.

Angelenos returning on the Virginia include Mr. and Mrs. William P. Banning, Miss Cecilia Dwyer, O. Hagstrom, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jordan, H. Sidney Loughlin, Miss Florence B. MacGill, Mr. and Mrs. Liston Noble, Miss Helen Otis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parmelee and Henry Young.

Members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will return on the Lassco flagship tomorrow from the chamber's fifteenth goodwill excursion to Hawaii. The liner delayed her return a day to give the excursionists an additional day in the islands.

Aboard are 263 passengers, including A. C. Fleury, in charge of plant quarantine for the State of California, and Mrs. Fleury, who passed their vacations in the islands, where Fleury also studied Mediterranean fruit fly infestations. The liner also has several thousand tons of refined sugar, canned pineapples and general merchandise.

The City of Los Angeles will make a quick turn-around at this end of her run, and will sail again for Hawaii the 29th inst., carrying the first of the personally conducted fall tours, of which four are scheduled before the end of the year. Others of these special tour sailings are October 18, November 15 and December 13.

Joe Mardesich, president of the Franco-Italian Packing Company at Terminal Island, will leave today for Sacramento to attend a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, of which he is a member.

Square frames were up at Al Larson's yards yesterday for another 120-foot bait boat, to be built for Manuel Madina of San Diego at a cost of $90,000. Lumber is arriving for a 125-footer for Southern California Fish Corporation, the largest bait boat ever ordered by Southland tuna interests. It will cost $100,000.

Pugilist Freed in Death Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Manslaughter charges against "Red" Kuehl, pugilist, were dismissed today by Municipal Judge Lazarus. Kuehl had been accused of responsibility for the death of Johnny Anderson, 18-year-old novice fighter who died after a bout at National Hall August 20, in which Kuehl gave him a severe beating.

Judge Lazarus said he dismissed the charge because he is convinced the fight was conducted according to the law and with the sanction of the State Athletic Commission, and the defendant had no intention of killing Anderson.

NEW FOX CHIEFTAIN ARRIVES BY PLANE

Oscar S. Oldknow

OLDKNOW RETICENT ON PLANS

Successor to Franklin Arrives by Airplane to Assume Fox Post

Here to fill the post vacated by Harold B. Franklin as president of the Fox West Coast Theaters, Oscar S. Oldknow of New York yesterday declined to discuss his plans until he has "had a chance to get his feet on the ground." He will take over Franklin's duties at once.

He arrived last evening via T.A.T. plane and was met at the Grand Central Air Terminal by a few personal friends who whisked him away as soon as he had collected his hand baggage.

"I am not prepared to say what Mr. Franklin's plans are," Oldknow said, "but I understand that he is to take a six-weeks trip to Europe as soon as he is relieved of his position."

Prior to his appointment as head of the West Coast Theaters chain, Oldknow had been associated with Harley L. Clarke, president of the Fox Film Corporation, in several of Clarke's enterprises. Among other things, he was vice-president of the National Theaters Supply Company.

QUINN DEMANDS ALIEN OUSTING

Supervisor Would Deport All Smuggled In

He Launches Move as Aid to Solve Unemployment

More Than 2,500,000 Said to be in America

Legislation to rid the country of more than 2,500,000 illegal alien residents as one of the first steps toward solving the unemployment problem in Los Angeles county and the United States at large is sought in a resolution to be presented to the Board of Supervisors on Monday by John R. Quinn, member from the Fourth District. Quinn, who is also a Past Commander of the American Legion, will present the same resolution to the national meeting of the veterans' organization at Boston next month.

In the preamble Quinn declares the problem of unemployment is the most important issue today before the people of the world. Reports, he says, based on the recent Federal census indicate a minimum of 2,500,000 persons, about 2 per cent of the population, able to work and seeking it but unable to find it.

MILLIONS REPORTED

Other figures, Quinn declares, show that since 1921 at least 2,500,000 aliens have entered the United States illegally and are continuing to enter at the rate of 250,000 to 300,000 a year. The Supervisor asks that the board direct the County Counsel to make a study of the Constitution and statutes of the United States and of the State and then advise the board as to the most effective means to rid the country of illegal residents. He says:

"Based on the total population figure, the 2,500,000 unemployed represents about 2 per cent of the total population. Figures for the Los Angeles district, regardless of the fact that business is and has been better here than in most sections of the country, indicate that about 3.2 per cent of the population unemployed is seeking work but unable to find it.

SLIP INTO COUNTRY

"That the percentage here is greater than the average of the country may well be a fact, due to the attraction that California holds for all of the people of the country. This fact makes it especially important that we should do everything possible to reduce unemployment by every means consistent with good citizenship.

"Other figures from Washington inform us that since 1921 at least 2,500,000 aliens have entered the United States illegally and are continuing to enter at the rate of 250,000 to 300,000 a year. They pour across the borders from the north and south, land at out-of-the-way places on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards, and by the thousands pour in at legitimate ports of entry in the persons of deserters from ships' crews and signed-off members of the crew who are given sixty days to reship under the law, but disappear and never do reship.

"Since the number of illegally entered aliens accounted for by the Washington figures balance or about balance the total of unemployed we are justified in the assumption that if we would rid the country of the illegally entered alien we would rid ourselves of the problem of unemployment, as well, as much of our criminal and social welfare problems. The illegally entered alien came into the country like a burglar into our homes; essentially he is a fugitive from justice and is undesirable.

CALIFORNIA ATTRACTS

"California with her attractions for all people, with her long coast line and border exposure, as well as major ports of entry, has at least her full quota of these undesirables who never, regardless of the lapse of time, will be qualified for citizenship and who, in large numbers, are keeping qualified and potentially qualified citizens out of employment and placing a tremendous burden upon our charities and institutions."

The resolution Supervisor Quinn will present to the board is as follows:

"Whereas, with these facts before us it is our duty as the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county to take such steps and do such things as may be necessary to relieve the people of whom we are the elected representatives, and to aid to the extent of our ability to relieve all the legitimate citizens and potentially legitimate citizens of California and the United States of

FITTS ACCUSER CONVICTED

Jury Finds Girnau Guilty of Criminal Libel; Pamphleteer May Get Year in Jail

Fred Girnau, political pamphleteer, was found guilty of criminally libeling Dist.-Atty. Fitts by a jury in Municipal Judge Pope's court late yesterday. The jury was out slightly more than two hours. Girnau will appear before Judge Pope at 2 p.m. today for sentence, which may be a fine of $5000 or imprisonment in the County Jail for one year.

Arguments in the case were completed during the morning session and the jury instructed and sent out shortly after the noon recess. In his closing argument Deputy City Prosecutor Brockman referred to the article which appeared during the recent primary campaign against Fitts as a vicious and shameful attack against the character of a man known for his courage, honesty and integrity as a public official and as a private citizen.

"If you are going to permit a man who was refused $1250 as the price of his support during the campaign to continue his yellow journalism then return a verdict in favor of the defendant," the prosecutor told the jury, "but if you want to protect the characters of citizens from defamation then I ask you to return a verdict of guilty."

The article in question charged Fitts with having been arrested for driving while intoxicated ten years ago. Jacob Lieberman, defense attorney, argued that Girnau published the article in good faith, and without malice, believing it to be true.

After the jury had retired, Lieberman addressed a complaint to Judge Pope regarding what he termed the "constant interference of Fitts during the trial." The District Attorney, he said, on several occasions accosted him in the corridor outside the courtroom and protested against some of the defense evidence, declaring that he was unethical in introducing several witnesses.

Judge Pope halted the complaint, advising Lieberman that the proper method to present it was through means of an affidavit asking that Fitts be cited for contempt of court. Lieberman said late yesterday that he expects to file such an affidavit today.

FETE TO MARK TUNNEL OPENING

OLD ox carts, reminiscent of the days when those conveyances were used in carrying hides and grain over the old road of the Sepulveda Canyon, will be in the line of march when the new Sepulveda tunnel is opened to the public tomorrow afternoon. The brief opening ceremonies at the mouth of the tunnel will be followed by a Spanish fiesta and a barbecue that will hark back to early days.

The festivities will take place at 3:30 o'clock at Sepulveda and Beverly boulevards. A stage and loud-speaker system will enable spectators to enjoy the program of Spanish songs and dances, under the direction of Charles E. Pressley, pageant conductor of Santa Barbara.

The Los Angeles City Council and the County Board of Supervisors will attend in a body.

Music for the caravans en route to the starting point at Ventura Boulevard and Sepulveda Highway and for the procession along the new thoroughfare will be provided by nine bands, four from the southern section of the county and five from San Fernando Valley.

WATER LAND DEAL GIVEN APPROVAL

City Council Accepts Purchase of 105 Tracts in Owens Valley

Approval of the purchase of 12,441 acres of water-bearing farmland in the Owens River Valley by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners was granted yesterday by the City Council. The purchase covers 105 pieces of property throughout the valley and the aggregate price is $1,771,000. The money comes from the $5,000,000 block of the May 20 $38,800,000 bond issue, sold last week.

Most of the property is included in the old "Keough Pool," one of the outstanding features of the long controversy with the Owens Valley people.

These purchases place the city in control of the entire valley, except for a few isolated farms and town properties, it was stated. Negotiations now are going forward for these.

The purchases apply only to the Owens River watershed. Proceedings on the Mono Basin extension are held in abeyance awaiting determination of the feasibility of tunneling through the Dead Man Divide, a lava formation.

Council Delays La Brea Avenue Project Action

After listening to protests for practically the entire day, the City Council yesterday continued until this morning further consideration of the proceedings for the opening and widening of La Brea avenue between Washington Boulevard and Mansfield avenue.

The Council also continued until this morning the hearing of protests against the improvement of Towne avenue from Florence avenue to Seventy-sixth street.

The proceedings for improving Avenue 54 at Coringa Drive were abandoned.

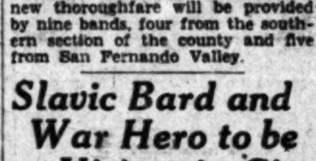
Slavic Bard and War Hero to be Visitor in City

Famous as a Jugo-Slav national bard, poet and war veteran and hero, Capt. Peter Perunovich will lecture and sing Jugo-Slav national ballads and war songs at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Serbian Home, Hollenbeck Heights.



CAPT PETER PERUNOVICH

Capt. Perunovich is a leading Jugo-Slav bard and master of the archaic Slav instrument called "gusle," a one-stringed instrument, which still persists among the mountaineers of Jugo-Slavia.

Capt. Perunovich played his instrument through three wars. He was decorated by King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia with the highest orders for bravery and patriotism.

S.C. to Occupy New Building

Just fifty years after the first freshman class of the University of Southern California gathered for the opening of classes in the first frame building, October 6, the new physical education building, costing $750,000 and covering a half-block, will be occupied.

Prof. William Ralph LaPorte is chairman of the department of physical education. The University of Southern California was founded in 1880, with instruction starting on October 6 of that year.

GRIFFITH PARK THEATER GIVEN BRILLIANT OPENING

A dream of Col. Griffith J. Griffith, philanthropist and eminent citizen of Los Angeles, was realized last night.

But a little more than ten years after his death, the Griffith Park Greek Theater was dedicated to the people of the city for its perpetual joy and use. The severity of its classic lines, softened by trees and shrubbery, varicolored lights casting a magic glamour upon its dedicatory ceremonies and those who took part, the theater was filled last evening for the first time—and to the virtual capacity of its 4419 seats.

Besides an interesting program of music and drama especially devised to illustrate the possibilities of this beautiful new amphitheater in Vermont Canyon, there were addresses by many persons of prominence, with L. E. Behymer officiating as master of ceremonies. The event was broadcast.

Mr. Behymer introduced John C. Austin, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who in turn presented Van M. Griffith, son of the donor. Mr. Griffith expressed his pleasure at being able to see the realization of his father's wish and thanked the many who were unsparing in their encomiums of both himself and his father.

Mayor Porter made a brief address in which he hailed the theater as a monument to the memory of its donor. He officially transferred the custody of the property to the Board of Park Commissioners, telling Mrs. Mabel V. Socha, the board's president, that he did so "with the

PARK AND ZOO SALE PROPOSED

Selig Animals Included in Suggestion by Bank

Appraised Valued Declared to be $642,000

Los Angeles was yesterday given a chance to acquire Luna Park, consisting of approximately twenty-five acres and located immediately adjoining Lincoln Park, together with the big Selig Zoo, for $385,000. The offer was made by the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank of this city.

In the tender, made to the City Council, it was said that the property is valued at $642,000, and that the animals in the zoo are easily worth $200,000. Belief was expressed by the bank officials that should the city purchase the park it would have one of the most complete zoological gardens in the United States.

The park has a frontage of 889 feet on Mission Road and would increase the size of Lincoln Park more than 54 per cent. The old Selig studio and certain buildings are not included in the offer. The tender of the park included the information that besides $200,000 worth of animals the shrubbery and landscaping is worth $50,000, to say nothing of the improvements on Mission Road. The zoo and the buildings offered have an appraised value of $392,000, bank officials said.

"The property is being offered to the city for $257,000 less than the appraised value today," the text of the offer reads. "The reason that the property is priced so greatly under its value is that the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank believes the city should own this property, giving the people of Los Angeles free access to the zoological gardens and to that end desires that the city should have the opportunity to secure the property at the lowest possible price consistent with its receiving a return of the money it has in the property.

"The purchase of this property by the city will give it the largest and most complete zoo in the United States. Income from concessions would pay the cost of maintenance and with these gardens as a nucleus it would be possible, owing to climatic conditions, to make this zoo one of the largest of its kind in the world."

FOUR FINED ON INCOME TAX FRAUD

It was income-tax day yesterday in United States District Judge McCormick's court. Four men went before the court on charges of evading the income-tax law and each was fined.

Louis W. Barnett, shoe merchant of Long Beach and Pasadena, pleaded guilty to making out a false income-tax return. He was fined $350. George C. Terry, an income-tax accountant, pleaded guilty and was fined $500 for aiding Barnett in making out the latter's income-tax return.

Charges against Barnett and Terry followed a peculiar circumstance. Terry, according to information of the United States Attorney's office, sent a letter to Barnett intimating that Terry had manipulated Barnett's income-tax return. The letter was accidentally left in the income-tax return and came to the attention of the Internal Revenue Bureau. The charges followed.

Nathan F. Baranod pleaded guilty to falsification of his income-tax return and was fined $250. On a similar charge Harry M. Bennett pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

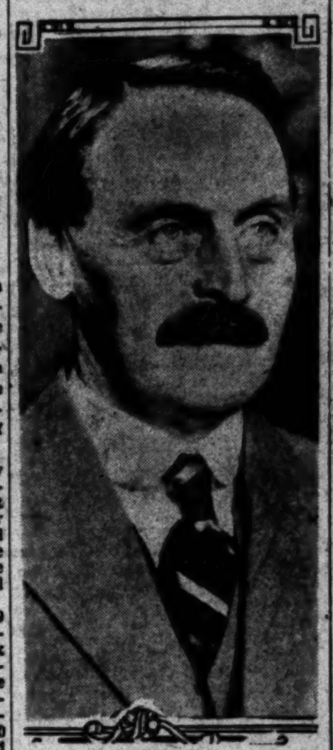
KING'S PHYSICIAN PAYS CITY VISIT



Lord Dawson of Penn

LONG JAUNT OF BRITON NEARS END

Lord Dawson of Penn, with Lady Dawson, Here for Few Days

On the final lap of what he describes merely as a pleasure trip which in the last six weeks has taken him across Canada and down the length of the Pacific Coast, Lord Dawson of Penn, physician to King George of England, arrived here last night from Santa Barbara. He is accompanied by Lady Dawson.

Although pressure of professional duties require his early return to England, the noted physician said he felt he could not return without first having seen Los Angeles.

"How could one go to California without visiting Los Angeles?" he asked. "And how could one stop at Los Angeles without visiting Hollywood? And how could one go to Hollywood without wishing to see where and how the motion pictures are made? So there you have why I've come here."

He has time to remain here only a few days, Lord Dawson said, and then he must leave for the East, on his way to board ship for home. He and his wife have been traveling almost constantly since he attended the convention of the Canadian Medical Society at Winnipeg, which was his primary object in crossing the ocean. He added that the constant publicity which has attended their travels has left them worn out.

Lord Dawson gained world-wide fame when he pulled his royal patient through a dangerous illness more than a year ago, but previously he already had reached a position at the very top of his profession in England. After having been consulting physician to King Edward VII, he became physician-in-ordinary to the present King in 1907 and in 1923 he was appointed to the same post by the present Prince of Wales. Born Bertrand Dawson, he was made a Baron and given his present title in 1920. He is a member of the Senate of the University of London, a Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, and is the author of numerous treatises on medical subjects.

ABANDONMENT PROPOSED

The Board of Public Works, having been unable to obtain bids for the improvement of the Valley View Trail and Cahuenga Trail district within the statutory time, yesterday recommended to the City Council that the proceedings be abandoned. This suggestion was referred to the Public Works Committee.

FIGHT ON PICKETING BEGINS

Strike Case Attorney Holds Union Violating Law; Injunction Plea Taken Under Submission

Peaceful picketing is like lawful lynching—there is no such thing—Attorney George Appell yesterday cited from a Court of Appeal opinion, in asking Superior Judge Falk for a preliminary injunction against the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, Cloakmakers' Union, Local No. 65, which he accused of picketing. After hearing argument on petitions of Solomon Rosenberg and others and of the Breitstein Manufacturing Company, clothing manufacturers, Judge Falk took the case under submission.

Appell asked for an injunction, asserting that union members had picketed the petitioners' plants, interfering with loyal employees and customers. Attorney Harry Sherr, for the union, rejoined that the defendants have committed "no acts of violence—yet," that the union has tried to avoid a strike and is willing to arbitrate now.

"Counsel for the union has avoided the issue of picketing," said Appell in reply. "Every authority of this State has agreed that picketing is unlawful, even peaceful picketing. On that head, let me cite from an opinion of the Court of Appeal: 'Peaceful picketing—there is no such thing, any more than there can be lawful lynching.'

"To make the manufacturers bend the knee they have put a cordon around to picket their places of business.

"Can these employees deprive a man of the beneficial patronage of his customers? We don't have to charge any act of violence in this State. The courts will say, 'Stop this mob rule.'

"They admit picketing. The law of the land forbids picketing and must be plainly followed. Otherwise, the law of the land must be submitted to the will of these people.

"The only place where peaceful picketing is recognized is in England, and that by statutory interpretation."

Judge Falk asked whether the higher court had interpreted the

WITH Clara Bow to worry about, Mr. Schulberg must sleep with his boots by his bedside like a fireman.

Clara is so unexpected. If it isn't a young gentleman with a lacerated heart who desires to commit suicide on her front porch it is an indignant wife in Texas, who in turn gives way to outraged fiances (wanting their rings back,) or a gambler trying to collect stopped checks.

It is amazing that the beautiful and animated Miss Bow could go through so many zones of hectic experience and still remain sufficiently naive as to hand a gambling-house proprietor blank checks for him to fill in as he chose.

WHY SO SECRET?

"Button, button, who's got the button?" is a noble game with lofty traditions; but why apply it to street signs?

The city street department places street signs in weird places. Sticks them behind stop-and-go signs; hides them in the shadows of street lamps, and puts them on the wrong side of the street. One would think that the identity of a street was some kind of lodge secret to be hid from the motorist at any cost.

NO COOTIES

A Barstow gentleman would unfeelingly condemn me to the cooties and dirt of various Indian tribes because I admire the lack of shrieking of Indian children.

I have just returned from a pleasant visit to an Indian tribe who are just as clean as the gentleman from Barstow. I am looking forward to the next opportunity to go back again and sleep in a spotless bed in a neat, speechless Indian house—rejoicing in the friendship of a household where the children do not shriek or bellow.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

William J. Locke, secretary of the League of Municipalities, says a mouthful in condemning special assessments to pay for street paving.

I have paid street assessments where the pouring in of heavy traffic injured the property rather than helped it. The soft siren songs that paving contractors sing into the ears of city councils may be only golden eloquence. Maybe. But there is something queer about the stupendous amount of public work that has been done at a time when the financial conditions and the state of the real estate market would seem to call for going slow.

Either the printer or my typewriter went wrong. Francisco Gama, who composed "El Nidito de Amor," is at El Paseo—not El Paso. El Paseo on Olvera street.

WHEAT GAMBLERS

The panic in the wheat market calls attention to an anomaly of modern life. In older days of the world food was so scarce that the universal prayer was: "Give us this day our daily bread." Starvation was always waiting. Now we have so much food that the fear is of glutted markets. Incidentally, the American farmer will never be safe until the product of his toil is taken out of the hands of stock gamblers.

FRAUD CHARGED IN RACE BETTING

Man Posing as ex-Jockey Held by Police

Members of Film Colony Asserted Victims

Threats of Death Reported Made to Witnesses

Disclosure of a plot to defraud prominent persons in the motion-picture colony was made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Whitaker yesterday with the filing of a complaint against Leo Doody, who is accused of posing as a former jockey and obtaining money from at least six persons, promising to wager it on Tia Juana racing favorites.

INQUIRY ORDERED

At the same time Whitaker announced that an investigation had been ordered concerning charges of some of the asserted victims that they had been threatened with death if they came forward and aided in the prosecution.

These threats, Whitaker stated, are believed to be responsible for the failure of Alberta Vaughn and Adamae Vaughn, motion-picture actresses and supposed victims of Doody's operations, in failing to appear at the District Attorney's office yesterday to aid in drawing the complaint at the request of Detective Lieutenants Swan and Marshall, who have conducted the inquiry thus far.

The two actresses, however, will be subpoenaed to appear in Municipal Court for the preliminary hearing to tell what they know of the affair, it was announced.

VICTIMS NAMED

The complaint was sworn to by Miss Grace Simpson, scenario writer, of 1523 Winona Road. It charges that Doody fraudulently obtained $100 from Margaret Taylor of 647 Laurel avenue, $300 from herself, $100 from Rosa Roma, violinist of 146 North Mansfield street; $750 from Adamae Vaughn, actress, of 217 North Fuller street; $100 from Matty Kemp, actor, of Hollywood, and $300 from a woman living in Santa Monica known only as Mrs. Doeg.

Miss Simpson also stated that she first met Doody when he came to her in the hope of selling her a plot for an underworld scenario.

Pending the time of Doody's trial, investigators will continue their inquiry, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Whitaker, to determine whether or not the man victimized others.

GOVERNMENT SELLS GEMS

In a sale conducted by United States Marshal Sittel at his office in the Federal Building yesterday, a pearl and jade necklace, appraised at $1200, sold for $325 to William Davidson. A diamond bracelet, appraised at $1800, was sold for $1030 to Michael M. Weisz. The pieces of jewelry were seized by the government for nonpayment of duty.

FANCY SHIRTS STRUTTED AT UPLIFTERS' LOW JINKS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 25.—The seventh annual outing of the Uplifters' Club started at 2 p.m. today, and at that hour the gates of the organization's ranch in Rustic Canyon were closed to all save members. The ban on guests, families and all save good Uplifters will remain in force until Sunday afternoon when families and friends will attend the annual barbecue in Crabill grove. This will be followed by the High Jinks play in Gottschalk Theater.

Following the custom which has made the organization far-famed for the originality of its entertainments, the outing program includes numerous novel features. At dinner this evening came the annual first showing of "Shirts" in a contest for the Cecil Frankel Cup, to be awarded at the end of the outing to the wearer of the fanciest soft shirt.

Tomorrow morning's main event is the pajama contest for the Eddie Nagel silver trophy. A "donkey polo" contest will be held in the afternoon. Saturday afternoon the grand annual circus and parade will be held on the clubhouse lawn. "Wild West night" will complete the Low Jinks program; and on Sunday morning the orchestra concert will be led by W. G. Powell.

What's new in home furnishings may be seen in the display windows of Los Angeles furniture merchants, following the opening at 7 p.m. yesterday of the first co-operative home furnishings style show.

Many days and, in some instances weeks, have been spent in preparation for the event and every conceivable type of furniture, from the period of Louis XIV to the ultramodern mode of today, is on display. The show is sponsored by local furniture manufacturers, in collaboration with the dealers, and the opening night attracted hundreds of men and women.

One of the unique features of the show is a series of comparisons between the home of the "gay nineties" and that of the present. The horsehair sofa, the kerosene parlor lamp, the bric-a-brac, tidies, wax fruit and other memories of a quarter century ago are there in striking contrast to the well-dressed home of today.

Mrs. Browning Given Custody of Banker's Son

The custody of Thurlough Browning, 9-year-old son of George L. Browning, banker, and Mrs. Theresa Browning, was given into the care of the mother yesterday by Division Two, District Court of Appeal.

The court's order was on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus by the mother to compel Browning to produce the child in court after the father was asserted to have taken the child on July 12, last, near the mother's home. It was stated in the opinion that the court's order should remain in effect pending an appeal by Mrs. Browning from that part of a Superior Court judgment in the couple's divorce action relating to property and the custody of the youngster.

Alimony Award of Film Actress Far Below Plea

Jocelyn Lee, film actress, must get along on $100 a week instead of the $2250 a month she thought was necessary for her support while the divorce case brought against her by her husband, Luther Reed, film director, is pending, Superior Judge Finney ordered yesterday.

There was no contest, a stipulation having been entered by Attorney Milton Cohen for Miss Lee, and Ralph D. Knickerbocker for Reed.

Miss Lee replied to Reed's action with a cross-complaint, in which she charged Reed was the aggressor in their numerous marital difficulties.

NEW BADGES FOR POLICE RECEIVED

First Batch of 3000 on Hand for Distribution Before October 1

New police badges, both regular and special, to the number of approximately 3000, were received from Bastian Brothers of Rochester, N. Y., the manufacturers, by the personnel bureau of the police department yesterday and were turned over to Chief Steckel for distribution under direction of the Police Commission.

A number of badges ordered for deputy chiefs, the assistant chief and lesser officials were missing and the commission presumed that a second batch is now on the way to Los Angeles. The fifteen regular police badges for the City Council were among the first to arrive, with badges for two of the five members of the Police Commission. The other three are expected.

Three hundred press badges were received, but are to be returned to have numbers from 1 to 300 stamped on the face. The numbers were left off by the manufacturers. All the regular police and press badges have serial numbers on the back, from 1 to 2800.

The badges will be distributed to police officers on the 30th inst. as they come off watch, so they may have them on October 1, when the new badge ordinance goes into effect, making it unlawful to wear present badges or to wear the new ones without authority of the commission. New special officer badges will be distributed this week.

For weeks past old badges have been turned in to Chief Steckel by those not connected with the police department. They are still coming in. It is estimated that about 3000 have been issued in the last five years.

HUNT FOR FUGITIVE INTENSIFIED

County will be Combed Today for Seattle Man Accused of Murder

Convinced that Charles E. Murphy, alias Everett Frank Lindsay, accused murderer and child-kidnaper, wanted in Seattle, has been unable to elude authorities and leave the county, the Sheriff's office today will lay a dragnet throughout Los Angeles county for him.

Sheriff's office investigators yesterday traced down clews which came in from persons throughout the county who were positive in their identification of Murphy as the man they had seen.

Following a thorough investigation of leads, Deputy Sheriffs Fitzgerald and Seth of the fugitive detail announced they are certain Murphy spent the past forty-eight hours on the streets of San Pedro and Santa Monica and in rooming-houses in Alhambra and Pasadena.

Murphy was traced to Los Angeles last week when he was located in an apartment-house on South Flower street. He escaped before officers could apprehend him. He is sought by Seattle police for the murder of his wife in that city last February and the kidnaping of a girl, 11 years of age, whom he met in Napa and brought to Los Angeles. His criminal record, according to Sheriff's office files, includes army desertion and an accusation of another murder as well as statutory offenses against small girls.

thought that it will ever remain in the keeping of the park deparment of this great city."

Mrs. Socha accepted the trust as a sacred one. The park commissioners, indeed, have already shown their enthusiasm for the entire project. According to Senator L. H. Roseberry, who represented the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, trustee, the Park Board supplied a deficit necessary to complete the work. This was in addition to the $100,000 donated by Col. Griffith, and the interest accruing thereon.

W. B. Matthews spoke for the estate trustees; and others introduced were George H. Barnes and John Swanfeldt of the Park Commission board, and W. J. Sanborn, president of the City Council.

An orchestra under the direction of Paul Eisler accompanied the soloists, who presented a diversified program. This ranged from "The Star Spangled Banner," sung by Ellen Beach Yaw and a chorus, to the final episode of the Sophoclean tragedy, "Oedipus Rex," which was enacted by Francis Josef Hickson and his company.

Soloists included Don Jose Mojica, tenor of the Chicago Civic Opera Company; Georgia Starke, coloratura soprano; Alice Gentle, dramatic soprano; Louschaenya, mezzo-soprano, and Chief Yowlache, basso-cantante. John Smallman's a cappella choir was heard in three numbers, and Norma Gould and her Greek dancers interpreted the second movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

To enable the public to inspect the new Greek Theater, the park department will hold open house at the structure from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Mrs. Mabel V. Socha, president of the park commission, announced yesterday.

Under the supervision of William Kilgrove, music director of Manual Arts High School, there will be a program of music by the Kilgrove Los Angeles band and soloists.

AUTOIST FACES MURDER CHARGE

Accused Has Record of Term in Jail

Car Killed Woman and Her Child at Crossing

CHESTER R PALMER

Immediately following the inquest at 2 p.m. today police will request a complaint from the District Attorney's office charging Chester R. Palmer, 25 years of age, real-estate man, with murder as the consequence of the deaths of Mrs. Margaret Whalen, 34 years of age, and her 6-year-old son, Timothy, struck down by Palmer's automobile at Thirty-ninth and Figueroa streets Wednesday night, Captain of Detectives Vernand announced yesterday.

In the meantime Palmer is being held at the University Police Station on suspicion of manslaughter.

Palmer, Capt. Vernand said witnesses told him, was traveling at a rapid rate of speed when his car struck the mother and son in the center of the intersection. The woman was hurled 154 feet and her son 164 feet. Each had both legs broken and their skulls fractured. The mother's right arm was also broken. They died a few moments after arriving at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Palmer, stopping his car within the block, was at once surrounded by a milling crowd muttering threats of violence. When Officers Crum and Baird, first of several police squads on the scene, arrived, they reported hearing several incensed citizens advocating a lynching. Palmer was quickly placed in a police car and rushed to University station. The officers declared they found a quart gin bottle containing a few drops of red liquor in Palmer's car.

Check of police records show that Palmer was arrested in 1924 on suspicion of robbery, and that he served thirty days in the City Jail in September, 1928, for being drunk in an automobile, according to Capt. Vernand's report.

Mrs. Whalen and her son lived at 148 West Thirty-eighth street. Palmer's home is at 7141 South Western avenue.

Mother Joins Daughter Hunt

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Alexander Wells, widow of a San Francisco attorney, arrived here today to assist in the search for her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Fox, former secretary to Jeanie MacPherson, scenario writer, who has been missing several days.

Three notes that had been left by Mrs. Fox caused her husband and police to fear she intended ending her life, but Mrs. Wells declines to take this view. She believes her daughter merely has gone away for a rest. But the mystery of the missing woman's whereabouts remains as far as ever from solution.

Beach Novelties Factory Burns

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 25.—Candy, dolls, toys of all descriptions and the flimsy tinsel of amusement concessions to the approximate value of $50,000 went up in smoke here today when a $100,000 fire demolished the plant of the Edwards Novelty Company, 320 Sunset Boulevard.

The concern specialized in manufacturing novelties for beach and other amusement concessions. An unconfirmed report stated the highly inflammable stock was uninsured. Five companies from Venice and the West Los Angeles area battled the blaze.

Just how the blaze started has not been determined. There was a certain poignant touch added to the scene as stuffed animals, gaudy dolls and prizes for the gay amusement concessions on the pier shriveled grotesquely in the intense heat. No one was injured.

NIPPON MISS PREFERS SELLING JOB TO FILMS

Toshia Mori

Toshia Mori, the little Japanese cigarette girl, protegee of Mary Pickford, and daughter of a well-known physician of the Japanese colony here, would rather sell cigarettes and clear Havanas to patrons of the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt than register a close-up with the screen's handsomest leading man. As a matter of fact, the attractive Nipponese has had her fling in pictures, having appeared in several recent productions.

"Both Miss Pickford and I agree that the business world holds a greater future for me than films, and although I have received many offers to continue screen work I have decided definitely to remain in my present employment," explained Miss Mori.

The eldest of four daughters of Dr. T. Ichioka, Toshia, who was born in Kyoto, Japan, came to this country ten years ago. In that period she has learned to speak English fluently and to dance. She studied with Theodore Kosloff for five years and now is perfecting her speech under the tutelage of Earl Brown.

Toshia's three sisters are studying to be physicians like their father. They are motherless, Mrs. Ichioka having passed away during a visit to her native land about two years ago.

SIXTH TOUR TO MEXICO ANNOUNCED

Hoover Housing Plan Indorsed

The Los Angeles Housing Conference, meeting at the City Club, sent a telegram to President Hoover last night expressing whole-hearted co-operation in his plan of stimulating better home building and more widespread home ownership. President Chadwick of the Municipal League presided at last night's meeting, at which Dr. Mangold of University of Southern California was a speaker.

BANDIT TAKES CAR AND CASH

Company's Second Loss of Kind in Two Weeks

Special Watch Ordered on City's Branch Banks

For the second time within the last two weeks a collector for the Winters Service Stations was held up when Frank Conlin was forced to the curb at Slauson and Normandie avenues by a red-haired bandit yesterday and robbed of $150 in cash.

On the 16th inst. A. Sidwell, another collector for the same organization, was held up at First and Reno streets and robbed of $70.

CAR AND MONEY TAKEN

Conlin told police he had just left one of the company's stations when the bandit stepped on the running board of his car and, leveling a revolver, ordered him to drive to the curb. He then was ordered to leave the machine and walk away. The bandit drove off in the collector's car containing the latter's money bag.

All division commanders received orders yesterday to keep a special watch on branch banks in their districts as the result of the gang robbery of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank at 4839 West Washington Boulevard Wednesday afternoon, in which the manager was locked in the vault and two tellers and two customers were tied hand and foot by a bandit trio who got away with $7000 in cash and a collection of revolvers.

GANG WORK SEEN

The bandits' method of operation convinces police that they have to deal with an organized gang from the Middle West. The trio entered the bank just at closing time and so efficiently tied up the occupants that they got away without anyone observing their means of escape. Detectives, however, believe they drove away in an automobile left a short distance from the bank and then, perhaps, changed to another car held in readiness by a fourth member of the gang at a rendezvous. Detectives admit they are without a clew, exclusive of the descriptions of the trio in the bank, that might lead to the apprehension of the gang.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GLASS ARRANGED

Rites for Octogenarian, Former Resident of City, Set for Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise B. Glass, 85 years of age, long a resident of Los Angeles, will be conducted in Evergreen Cemetery chapel tomorrow at 2 p.m. Interment is to take place there.

Mrs. Glass was the mother of Clem S. Glass, formerly president of the Lions' Club and vice-president of W. Ross Campbell Company, and of Edwin Stanley Glass, also of this city. Mrs. Jacob Jepsen of Owensmouth and Mrs. Roy V. Milner, Paso Robles, are daughters. Mrs. Glass's husband, James B. Glass, was one of the first cashiers of the old First National Bank.

Mrs. Glass was born in Pittsburgh in 1845. She lived for a considerable time in Salt Lake City and came to Los Angeles forty-two years ago. Mr. Glass died not long afterwards and she reared the four children here.

About five years ago she went to Paso Robles to live with her daughter there. Death came yesterday forenoon at the daughter's home in the north after a few days of illness due to heart disease and advanced age.

German Voting Scenes Shown in 'Times' Film

Germany's recent election is shown in close-up photographs in the Times-Universal news reel this week in all leading Southern California theaters.

So, too, is the inhospitable reception that was extended by Philadelphia to Jack (Legs) Diamond, racketeer, when he arrived in that city after being excluded from many countries in Europe.

For the first time in history photographs were taken this year of the rites in Jewish orthodox synagogues attending the inauguration of the new year.

Graham McNamee, talking reporter, describes the episodes of world-wide interest. Further information concerning the schedule can be had by calling REpublic 3171 and asking about Newsreel No. 77.

Today's Bible Text

PEACE PREVAILS

Anyhow, Hipolito Irigoyen, the former President of Argentina, who is now in exile, is telling all his people to be good and accept the rule of Uriburu without hesitation or question. By the way, it isn't so long ago that this same Gen. Uriburu was the commander in chief of Irogoyen's armies. They are far from being strangers.

NO MAN IN THE MOON

Astronomers on Mt. Wilson, who know their moon, assert that the orb of night is absolutely uninhabitable. If there is any man in the moon he would need asbestos underwear. The temperature on the moon at midday is beyond the boiling point and at night it sometimes reaches 250 deg. below zero. There can be no life as we know it on a planet capable of enduring these extremes. The moon is vacant territory and even the subdividers have to leave it alone.

THE BOB-TAILED WEEK

Textile workers in the East are said to be striving for a thirty-hour week. Of course the present idea is to provide work for a greater number of hands. The plant and the machinery would operate for longer hours, but there would be a shuffling of labor. If all pay is on a piece-work basis the length of the day does not make so much difference. What is wanted is a square deal and an understanding between the plant and the men.

BEWARE OF FIRE

The national week for the purpose of vitalizing the importance of fire prevention begins October 5. This is always in the week of the anniversary of the great Chicago fire, which began on October 8, 1871, and was the first and most lurid of the country's big blazes. It ate up a lot of strong insurance companies in its passing and had the proportions of a world tragedy. Of course it had its origin in carelessness and it is the effort now to educate Americans not to be careless and reckless when fire possibilities are involved. In his proclamation President Hoover stresses the fact that last year's losses in this country exceeded $470,000,000 and most of this could have been avoided with ordinary care. The fires in cities of the Old World are trifling when compared with the havoc wrought by flames here.

UNARMED CRIMINALS

Here is a bit of news that should not escape the attention of the new Illinois Crime Commission as well as others probing into the causes of our too-frequent homicides. In a report presented to a committee of the House of Commons now considering the question of the abolition of capital punishment in England occurs the following paragraph:

> The witnesses would not express any dogmatic view as to the deterrent effect of capital punishment in general, but they believed that the fact that professional burglars and criminals of that type did not usually carry lethal weapons in this country was due to the fear of the death penalty.

This casually introduced reference to the fact that burglars and other criminals usually go unarmed in England will strike the average American as deeply significant and something to reflect upon. We had known that the London "bobbies" carried no firearms, but it is news to most of us that, as a rule, they are not carried by British criminals.

Over on this side of the Atlantic the shooting of policemen trying to arrest bandits or other desperate offenders is quite common. In England, largely due to the reason just cited, it is rare. Another reason is that would-be killers over there know that the infliction of the death penalty in their country is swift and sure. Another is that it is hard for an unauthorized person to buy firearms in England.

In America, while many killers are caught, few are sent to the gallows or chair. The worst criminal has no difficulty in arming himself with a deadly weapon, and he does so, often with fatal results to others, though rarely to himself, thanks to the reckless leniency of our courts and juries.

MAKING HOME BUYING EASIER

President Hoover's declaration that it ought to be as easy to buy a home as an automobile will find an echo in all parts of the United States and is the sort of picturesque comparison which brings vividly into every mind the crux of the housing problem. The President has named a committee to attempt the solution of the problem by means of a national conference and if this conference can find a way to make the financing of shelter simpler and cheaper it will make an immense contribution to national well-being.

That the problem is made difficult by legal conceptions which had their roots in the feudal organization of society when land was all important, may be granted. But it is so necessary that the problem be solved that efforts to find a way through the legal impasse are well worth while. The President's comment that "the whole process of purchase and finance involves a ceremony like a treaty between governments" is a fair criticism, when the ease of any purchase of personal property is brought into contrast. There is, of course, a fundamental difference between real and personal property, but it is probable the law makes too much of it.

"Adequate housing," said the President truly, "goes to the very roots of the well-being of the family and the family is the social unit of the nation.

"It is more than comfort that is involved; it has important aspects of health and morals and education and the provision of a fair chance for growing childhood. Nothing contributes more for greater happiness or for sound social stability than the surroundings of their homes. It should be possible in our country for anybody of sound character and industrious habits to provide himself with adequate housing and preferably to buy his own home.

"The finance of home building, especially for second mortgages, is the most backward segment of our whole credit system. It is easier to borrow 85 per cent on an automobile and repay it on the installment plan than to buy a home on that basis—and generally the house has a higher interest rate. . . . Yet the home is certainly as good collateral as an automobile; it depreciates more slowly, if at all, and its owner will make a harder fight to keep it."

Part of the difficulty, the President finds, is in inadequate financial organization and part in obsolete laws. Substantial advances have been made in some parts of the country (California happens to be one of them) and it is necessary to mobilize this experience and put it to general service, in the opinion of the Chief Executive. It is also desirable to discover how further advances may be made.

The President has set the committee a problem which will require both time and patience for the working out, but the solution of which will be well worth while.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA FAIR

Agricultural fairs have a perennial appeal for the people of California. The supply of them merely serves to increase the demand. Their ability always to offer something fresh and novel in the fields of instruction and entertainment, skillfully combined, sufficiently accounts for their never-failing popularity. Their great vogue on the Pacific Coast supplies another reason for the phenomenal agricultural and horticultural progress witnessed everywhere in the Southwest.

The Southern California Fair, now running its eighteenth successive season in its beautiful grounds at Riverside, is another striking instance of how promoters and people can always get together here in an enterprise undertaken for the general good of their community. Again its sponsors have demonstrated the endless variety of new features in displaying the fruits of Southern California soil that is always possible in regions blessed as these are, and the ingenuity such occasions always bring out in supplying suitable amusements to set them off.

And again the people of Southern California have responded to their efforts. On the second day of the fair the number of visitors passing through the turnstiles broke all previous records. There is every indication that the attendance will increase and that the final day will bring the fair to a close in a blaze of success beyond the expectation of its most sanguine promoters.

The most captious critic would be hard put to it to discover the omission of any detail that should be fairly included in a representative show of this nature. Agriculture, of course, has received the chief emphasis; but numerous competitions to bring zest to the displays, excellent music to brighten the scene, spectacular amusements to vary the program and exhibits to illustrate the art and culture developed in rural surroundings all have their place in the general scheme.

Riverside county has always been noted for the glad welcome it extends to the stranger within its gates. The Japanese and Mexicans have not been forgotten. A special day was dedicated to the oriental settlers who have raised gardening in this delightful county to a high art. The Mexican children of Alberhill school were enabled to exhibit a miniature representation of the old Butterfield trail as their contribution to the story of Riverside's birth and growth.

The amazing wealth of the exhibits and the size of the crowds in the fairgrounds refute any preconceived impression that Southern California has experienced a dimming of its prestige as the white spot on the financial map of America.

CLARA'S DIFFICULTIES

Clara Bow seems to be doing her best to prove the assertion that red hair leads its owner into one thing after another. Her experience with the Nevada tiger that would have been costly if she had not stopped payment on her checks follows close on the heels of a complication of a different sort in Texas. Both prove the exuberance of her personality.

Her explanation that they use 50-cent pieces for $100 chips in Nevada, in accounting for the large size of her supposed losses, may appear somewhat novel, but Nevada, it is to be hoped, will not be so ungentlemanly as to deny it. Old-time chivalry is still supposed to cling about the institutions of the Silver State, which holds other old Spanish customs in reverence, and it does not seem quite nice to try to prove a lady a welsher.

To change one's mind is still a feminine prerogative and many a man has refused to pay a gambling debt and felt no shame at the refusal. Miss Bow will find that most of her public does not take this Nevada affair very seriously. As for the losses sustained by the Cal-neva gaming-house proprietors, these will not be taken very seriously either. The house percentage is probably ample to carry them.

VOICE OF ARKANSAS

Of course Arkansas is at a disadvantage in seeking to break into national politics. The State is neither doubtful nor important. Party leaders are, therefore, likely to pass it up when doling out plums. Back in 1895 President Cleveland named Augustus H. Garland of Arkansas as Attorney-General in his Cabinet. Outside of that the State never got as far as first base in politics. There have been smart politicians and near-statesmen in the Hot Springs belt, but they never made great headway in national affairs until Senator Joseph Robinson was put on the ticket with Alfred Emanuel Smith. Of course there was no chance of his election, but he had the adventure of running.

Now the Democrats of Arkansas urge the national Democracy to name their favorite son as head of their next ticket. In the State convention the other day an enthusiastic orator declared that he had it straight that both Govs. Roosevel and Ritchie are really for Robinson. As both of these executives are supposed to be Presidential candidates themselves this statement was a bit embarrassing. The Governors admit that Robinson is a fine fellow and competent material, but—well, anyhow, they are not quite ready to commit themselves unreservedly to his cause. They do not want to hurt Joe's feelings, but they feel that it is too early to be making statements.

Furthermore, Senator Robinson is considered to be as dry as they make 'em and if the party demands a repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act he could not well be the Presidential candidate. Even if the Democrats fail to express themselves squarely on this question Joe Robinson could hardly hope for the support of the delegates from the States of Govs. Roosevelt and Ritchie. Both of their constituencies are as wet as a flagon of wine. Therefore, the enthusiasm of Arkansas must be heavily discounted.

It will be conceded everywhere that Joe Robinson is a good scout and a sturdy patriot, but he will never be able to make the White House grade.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA is leading the world in turning the night time into daytime.

The motion-picture studios, of course, have been doing that for years with their sunlights. The all-night drive-in markets have been doing it for the last three years. The colleges showed new enthusiasm for the midnight oil last year by experimenting with night football and experimenting so successfully that this fall there will be a night game or two every week. And now the professional baseball clubs are playing to bigger crowds than ever before because they are playing at night. The Los Angeles County Fair drew more spectators than ever before because it treated its patrons to night horse racing. And this summer Imperial Valley ranchers inaugurated night farming, plowing, cultivating and harvesting by searchlight, to escape the daytime heat of July and August.

Night Sports Seem Here to Stay

Night baseball has been tried in other parts of the country without marked success. But on the Pacific Coast it is doubling and often trebling attendance. The wind-up of our "second semester" of baseball this fall when Hollywood and Los Angeles will be fighting it out, probably will see bigger crowds at professional baseball than ever have attended games here regularly. One Southland college has scheduled practically all its football games for after-supper hours. And the success of night racing seems to assure continuation of that feature at the County Fair. It will be surprising if night track meets do not follow shortly and night polo was inaugurated at the Coliseum last year. Miniature golf by electric light has started talk of real golf after supper.

All of which, of course, isn't charming the theater owners a bit.

IT WAS MORE FUN!

A Glendale man we know has a glass eye, but he sees all the sights he can with the other one. The other day he took his family for a Sunday drive and they went all the way to Tia Juana. They started out to see the sights there and the first sight they saw was a big American who thought he could whip everybody in sight and was daring all comers to test his prowess. The Glendale man saw that was no place for a peaceful family and started out, but the big bully stopped him roughly, so insultingly that the Glendale man began to boil over.

"It's lucky you got a glass eye," announced the trouble-seeker, "or I'd smash your face just for practice."

The Glendale man snatched out his glass eye, hurled it to the floor, and waded into the big fellow. In half a minute it was all over but the cleaning up and a couple of Tia Juana policemen attended to that, escorting what was left of the man who had started things to the juzgado. The Glendale man had lost an eye, but didn't seem to mind a bit.

"Gosh!" wailed the big fellow, as he was led away, "I've seen 'em take off their specs and fight, but I never saw 'em take off their eyes before."

A WORD OF CRITICISM

By James J. Montague

This psychology may be all right in novels
Which deal with queer and curious sons of the earth,
Whose uncontrolled emotions are the product of the notions
Which their parents entertained before their birth.
But when I go downtown to see the talkies,
I do not care for esoteric stuff,
I like the good old-fashion of fine incandescent passion
And when heroes I behold, I like 'em rough.

I never think the lineage of a villain
Ought to matter in the way he plays his part,
I like to see him swagger, and be deft with gun and dagger
Though I know that such behavior is not art.
I like to watch him steal the hero's girl friend,
And remove her pale and fainting to his den,
And I often wish he'd carry her to the village church and marry her,
For those villains, after all, are real he-men.

Today we get our speakies from the high-brows
Who seek to bare the workings of the mind,
But I find that their creations are but sapless imitations
Of the real old brutal, fighting human kind.
They deal too much with impulse and reaction
Which may, for pallid high-brows, seem all right,
But I find shows more exciting which contain a lot of fighting,
For there's nothing like a good two-fisted fight.

We may perhaps know more about the motives
That make human beings cowardly or bold
Than the men who clothed the drammer with its aureole of glamour
In the past, but unforgotten, days of old.
But the playwrights who are working for the speakies
Do not seem to me to understand the trick,
There's too much of diagnosis of the thing they call psychosis

THIS IS ON ME

BY EUGENE BROWN

What do you know about this? Maybe it will be another trick for the League of Nations to turn. Anyhow, a famous Austrian musical director tells the world that something must be done about it. He intimates that there can never be real harmony over this unruly universe until a standard "A" has been recognized.

So there we are.

The way it is now if this eminent leader should come to this country with a few of his musicians and attempt to direct a symphony orchestra he would call upon the gink with the clarinet to sound his "A." But when sounded it might be yards away from the brayings of his own performers. The director would look at him crossly and bark: "I said 'A,' not 'J.'" Then the wheezer would sound the note over again—much to the consternation and embarrassment of the visitors.

Maybe it will be several minutes before the musicians get well enough acquainted to blow "Old Folks at Home" in unison.

In the absence of a decision of the World Court on a standardized "A" it might easily be in order for the pacifists at Geneva to take up the matter and present their conclusion to a halting and incoherent world.

It would be a fine thing if the League had a bassoon hanging up in its foyer and ever ready to sound the correct note. Possibly it could be arranged to broadcast the universal "A" at 8 o'clock every evening when the saxophones are tuning up for the night's debauch. The great need of humanity is for an "A" that is as good in Rome, N. Y., as in Rome, Italy.

The British army is trying to meet the situation. For some time the band leaders have known that their instruments are keyed half a note higher than continental pitch. Now the government is spending more than a half million dollars for new band instruments that shall be pitched more in accord with the rest of the universe. This will be Britannia's handsome and thoughtful contribution to world harmony.

Here is another one:

In the itch for government by license and inspection it has been stoutly urged that the scenario writers for the movies be required to pass an examination and obtain a permit. They couldn't approach the throne without a diploma. It is intimated that many of the directors are in favor of this very thing. Even the highbrows would have to show the button of the guild before they could crash the gates.

The examinations could be held three or four times a year and the applicant would be expected to be able to tell a plot from a frame-up. Also the quiz would determine the sleuthing powers of the candidate.

On their part the picture folk would promise to produce only the wares of licensed writers and it is taken for granted that all this would tend to improve and uplift the screen.

Maybe.

As it is a lot of scenarios have been dished up by a flock of numskulls who had nothing much to start with but a borrowed or stolen idea. If they had to come across at a technical examination for writing folk they would be back at the old home juggling a wheelbarrow.

Doubtless the licensed drama would be an improvement over the unlicensed form that has been raging over the land. It would only mean one more brand of government by inspection. What's that among Americans?

Of course it had to come:

The New York University has created a department for the development of personality with a flock of professors and everything.

That ought to be great.

Up to now this stuff has had to be taken on at a school of correspondence. There have been luring advertisements, but the world is not yet in position to certify that the goods have been delivered. Doubtless many a light has been hid under a bushel.

But now that a great university is able to guarantee diplomas on "It" and students are openly urged to take up its study something big ought to happen. It is not for girl students alone. It is offered to all. The pupil is psychoanalyzed and his specialties determined. Then these qualities are pushed to the fore and the student is urged to grab a root and hang on. It is all very simple in the workout. So they say.

If the college-bred bond salesmen also carry off the diploma of personality they should do a lot of business. They might sell gold bricks in Wall street. An up-to-date college graduate with this personality course to his credit would make Napoleon look like a used doughnut.

BAD CLIMATE BOOSTED

"Beastly climate is best for human beings," declared Mary Borden in a recent article in defense of the climate found in England. She states that the depressing atmosphere of London fogs whips up the human senses to a healthy reaction while the too-inspiring climate of America makes its people live at too great a rate of speed. She dubs England's weather "safe" and the variety that Los Angeles offers "unsafe." Perhaps she means safe for tiresome, indoor tasks which, after all, we would rather be "saved" from. At any rate we expect to stay and be counted in the 1940 census.

Women Sing at Execution

When Samuel Cushman was executed at Belfast, Ireland, recently, for the murder of James McCann, a postman, a crowd of women sang hymns outside the prison. The prisoner's mother, who was in the crowd, fell in a swoon when the hour of execution arrived.

Gloucester Fishermen

ALTADENA, Sept. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am especially fond of Harry Carr and his column in The Times, but his article of September 16 regarding the seamanship of the New Brunswick sailors over the Gloucester men makes me sore.

Harry should remember that in two of those New Brunswick-Gloucester races the Gloucester men sailed in actual fishing boats, not especially built for races. Gloucester boats are practically all owned in shares and sailed the same way.

I knew lots of these men during 1872 to 1895 and was in Gloucester soon after the big northeaster about 1872, which took out Minenaets Light.

During those years at least the Gloucester fishermen were considered the finest sailors in the world by the shipmasters of the North Atlantic Coast and they certainly have shown their superiority during the many years we have won the cup, as hardly a crew ever manned the winners but had a Gloucester man in it in some capacity.

If Practice Were Reversed

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a good citizen it is my duty to keep the front, in fact all, of my property in as good condition as possible. How can I keep it clean and respectable, when just anyone who feels like it has the privilege of scattering printed announcements, reputable and otherwise, promiscuously around the grounds? If the wind carries onto my lawn old paper that some careless person has discarded, I expect to remove it. But, I fail to appreciate the fact that I have, many times a day, also to go out and pick up and carry to my incinerator paper that some tradesman or fake doctor has employed a man to put there. Why should not I have the privilege of carrying my old newspapers and dumping on the counter of my neighboring grocer? There is just as much possibility of his wanting to read them, as of my reading these announcements that are scattered all over my premises.

O. K. YOUNG.

Where Does It Leak To?

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why does gasoline shipped from Southern California to other parts of the country retail for less than it does here? If crude oil sells for 60 to 80 cents a barrel and they get approximately thirty gallons of gasoline per barrel besides other products and yet must sell gas at 20½ cents per gallon, there must be a tremendous leak somewhere.

A CONSUMER.

Found It All Worthy

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The writer desires to express his thanks for the enjoyment he had from today's issue of your excellent publication.

In distributing the parts today to members of the family circle it was not necessary to throw any into the discard on account of unworthy contents.

The writer has no reason whatever for working in the interest of your paper except that your publication is always as near perfect as our modern world will accept and such unusual merit certainly deserves the co-operation of all.

WHEN GABRIEL COMES

By The Foothill Philosopher

When Gabriel blows his horn, "when we dead awaken," when human souls stand face to face with that inexorable judge which they themselves created by their thoughts and "deeds done in the body," there probably will be some big surprises for a lot of folks.

I have been thinking that among the first ones to rise at the sound of Gabriel's trumpet will be the superintendents of the many large and small missions, men who are spending their lives—their energy, money and time—to bring physical help, mental comfort and spiritual light to "those who sit in darkness." And among the leaders of these men who today choose to serve their fellow-men instead of to amass wealth and achieve fame, will be "Brother" Tom Liddecoat of the Midnight Mission and J. M. Berkley of the Union Rescue Mission. There will be others, too, many of them almost unknown even in the realms in which they labor, but men whose souls are attuned to "the music of the spheres" and the music of men's hearts and who will hear and gladly rise when Gabriel blows his horn.

And I think Gabriel will say to these men (yes, and to many noble women who also are in the work of salvaging human bodies and souls:) "Well done, faithful servants of our loving Master! Behold the work of your hands!"

Pastor Asking Decree Cites 'Social Error'

It is a distinct breach of etiquette—indeed, a social error that is ground for divorce—if a minister's wife makes home brew and drinks it in the presence of her husband's Bible study class members, Rev. William Aaron Minesinger asserts in his complaint against Mrs. Frances Morel Minesinger, on file yesterday.

In addition Mr. Minesinger accuses his wife of being too friendly with other men she met during her career as a trained nurse and cites instances of her cruelty to him in throwing his clothes out of the house.

Because of his wife's asserted conduct the plaintiff declares he has been handicapped in his ministerial career and adds that before their marriage seventeen years ago she knew he was a theological student and she promised him she would comport herself with the discretion that becomes a minister's wife.

Forest Expert Sees Work Here

A tree-planting program which is under way in Vermont is making considerable progress, according to F. E. Merrill, State Forester of that State who was in Los Angeles yesterday.

The eastern official called upon Spence Turner, Los Angeles county forester, and was conducted on a tour of inspection through the county. He was much impressed by the progress made in fire prevention and control in Los Angeles county compared with counties in the East and other States he had visited.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

IMPY BRINGS HOME A PRIZE

Say what you please, most folk who eat
Are better for a little meat.
—Impy the Chipmunk.

Every day Impy, the black Chipmunk, did a little hunting. Please don't think that Impy and little Mrs. Impy lived entirely on nuts and seeds and things of that kind. All the members of the Squirrel family, and, of course, this includes the Chipmunks, like a little meat now and then. Yes, sir, they do so. They not only like it, but they get it.

So, this particular morning Impy had started out to look for some meat. He felt hungry for meat. Of course, some good big insects would do very nicely. He thought of grasshoppers, but he hadn't had much luck getting grasshoppers of late. You see, they were beginning to be a little out of season. Nevertheless, Impy started out to look for some. He knew that if he could only find some, they would be easier to catch now than they had been earlier in the season when it was warmer.

Impy had hunted about for some time in places where he had found grasshoppers before, but without success this time. He was getting discouraged when he noticed a little movement in the grass just ahead of him. Instantly he was all alertness. He stole forward softly, but rapidly, peering ahead with those bright little eyes of his for whatever might be there. Something or some one, was moving through that grass. Presently he saw something green. The grass was no longer green, it was brown. It was a half-grown grass snake. Impy's eyes sparkled. Here was the meat he needed.

Just then the little snake saw him and faced him. There was nothing cowardly about the little snake. He raised his head and ran his tongue out at Impy, and if he was afraid he didn't show it. Impy danced this way and danced that way, looking for a chance to spring in and seize that little snake by the back of his head. Presently he saw his chance and, darting forward, he seized the little snake. The latter struggled and struggled, but in vain. Very proudly Impy started home with his prize.

Mrs. Impy saw Impy coming. "What have you there?" she demanded.

"Fresh meat," replied Impy. "I was very meat hungry. Nuts and seeds and mushrooms are all very well, but one needs a little meat to go with them once in a while."

"Quite right, my dear," replied Mrs. Impy. "I was meat hungry myself. I have been out looking for a mouse, but I couldn't find one. This will do quite as well."

So Impy and Mrs. Impy dined on the little snake. I suspect that many of their little friends do not know that Chipmunks go snake-hunting once in a while. They do however, just as they go stealing the eggs and young of the nests of birds who are foolish enough to build on the ground. It is all because they do have the need of a little meat once in a while.

"I feel better," said Impy.

"So do I," replied Mrs. Impy. "I don't suppose we'll have any meat through the winter."

"I don't suppose we shall," replied Impy.

HOME DECORATION TALKS—NO. 10
by Fay Fraser
OLD CARS MADE NEW
My work consists of planning interior decorating. After I had worked out a design for one of my friend's living room there was still half a can of Oriental Red Flex left. Flex, by the way, is that wonderful new color coating—neither an enamel nor a lacquer. It combines the best features of both.
Well, my friend's husband, who had helped us, liked Flex so well that he decided to use it on his automobile. I wish you could see the result. He painted part of the body, and Flex dried on it as smooth and lustrous as baked enamel. He went out immediately and bought another can to complete the job.
Afterwards I found out from the General Paint Corporation, the originators of Flex, that this new color coating is admirable for automobiles as well as for furniture and interior woodwork. Flex is actually the easiest finish that you ever used. It flows on so smoothly that all brush marks disappear. It dries quickly, too, forming a tough, colorful film which resists water, dirt and hard wear.
You will probably want to use a lot of Flex once you have started. It is economical because Flex covers much more surface. All good hardware and paint dealers sell the entire Flex line of colors.
LISTEN TO FAY FRASER OVER YOUR RADIO!
Every Tuesday and Friday morning at 9:30 Miss Fraser will take up a special problem in home decoration and show how it can be solved. Listen to her over KFRC, KHJ, KMJ, KOIN, KOL, KVI, KFPY and let her show you how you can increase the beauty and charm of your home.

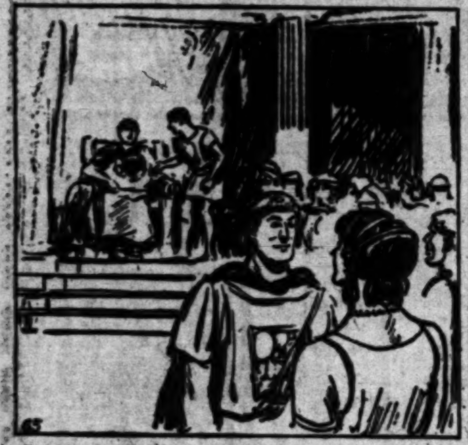
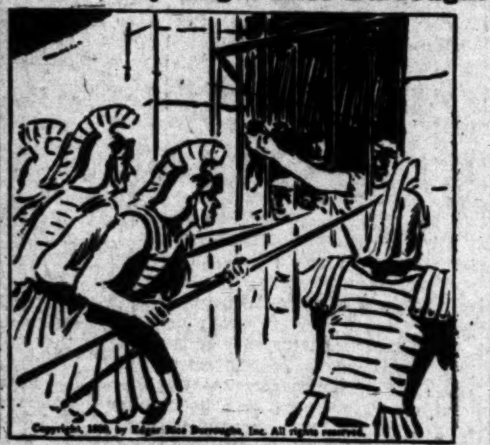
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

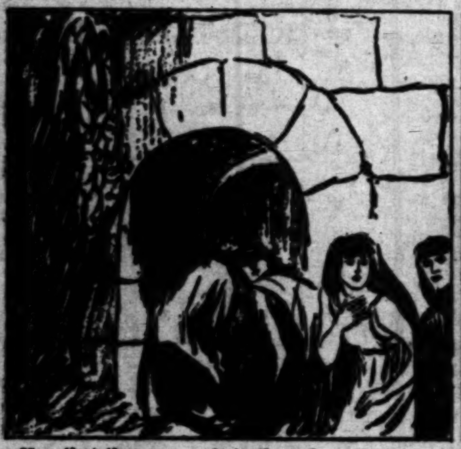


In his throne-room, the Emperor Sublatus sat in pomp and splendor. Senators in rich robes and high officers of the court and army, resplendent in jewels and embroidered linen, with their wives and daughters, formed a glittering company, for that evening the Emperor's son was to wed the daughter of Dion Splendidus.

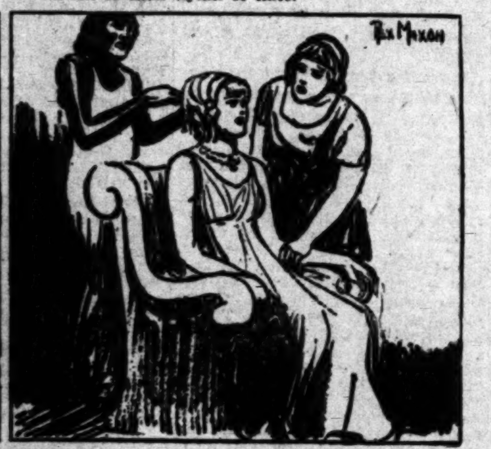


Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

In the avenue beyond the palace gates a great crowd had assembled, a multitude pushing and surging to and fro, but pressing ever upon the gates up to the very pikes of the legionaries. It was a noisy crowd, noisy with deep-throated anger. "Down with the tyrant! Death to Sublatus!" was the burden of their hymn of hate.



Now that they were safe in the palace, the contempt of the guests for the rabble without knew no bounds, but they did not speak among themselves of the fact that most of them had entered by a back gate after the crowd had upset the litter of a noble senator and spilled him into the dust of the avenue.



While the wedding guests laughed and chattered, pretending not to hear the voice of the mob outside, the bride-to-be sat stark and cold in an upper chamber of the palace, surrounded by her slaves and comforted by her mother. "It shall not be," she said to herself, and in the folds of her robe she clutched the hilt of a dagger.

Slice the cucumbers and onions and sprinkle each layer lightly with salt and allow to stand overnight. Drain well in the morning, place the spices in a small muslin bag, and boil them with the vinegar, water and sugar. As soon as the vinegar has come to the boil add the cucumbers and onions and boil slowly until tender. Place them in sterilized jars, add some of the celery, mustard seeds, whole cloves and allspice, and a small piece of stick cinnamon to each jar. Seal tightly.

RYE BREAD

L. A. S., Alhambra, Cal.: One cake of yeast, one cupful of milk, scalded and cool, two cupfuls of lukewarm water, five cupfuls of rye flour, one and one-half cupfuls of sifted white flour, one tablespoonful of shortening or butter melted, one tablespoonful of salt. Dissolve the yeast in the lukewarm liquid, add two and one-half cupfuls of the rye flour, or enough to make a sponge, beat it well, cover it and set it in a warm place, free from a draft, to rise for about two hours. When light, add the white flour, shortening, the rest of the rye flour, or enough to make a soft dough, and the salt. Turn it onto a board and knead it or pound it for five minutes. Place it in a bowl that has been well oiled, cover it and let rise until double in bulk. Turn it onto a board and shape it into long loaves, place it in shallow pans, cover and let rise again until light, about one hour. Brush it with a slightly beaten white of an egg, to which has been added two tablespoonfuls of cold water, then with a sharp knife cut lightly three times diagonally across the top, and place it in the oven. Bake it in a slow oven, then for white bread caraway seeds may be added, if liked. By adding one-half cupful of sour dough left from a previous baking an acid flavor is obtained which is considered by many a great improvement. This should be added to the sponge.

PECAN PIE

H. S., Pasadena, Cal.: Four eggs, yolks, the whites of two eggs, one cupful of rich cream, one cupful of sugar, one cupful of chopped pecan nut meats. Beat the yolks of the eggs, add the sugar to them, place in a double boiler, beat the whites of two eggs, and add the cream to them. Combine with the other mixture and cook slowly until thick, ture to cool, place a meringue on the add the nut meats, allow the mix- top, made from the remaining two egg whites, and brown in a slow oven.

RICE

M. P., Los Angeles, Cal.: According to your letter, I am at a loss to know just what kind of rice recipes you would like to have. The wild rice is very wonderful and although expensive, makes up for being so, in the eating of it. Recipes for the white rice, or brown rice are usually on the package, or the packers will be glad to send you a booklet of recipes. For cooking the white rice, place in the bottom part of the double boiler boiling water. Wash a cup of the rice and place it in the top of a double boiler, adding two and one-half cupfuls of cold water, cover tightly and allow to steam until tender. Do not stir it and don't salt it, and each kernel will be light and fluffy. If there is anything else that I can do for you write me again.

IS YOUR CHILD ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT SCHOOL?

This morning we passed hundreds of children going to school. Small boys with hands dug deep in diminutive pockets. Small girls in groups of three carrying their books importantly. Tiny tots, clinging to the hands of their mothers, headed for kindergarten. How do they feel about school? You might be astonished if you knew.

Ask your own children what their most vivid remembrances of school are. With one of my children it was terror, of she knew not what, crystallized one day by a teacher who "bawled her out" for sitting on a stone step; for the boy, who, when he inadvertently pulled a shade down too far and it crashed to the floor, was directed to find the janitor. He hunted for him with awful fear in his heart. He was sure some dire punishment lurked around the corner.

Listen to older children initiate the younger ones into the "joys" of school. "My teacher is terrible. You can't move. Not an inch. If you're late you have to stand up in front of the class because you've spoiled the record."

OLDER CHILDREN EXAGGERATE

"My teacher hit Johnny West's hand with a ruler because he wouldn't say he was sorry he sassed her. You can't sass teacher."

Suppose it isn't true. The poor shivering child doesn't know it. Older children accentuate their own courage by seeming indifference to these terrors. They show their superiority by magnifying the dangers of school.

The child goes to school swamped by his emotions of fear. He is conscious of his ignorance and that because of it he may transgress and find himself in the morass of teacher's disapproval.

FOCUS MIND ON JOYS

The mother must bring these fears to the light of day and erase them. She can do this best by questioning the child. Ask him if he likes school and if he enjoys his playmates and his teachers. His half-hearted response should be enlightening to her.

If there are fears, uproot them. Talk him out of them. Remind him of the delights of school. Plenty of playmates. Games to play. Songs to sing. Books to be read. If his mind is focussed on the joys instead of the terrors, his spirit is uplifted.

Children are easily cowed by adults, and are fearful of speaking up for themselves. "You mustn't talk" is taken literally to mean that while they may burn with indignation and a sense of unfair treatment they must keep it to themselves.

For explaining they may be punished or ridiculed, the latter being worse than the first.

Fears burrow deeply, making sore places and "complexes." They destroy the child's ability to do successful work in school. If the mother realizes their significance, she can easily uncover these fears.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Electric Cords

Keep the electric cords for your iron, toaster, percolator, etc., hanging on hooks inside the broom closet door. They will be free from kinks and will give much longer service than if doubled up in knots when not in use.

All Set

One housewife each ironing day places a clean handkerchief for small son and daughter in the pockets of the clothes as she puts the ironing away. It saves the danger of forgetting this important object in the daily rush for school.

A Good Appetite

The wise mother plans a substantial and balanced lunch for the school boy or girl. This is one time the youngster has a good appetite and it is therefore the time to get the right support in the line of food into them. Use that good appetite to advantage.

Brighter Silver

When the silver could stand a cleaning and you have no time to do it, put it in the dishpan with a handful of borax, a little soap and hot water. Let it stand in this solution for the morning. Rinse in clear water and dry with a soft cloth. Your job is done.

Cretonne Draperies

If you are pondering whether you will line your cretonne draperies or not, by all means line them. So often the light shining through them will mar the beauty of the design. A lining of soft material of a harmonizing color will bring out the pattern of the material both day and night. The draperies will also hang better if lined.

A Word to the Wise

Hot, strong coffee will usually stop hiccoughs.

Tomato juice will remove those ink stains from the fingers.

A small piece of sulphate of potash added to the boiling syrups or jams will prevent fermentation.

Nickel trimmings on gas stoves will look much brighter if washed with warm water in which two tablespoonfuls of kerosene have been stirred.

Never keep olive oil directly on the ice. It freezes readily and is then difficult to use in salad dressings, as it is apt to cause the dressing to separate.

TRAFFIC SAFETY AIDS DISCUSSED

Los Angeles Committee Holds Meeting

Mrs. Irish Gives Report on European Methods

Nance Says Fatal Mishaps Have Decreased

"The way they do it in Europe" might well have been the title to the meeting of the Los Angeles Safety Committee, under the direction of the State Chamber of Commerce, at its regular meeting at the target range of the police department in Elysian Park yesterday afternoon.

Councilman Holland turned the meeting over to the vice-chairman, Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, who had just returned from a trip over Europe in the interest of safety and who spoke at length on conditions there and here as to safety devices and the way to use them. She said there is no comparison, in general traffic problems, for there is so little automobile traffic abroad in comparison with ours, with the habits and lives of average Europeans so different from the Americans.

AMERICAN INFLUENCE

She said Europeans make much more of their traffic accidents than Americans, because they are much fewer, particularly in England. The outstanding safety device in Rome is the raised pedestrian safety zone and the chain-fenced sidewalks, Mrs. Irish said, while in Switzerland and Holland traffic gates are particularly noticeable. In all parts of Europe there are marked influences of the rules and laws that govern traffic in America, she said.

Traffic Engineer R. T. Dorsey said sidewalk fencing might work in Rome but would not in Los Angeles for it had been tried once and disapproved. He said safety zones in correct places, correctly installed, are good safety features but wrongly placed they can be a source of danger to the driver. If placed indiscriminately, they will still protect the pedestrian but will offer a hazard to the motorist.

FAVORS SAFETY ZONES

Deputy Chief James E. Davis, head of the city traffic bureau, said he is in favor of good raised safety zones for pedestrians and that, of course, they should be properly placed. He is strongly in favor of protecting innocent pedestrians against the willfully careless or drunken drivers who come to grief against the raised safety zones. He and others in the meeting commended the San Francisco safety zones.

Coroner Nance reported that the accidental death list has been cut 30 per cent during the first nine months of 1930 over a like period of 1929 and offered this as evidence of the effectiveness of safety measures being urged and put into operation by the safety committee.

Deputy Chief Davis also reported that fifty more motorcycle officers will be on the job in about two weeks.

STORE OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Walker's, Inc., Celebrates Twenty-fifth Anniversary with 400 Guests at Banquet Table

Celebrating the silver anniversary of the founding of Walker's, Inc., R. M. Walker, president, last night was host to 400 guests at a banquet at the Biltmore. Included in the list of guests were many of his business associates and the heads of department stores of Los Angeles who joined with him in the celebration of his twenty-fifth year of business in this city.

John G. Bullock, president of Bullock's and an old business associate of Mr. Walker, was the principal speaker of the evening. He congratulated Los Angeles on having such a keen business man in the city. He declared that as far he knew it was the first time a business man in Los Angeles had given his business rivals a banquet.

T. C. Palmer, vice-president of Walker's, was the toastmaster of the evening, introducing scores of Los Angeles business men who were guests. Mr. Walker was presented with a huge loving cup by the concessionaires in his store.

BANKER SPEAKS

R. B. Hardacre, executive vice-president of the Security First National Trust and Savings Bank, congratulated Mr. Walker on his business success and wished him well on behalf of the financial interests of the city.

Malcolm McNaghten, president of the Broadway Department Store, also an old business associate of the host, spoke briefly.

C. D. Kimberly, Bellevue, Mich., the man who gave Walker his first job, made the trip from the East to be present last night. He told of the early life of his host.

Mr. Walker, in bidding his guests welcome, declared the Los Angeles retail merchant to be "the most honest sportsman in the business world of the country." He told of his efforts in founding the great company which he heads. He started with 150 employees, he said, and now employed 2000.

CITY OF OPPORTUNITY

"Opportunity for success is right here in Los Angeles more than in any other city in the world," he said. "The city is the most prosperous and the fastest growing city in the world. The next city in growth is Detroit, but even that city cannot compare with the remarkable growth and expansion of Los Angeles.

"If there be anyone in my employ who desires advice, either personal or in business, the door of my office is always open to them. It is the young man and woman today who will take our places as leaders in the business world of tomorrow," Walker explained.

OTHER GUESTS

LYON FILES FOR SEAT IN ASSEMBLY

He will Make Race in Fifty-seventh District as Independent

State Senator Charles W. Lyon, who was defeated for the Republican nomination for State Senator from this county in the recent primary, last night filed a nominating petition entering his independent candidacy in opposition to the election of Charles W. Dempster as the Republican nominee for the Assembly from the Fifty-seventh District.

Lyon, a life-long Republican, has served as a member of the California Legislature for sixteen years, both as an Assemblyman and as a State Senator.

Although failing to win the new Senatorship created by the constitutional amendment limiting Los Angeles county to one representative in the upper legislative house, Lyon carried most of the precincts in his old Senatorial and Assembly districts.

In a brief announcement preceding the filing of his nominating petition in the office of Registrar of Voters Kerr, Senator Lyon said that among those urgently requesting him to become a candidate for the Assembly were many representative men and women not associated with his recent campaign.

Supporters of Lyon asserted that Dempster won the Republican nomination through a "political fluke" and predicted Lyon's election by a wide margin.

Before coming to California in 1888 Dempster says that he was identified with Republican politics in Idaho and Montana.

A petition bearing the names of more than 500 registered voters in the Fifty-seventh District, none of whom cast a ballot for Assemblyman in the recent primary, was filed by Lyon's sponsors.

Lorne D. Middough, member of the present county grand jury and owner of a department store at Long Beach, yesterday filed a nominating petition as an independent candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventieth District. Middough, living at 2611 East Broadway, Long Beach, will oppose James K. Reid of the beach city, who was nominated on the Republican ticket at the primary election.

"HONEY" LETTERS WIN DIVORCE

Letters addressed to "Honey" were found in her husband's pockets, Mrs. Vida Ann Kinser yesterday complained in asking a divorce from James M. Kinser. Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a divorce on grounds of mental cruelty.

ACTION ATTACKS DIVORCE AWARD

Mrs. Gwyneth Helbush Asks Decree be Quashed

Half of $500,000 Community Property Involved

Constitutional Guarantee of Rights Pleaded

An action was filed yesterday in United States District Court by George Clark, an attorney of San Francisco, on behalf of Mrs. Gwyneth Helbush against her husband, Herman H. Helbush, involving a divorce decree and $500,000 in property.

Mrs. Helbush is seeking to set aside an assertedly ex parte final decree of divorce granted her husband in the Superior Court in San Francisco in June, 1929, based upon an interlocutory decree granted the wife nearly five years before, but later condoned by the wife, who returned to live with her husband.

The action filed yesterday raises the question of "due process of law," as embodied in the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, thus bringing the case into Federal Court.

The plaintiff seeks to have set aside a ruling of the State Supreme Court, in affirming the Superior Court of San Francisco, in refusing to vacate the final decree of divorce given the husband.

The plaintiff asserts that the property in question is entirely community property and that she is entitled to half of that sum. Mrs. Helbush resides in Los Angeles. The plaintiff also asks that the final decree given the husband be set aside and that she be restored to her interest in the asserted community property.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Announcement is made by the Roosevelt Hotel that Ted Weems and his Victor recording orchestra will begin an indefinite engagement in the Blossom Room on October 9. Weems and his group, whose forthcoming appearance in Hollywood will be their first on the Pacific Coast, come after notable appearances in many leading hotels, night clubs and pleasure resorts of the East, and following biweekly appearances over the network of the Columbia Broadcasting System and other national radio broadcasts. Johnny Johnson and his orchestra, who are currently the attraction in the Blossom Room, will conclude their engagement on October 4. On the following day the Blossom Room will be closed for complete redecoration in a new and striking motif under the direction of Jack Schultze, studio art director and creator of many distinctive motion-picture sets. A gala premiere will be given the supper room in its new dress on the evening of October 9, when Weems and his orchestra will make their debut.

MONTMARTRE BUSY

The matinee dancing at the Hollywood Montmartre during Wednesday and Saturday luncheon is proving popular with many film patrons of the cafe, according to Eddie Brandstatter. In addition to the dancing on Wednesday a fashion promenade is held with the latest creations in feminine wear being displayed. On Friday evening, campus night is celebrated with the Montmartre orchestra featuring the songs of Southern California universities. A gala program is given Saturday evening in honor of the Hollywood theaters.

NEW REVUE PROMISED

Bert Rovere, former opera baritone and now proprietor with I. Pedroli of the Paris Inn Cafe, has commenced preparation for what is said to be the finest revue ever presented by the cafe. Rudolpho and Chiquita, noted dancing team of Europe that has been imported directly to the Paris Inn from the Moulin Rouge in Paris, continue to sway the enthusiastic spectators by their exhibition dancing. Lilian D'Andrea, soprano from the Argentine and Milan, Italy, with Louis Pella, accordionist; Frank Zolt, Hungarian baritone, and Bert Rovere appear in a new version of operatic selections. Ken Roth's Paris Inn orchestra furnishes the music.

COLLEGE NIGHT PLANNED

Bob Rasmus, Bruin football star, will be guest of honor at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, tonight, on which occasion students and alumni will celebrate as a prelude to the annual Trojan-Bruin game. Many dancers from the University of Southern California and U.C.L.A. have entered tonight's dancing contest, which will be given at midnight with Bob Rasmus awarding a handsome trophy to the winning couple. In addition to the regular performance of "Looking Up," new autumn revue, Olsen and his orchestra will feature a medley of Trojan and Bruin campus songs, and they will also introduce "Betty Co-Ed," new collegiate song hit.

MEXICAN TENOR HONORED

Senor Felipe Delgado, tenor, who has just returned from an extensive concert tour throughout the East and Middle West, and now presenting weekly Spanish programs over radio stations KFI and KECA, was honorary guest this week at Casa la Golondrina, the Mexican cafe on the old Mexican street near the Plaza. Presentation of a group of special request numbers was well received by his old friends.

CAFETERIA CELEBRATES

The tenth anniversary of the Fern Cafeteria, Third and Hill streets, is being celebrated today by that organization and its many patrons. According to William S. Clark, owner, everything points toward a successful coming year. As an indication a new six-year lease has just been negotiated. The company also operates a second cafeteria in the Wilshire-La Brea district.

PLANS FOR SCHOOL APPROVED BY BOARD

Plans for the construction of the Crescent Heights Boulevard school were approved by the Board of Education yesterday and the secretary was authorized to advertise for bids. The school will be a twelve-unit building on a site bounded by Key, Alvira and Airdrome streets and Crescent Heights Boulevard.

STOCK DEAL OF WOMAN IN COURT

Mrs. Merrill Testifies She Paid Fewkes $6500 but Didn't Get Shares

The story of how a middle-aged woman was persuaded to invest $6500 in stock which she asserts was never delivered to her was told from the witness stand in Superior Judge Fricke's court yesterday by Mrs. Thomas E. Merrill of 137 North Carson Road, Beverly Hills, at the trial of J. B. Fewkes.

After many continuances extending over a period of months, Fewkes went to trial charged with eight counts of grand theft. A charge of violation of the Corporate Securities Act was dismissed.

Mrs. Merrill charges that she paid Fewkes $6500 in various installments for which she was to receive stock in the Accounting Service Company. This stock, the woman avers, was never delivered.

Fewkes denies, through his attorney, William J. Clark, that he defrauded Mrs. Merrill of any money.

Ugene U. Blalock, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, asserts that he has evidence by which he hopes to prove that Mrs. Merrill was bilked of her savings.

Susan M. Dorsey Name Given to School Building

At suggestion of Mrs. Elizabeth McManus, chairman of the Los Angeles County Probation Committee, the Board of Education voted yesterday to name one of the buildings at the El Retiro school after Susan M. Dorsey, retired superintendent of schools. The four other buildings all bear the names of distinguished women, the others thus honored being Jane Addams, Susan B. Anthony, Florence Nightingale and Mary Lyons.

The board ruled that naming this one small building for Mrs. Dorsey will not be regarded as a bar to naming some large school for her later.

RANGERS PLAN TRIP

The Woodcraft Rangers, an organization composed of lovers of nature and outdoor life, will make its weekly trip Saturday to points of interest throughout Southern California, when approximately thirty members, under the leadership of Robert Gould and Herbert Kuesbauch, will hike to Millard's Canyon in the Dawn Mine territory.

ENDURANCE SHIP UP AGAIN

Pride of Hollywood Takes on Food and Gasoline Few Hours After Second Start

Nine hours after they took off from Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday afternoon, Loren Mendell, Pete Reinhart and Doc Howard were winging their way back and forth across the skies in the monoplane Pride of Hollywood on their second attempt to set a new world's air-endurance record of 1000 hours.

Just before darkness overtook them the trio received their dinner of broth, salad, chicken, waters and coffee from the refueling plane, Buhl Airsedan. During the same contact seventy gallons of gasoline was transferred—plenty, when added to the 165 gallons aboard at the take-off, to last them until a scheduled refueling at 2 a.m.

Radio messages from the endurance craft stated that everything was ship shape and that the first hours aloft were uneventful.

Without any of the ceremony that marked their first take-off, the trio climbed into the high-winged cabin monoplane, taxied down to the end of the runway and left the ground at 3:09:52 p.m.

Joe Nikrent, official timer for the National Aeronautic Association, clocked the green and gold ship as its wheels lifted from the concrete take-off stretch.

Just before the departure Dr. Frank Miller of Glendale dressed the infected hand of Howard and declared that it should give the radio operator no more trouble.

Fresh dressings were placed aboard the craft, however, and Mendell plans to keep a watchful eye on the member to see that the original infection, caused by a rope burn during an attempted refueling contact last Sunday, does not recur.

The Buhl in which Mendell and Reinhart set a former air-endurance world's record over Culver City is being used for refueling instead of the Javelin monoplane employed on the first attempt.

Bud Hussey, former army flyer, is pilot of the Buhl and Ralph De Rose, former French ace, handles the hose during gasoline contacts. Food is lowered in canvas bags suspended on a heavy rope from the refueling ship. C. H. Holdson is flight manager.

Four contacts are scheduled during each twenty-four-hour period—at 9 a.m., 2 p.m., 6 p.m. and midnight. Three red lights on the under side of the Buhl make the night contacts possible—the first to be attempted in this district. Although Hussey is not able to see the Pride of Hollywood, he learned from practice contacts at night, Mendell can see the outline of the top ship against the lighter sky and is able to jockey the endurance plane under the lowered fifty-foot gasoline hose.

Although the Pride of Hollywood's gas tanks have a capacity of 275 gallons the flyers plan to carry an average of 175 gallons during the flight. This will decrease the load and consequently allow the plane's 300-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor to be throttled to 1450 revolutions a minute. At this motor speed the Pride of Hollywood cruises at about seventy miles an hour.

Although the skies were overcast at yesterday's take-off, the endurance pilots gave little thought to the weather. In case the clouds drop and force the plane to fly under too low a ceiling, Mendell plans to fly blind through the strata and cruise above it until necessary to refuel again. Mt. Wilson generally is above the fog layer and the flyers can get their bearings from this either night or day.

Howard expects to broadcast news of the flight each hour over radio KGFJ from the soundproof broadcasting room built in the ship's fuselage. This is the first time an endurance plane has been so equipped. Howard is a radio expert for Western Air Express and has installed $5000 worth of sending and receiving apparatus in the radio cabin.

Special care has been taken to muffle the engine of the Pride of Hollywood so that it will not be an annoyance to sleepers during the nights the ship cruises over Glendale, Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Absent-minded Store Owner Locks Up Girl

The police burglary squad had to break the lock of the Heine Piano Company, 140 South Broadway, last night, restoring to liberty Miss Florence Stirling, 22 years of age, of 1261 South Plymouth Boulevard, who desires to be a musician.

During regular business hours Miss Stirling is a stenographer at the Shell Oil Company, Second and Main streets. Anxious to perfect her music, she made an arrangement whereby she could practice on the piano evenings at the Heine company.

She was practicing industriously last night and did not notice that the store was being locked up for the night.

Very much frightened when she realized her predicament she called her mother on the telephone, who called the police.

The burglary squad broke the lock and liberated her.

SANDWICHES

another triumph

You didn't know there could be such an improvement in sandwiches:

1. Higher food value due to milk bread, fresh creamery butter, large slices, generous fillings.
2. Tastier . . . a refreshment as well as a food. Fillings made according to master recipes. Served with an appetizer and a bit of green.
3. More appealing. Daintily and appetizingly served in an atmosphere of thorough cleanliness.

TIGERS FAVORED TO COP TUSSLE

Game Marks Initial Showing of Foreign Team

Root Depending on Passes to Win Contest

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Intercollegiate football makes it's Southern California debut tonight under the arc lights of the Coliseum when the National University of Mexico and the Occidental College pigskin aggregations get together in the opening tussle of the year.

COACH REGINALD ROOT

A record crowd is expected to be on hand to witness the first appearance of a foreign eleven in the United States, it being the first game on American soil for Coach Reginald Root's outfit.

While neither the Tigers nor the Mexicans has been installed as out and out favorites, the general consensus of local sport writers is that the Oxy squad should come out on top with a fairly decent score.

Coach Eddie Kienholz has drilled the Tigers pretty hard for the last two weeks and feels confident that last year's Southern California Conference champions will combat the tricky aerial attack of the Mexicans with a fast running offense. The Oxy mentor, assisted by Bill Anderson, backfield coach, has spent the last couple of days in perfecting a strong passing defense which he hopes will stop the invaders' vaunted air game.

The rival coach, Reggy Root, makes no secret of the fact that he is out to win and seems well pleased with the condition of his squad after their long trip from Mexico City.

Root, who won all-American mention when playing for Yale not so long ago, is basing his hopes on his varied aerial attack, which consists of tricky laterals and intricate forward passes besides the usual line plays.

The Mexican line will average just about the same as Oxy and may have an edge on the Tigers if Root starts Mendez, Villarreal and Simon, all of whom weigh 200 pounds.

The Tigers have an experienced eleven, but are sadly lacking in weight. Oxy's backfield, composed of Stoney Johnson, quarter; Bill Meyers and Art Elliott at halves and Dick Glover, fullback, are the same combination that carried the Tigers to a second Southern Conference title last season with the exception of Glenn Rozelle and Bud Collier, who started at halfbacks last year, although Elliott and Meyers averaged three-quarters service in every game.

TONY JURICH SUFFERS BROKEN LEG IN CLASH

BY BRAVEN DYER

Tony Jurich, second-string Trojan right end, suffered a broken ankle in yesterday afternoon's scrimmage session at Bovard Field. The Santa Monica boy was playing defensive end against the Spartans and after slashing through to make a tackle was knocked down and his left ankle fractured.

Loss of Jurich, who, in the opinion of Dr. Packard Thurber, will probably be out for the rest of the season, hits the Trojans in a very vital spot. Tony has been understudying Garrett Arbelbide and last night's occurrence leaves Howard Jones with nobody of any recognized ability backing up the right wing. Biggs, from the 1929 frosh, was shifted from left to right end following the injury and will probably be given every opportunity to make good.

BRUIN GRIDMEN HOPE FOR BEST

Green Line will Face Trojans at Coliseum Tomorrow

BY FRANK ROCHE

"Comparative scores mean absolutely nothing in football. We are going into the game against the Trojans tomorrow to do our best and we hope for the best. We at U.C.L.A. hope that this will be the last season that the Bruins meet U.S.C. on the opening date." That was the way "Bunker Bill" Spaulding, head coach at the Bruin institution, summed up the situation yesterday as he brought his practice for the game at the Coliseum to a close at the Westwood field.

BILL SPAULDING

BETTER TEAM

Spaulding believes he has a better team potentially this year than last, but he also pointed out that it is much greener than the one that faces the Trojans in 1929. There are no outstanding players to date on the Bruin squad, Spaulding stated. Leonard Bergdahl, sophomore quarterback, may be a triple threat star before the season is over, Bruin attaches say, but Spaulding is not so sure of just what he has at this time.

The Bruins will start a veteran backfield against the Trojans with Capt. "King" Solomon calling the signals. Buddy Forster and Ruben Thoe will hold down the halfback berths and Norman Duncan will go in at fullback.

The Bruin line will be made up of almost entirely sophomores. With the exception of the two ends, Maulhaupt and Wellendorf, the rest of the front wall will be made up of green men. John Duncan who will play at right guard, is not a sophomore, but he has little or

Rogers Hornsby Immediately Takes Over Reins

Guides Outfit to Win Over Cincinnati Reds

CHICAGO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby snatched the Chicago Cub reins as they dropped from Joe McCarthy's hands today and steered his charges to a 4-to-3 victory over the pestiferous Cincinnati Reds. The victory enabled the Cubs to remain mathematically in the National League pennant race for at least one more day as the St. Louis Cardinals needed two triumphs, including today's, to clinch the title.

ROGERS HORNSBY

McCarthy, deposed in favor of Hornsby forty-eight hours before with the understanding he was to finish the season, suddenly requested he be relieved immediately. His request was granted by President William L. Veeck, who handed the club over to Hornsby shortly before game time.

BATTLE OF HOMERS

The contest was a battle of home runs and came very close to becoming a Cincinnati victory in the ninth. Leading by 4 to 1 as he went into the ninth, young Bud Teachout, who had pitched effectively, saw Tony Cuccinello crash his second homer of the game over the left-field wall and Harry Heilmann, the next batsman, slam one over the same barrier.

Ford followed with a single and Hornsby stuck his head out of the dugout and motioned Pat Malone to the mound. Malone ended the rally, quickly disposing of two pinch hitters.

The first two Cub runs were individual efforts by Woody English and Gabby Hartnett. English dropped a homer into the right-field stand in the first inning and Hartnett duplicated the clout in the second. Dan Taylor tallied the third Cub run, sprinting home from first on Kelly's short single to left center, in the sixth. Teachout's single, followed by a sacrifice, a single by English and a force-out, brought in the last Chicago counter in the seventh.

Teachout pitched well until he made his two wrong guesses in the ninth. Cuccinello's first homer, a wallop over the left-field wall like the second, came in the sixth. Bennie Frey, usually troublesome to Cub batsmen, was slugged for eleven of the twelve Chicago hits in his seven innings on the mound.

STORMY MEETING

McCarthy resigned at a conference attended by William L. Veeck, president of the Cubs, and William Wrigley, Jr., chairman of the board of directors.

The conference, it was reported, was a stormy one. It was McCarthy's first meeting with Veeck and Wrigley since their decision was reached to appoint Hornsby as McCarthy's successor for the 1931 season.

In view of the fact that he was not to be offered a contract for the 1931 season, McCarthy asked to be relieved of any further duties in connection with the club, although his contract does not expire until January 1. It had been assumed by President Veeck that McCarthy would continued as leader until the finish of the season.

MERION CRICKET CLUB (Ardmore, Pa.) Sept. 25. (AP)—It isn't news when the ordinary golfer drives out of bounds, slices into a trap or takes three putts. It is hot news when Bobby Jones does these things, but after a day and a half of embarrassing moments the great Georgian suddenly snapped out of his slump this afternoon, applied the par crusher to Fay Coleman, 23-year-old Californian, and swept into the semifinals of the national amateur golf championship.

Jones, after an erratic morning round in which he looked like anything but a triple champion, staged a characteristic return to form to wallop Coleman by 6 and 5, in the thirty-six-hole quarterfinals. As a result Bobby has only two more all-day battles between him and the goal that no other golfer has ever approached — a clean sweep of all four British and American championships in one year.

BOBBY JONES

Tomorrow Jones will play an old rival, Jess W. Sweetser, Kentucky-bred New Yorker who shared with Jones the distinction of having held both the American and British amateur titles. Sweetser, who had to engage in a play-off to qualify in this tournament, put on a comeback himself today to beat the youthful iron-man, Maurice J. McCarthy of New York, conqueror of George Von Elm in a record-breaking twenty-eight-hole second-round match. Sweetser captured his quarter-final match, 5 and 4, after being 1 down at the end of the morning eighteen holes.

SEAVER VS. HOMANS

Two other semifinals tomorrow bring together two youngsters who have been upsetting golfing dope by the wholesale in this tournament—the 19-year-old Charles Seaver, thick-set Los Angeles youth, and Eugene V. Homans of Englewood, N. J., 22-year-old, frail-looking former Princeton golf captain.

Homans, in the biggest quarterfinal upset of the day, swamped Johnny Lehman of Chicago, western amateur champion, 8 and 7, with a game that was close to par all the way. Seaver, after a nervous start, just managed to gain a one-hole lead at the eighteenth hole in the morning and then settled down to eliminate 37-year-old Billy McPhail of Boston, 5 and 4.

Seaver, who has just entered as a freshman at Stanford University, has never so much as reached the match play of a national tournament before, while Homans's chief claims to fame heretofore were his metropolitan championship victory in 1928 and a tie with Bobby Jones for the medal at Pebble Beach last year. These two comparatively inexperienced youths tomorrow will battle for the right to enter the championship final and—prob-

TOURNAMENT IN SECOND ROUND

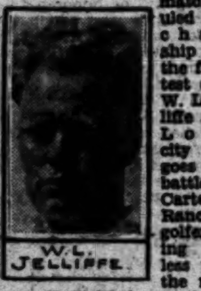
Several Upsets Feature of Yesterday's Play

Consolation Round Planned for Tomorrow

Mixed Foursomes End Event on Sunday

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Rancho's annual invitation tournament settles down to serious business today with two outstanding second-round matches scheduled in the championship flight. In the feature contest of the day, W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of Girard, Los Angeles city champion, goes into violent battle with Phil Carter, one of Rancho's finest golfers. Attracting a fraction less interest is the match between H. B. Wesbrook of Annandale, Pasadena city champion, and long-driving Lee Pendergrass, who competes under Wilshire's banner.



W. L. JELLIFFE

There are too many really good matches billed today to mention them all, but every match promises to be a tussle with only the pick of the championship flight left in the running.

Yesterday's first-round matches were not without casualty. Among the upsets can be numbered the 1-up victory scored by Dick Arlen over Stanley Turner; C. W. McKnight defeating Tom Kennedy, 1 up; C. P. Requa winning from Harlow Hurley, 3 and 2, and the one-sided 8-and-6 win tallied by Guy Hanson over Capt. W. W. Beckwith.

Second-flight matches were featured by the sensational putting of Earl Pickett, Long Beach Country Club golfer, who eliminated L. T. Henderson, 5 and 4. Pickett had thirteen putts for the first twelve holes and would have had only twelve putts but for a stymie. He holed 'em from every corner of the greens, and had pars in for a 72 when the match ended.

The old defaulting "bug-a-boo" popped up again yesterday to mar an otherwise fine tournament. A. H. (Ollie) Painter, tournament director, reports that seventeen defaults were registered out of eighty-eight matches. That is entirely too many. In nine instances, the defaulters failed to call and let the starter in on the secret, leaving their opponents to languish on the first tee.

A consolation round for those defeated in first-round matches and nonqualifiers is scheduled for tomorrow, according to Paul R. Jones, chairman of the tournament committee. Paul also reports that entries are being received for the mixed-foursome competition, which is given a prominent place on Sunday's program.

Following are the complete results of yesterday's first-round matches:

Jim Tunney's Tigers Face Mechanics in Feature Prep Practice Tilt of Week

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Heading a list of very impressive practice prep pigskin games Coach Jim Tunney's Lincoln Tigers and the Poly Mechanics get together this afternoon on the Mechanic field in the feature tussle of the day.

Practically every eleven in the city circuit will see service today, only Franklin and Jefferson not listing games.

Both Manual Arts and L. A. High have tough games listed, the Toilers traveling to Inglewood for a scrap with Dick Arnett's Sentinels, while the Roman outfit makes the trip to Pasadena for a tussle with the Crown City Bulldogs.

Vic Kelley's Hollywood Redshirts go down to Long Beach to take on the Southern California champions, Orian Landreth's Long Beach Jackrabbits. Long Beach figures on winning rather easily, but Kelley may surprise the dopesters.

Four other games are listed in town, with the Huntington Park-Roosevelt battle on the Roughriders' field looming as the best of the bunch. The three others find Bell at Garfield, Santa Monica at Fairfax, while the Venice Gondoliers travel to Fremont for a game with Coach Dircky's Pathfinders.

Manuel Laranetta's San Pedro Pirates, who are rumored to be very potent this season, play host to Sid Witherow's Belmont Hilltoppers in the last game on the City League card.

Quite a number of out-of-town teams are scheduled to do battle, with one of the feature games being Whittier and Covina on the Colt field.

Herbert Hoover High of Glendale makes the long trip to Santa Barbara for a game with the Saints, who are reported to be almost as strong as they were last season, when they advanced to the final round of the Southern California grid play-off, only to be defeated by Long Beach Poly.

Three other tilts are carded, Glendale playing the Occidental College frosh at Patterson Field, Van Nuys playing El Segundo, while Narbonne takes on the Wilson Democrats at Long Beach.

Lincoln at Poly.
Manual Arts at Inglewood.
Los Angeles High at Pasadena.

Belmont at San Pedro.
Venice at Fremont.

VINES DEFEATS CLIFF SUTTER

outplayed his college rival to win the semifinal match. After dropping the first set, he came back to play some of his best tennis, to win handily. Gledhill, in losing to Mangin, disregarded his doctor's advice, until the intermission, when he finally withdrew. Gledhill played a long, hard match to defeat Sydney Wood Wednesday, and immediately thereafter took part in a long men's doubles encounter, and a gruelling mixed doubles affair. The lengthy session on the courts left his shoulder in bad shape, and he withdrew, only after being hopelessly beaten.

GLADMAN WINS

"Midge" Gladman of Los Angeles, Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco, Ethel Burkhardt, also of San Francisco, and Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, entered the finals of the women's singles, insuring an all-California in the final encounter, which is scheduled for Sunday.

Miss Burkhardt provided the sensation of yesterday's play, when she defeated Miss Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, Mass., 8-6, 6-1. Miss Morrill, who was a semifinalist in the women's national singles, and who was seeded No. 1 in the local tournament, was no match for her opponent. After a lengthy first set Miss Burkhardt ran up a 4-0 lead in the second set, before her opponent could win a game.

Miss Gladman had an easy time with Helen Marlowe, upset conqueror of Mary Greef, winning, 6-1, 6-2, while Mrs. L. A. Harper, the southpaw star from San Francisco, won from Josephine Cruickshank, 6-0, default, when the latter player was forced to withdraw because of blisters on her feet. Dorothy Weisel defeated Gladys Patz in a three-set encounter, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

ALL DOUBLES

The entire program for today is made up of doubles events. The feature is scheduled for 12 o'clock when Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, Wimbledon champions, oppose Vines and Gledhill, providing the latter is in shape to play. The Santa Barbara youth believes that the rest after his default yesterday, will enable him to be in shape for today's event. Berkeley Bell and Mangin face Sutter and Bruce Barnes in the other semifinal event of the men's singles.

Today's schedule, and yesterday's results are as follows:

RESULTS

Men's singles—Mangin defeated Gledhill, 1-6, 6-1, 6-1, default; Vines defeated Sutter, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

BY BOB RAY

Jim Turner, Hollywood's sensational young right-hander, celebrated the arrival of a baby girl last night by pitching the Stars to a 5-3 victory over Sacramento at Wrigley Field.

Turner held the Solons to seven hits, and chalked up his nineteenth victory of the year. The win gave the Sheiks a 2-1 edge in the series, and put them six games in front of the second-place Angels.

Tony Freitas, Sacramento's leading southpaw started on the mound for the visitors, and was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the sixth, Hamilton finishing.

The Stars got to Freitas early, piling up a three-run lead in the opening inning. Gazella led off with a single, and Green's infield tap, and a walk to Barbee filled the bases with one away. Johnny Jones, who recently joined the Sheiks from the Piedmont League, delivered a single to center, to score Gazella and Green, and send Barbee to third. The latter counted on Heath's sacrifice fly.

Hollywood got another run in the third after two were out when Heath walked, stole second, and came in on Bassler's single over second.

Sacramento scored a pair off Turner in the sixth, when Backer singled, Osborn walked, and both came home on Camilli's long double over Jones's head in deep center.

Turner singled after two were out in the home half of the sixth and legged it around after two were out when Gazella blasted a double to right-center.

The Solons' final tally arrived after two were out in the eighth when Osborn doubled down the left-field line, and came in on Rowher's single to center. Score:

Cogitation as to the size of tomorrow's score is the main topic of interest in football circles. Last year it was 76 to 0. There are several reasons why it ought to be smaller this time.

Southern California has much less experienced material than last season. Jim Musick will be the only man in tomorrow's opening line-up who started against the Bruins last year. Forster, Thoe and Duncan of U.C.L.A.'s opening squad started last season.

In addition the Trojans apparently have less driving power than was the case with Saunders and all those veteran linemen. There is no telling what some of Jones's reserves will do tomorrow.

From a U.C.L.A. angle there is some optimism and also no small amount of pessimism. Bill Spaulding has been holding skull practice frequently and no doubt feels that his boys are better acquainted with Troy's formations than was the case last year.

Jeff was quietly in many places for taking the Emanuel fight and Morro looked like a soft touch for a clever boxer and smart fighter like Emanuel. The result proved that Jeffries knew what he was doing. Jeff claims that his boy is in better shape for the fight tonight than when he fought Emanuel. The weather was too warm for training at the time Morro fought Emanuel. Tonight Morro will look better than ever, according to Jeffries.

Hans Birkie is a rough and aggressive fighter, but has no boxing ability. Morro should easily outpoint him. He should give the northerner a boxing lesson.

The preliminaries look like they might be extraordinary. Sid Torres should be too tough for Tommy McGough in the semi-wind-up. Billy Wagner, light-heavyweight, hits too hard for Bob Stennett in the special. Wagner should win.

Old Ball Star is Called Out

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 25.—Joseph W. Wilhoit, local business man, and, until his retirement in 1923, a big-league ball player and holder of the world's hitting record, died this morning in a local hospital, where he had been under treatment for two months.

Wilhoit established a hitting record of sixty-nine consecutive games, which has never been equaled. He played semiprofessional ball after his graduation from Depauw University, Chicago, and in 1915 went to the Boston Braves, who sold him to the New York Giants, with which team he played in the national championship series of both 1917 and 1918.

In 1919 he went to the Western League, playing with the Wichita (Kan.) team, and it was there that he established the world's hitting record for sixty-nine consecutive games. He retired in 1923.

RABBIT PUNCHES
By PAUL LOWRY

JOE WILHOIT

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA lost a real athletic hero of the old days when Joe Wilhoit died at Santa Barbara yesterday.

The stories of his prowess fail to do justice to his career as a college star. They deal chiefly with his exploits as a major-league baseball player.

He held the world's hitting record for consecutive games, and he starred with the New York Giants during the World Series of 1917 and 1918.

But ten years before he crashed the big-league gates Joe Wilhoit was breaking college marks in the spangles of old St. Vincent's College.

On the present site of the Olympic Auditorium Joe used to spank out base hits for the Saints. There he cleated his way over the football stripes, and there he wore the uniform of a track man.

Joe Wilhoit was one of the best all-around track-and-field men ever developed in Southern California.

He was a hurdler, a shot-putter, a pole-vaulter.

He was the first man in Southern California to clear 11 feet in the pole vault. That was the height of the pegs. The bar sagged, and they gave Joe a new Southern California record of 10ft. 9¾in.

That was in 1906, and the mark stood for several years.

Joe was a big, strapping six-footer. He was all man and a sterling competitor.

I knew Joe intimately. We hurdled, jumped and vaulted on rival teams. He was always a sportsman of the first degree.

He started his professional career with the old Venice team of Hap Hogan's in the Coast League, and then went to the Boston Braves and then to the New York Giants.

He played life's game well—right up to the last whistle—and he was a credit to the old school that sent him out into the world.

THOSE DEFAULTERS

ANOTHER splendid invitation golf tourney on deck—this one at Rancho—and the bane of the customary defaults.

There were eighty-eight matches scheduled yesterday, and there were seventeen defaults.

In nine of those matches the men defaulting failed to notify their opponents or the tournament committee.

The men they were to play cooled their heels for two hours waiting for some word.

Call it what you will—lack of sportsmanship, decency, breeding—this is a factor over which a club holding a tourney has no control, but it spoils many a fine competition, and sours many a disposition.

It isn't in the cards that seventeen out of 176 players, after signifying their intention to play through on Wednesday night, found it impossible to show up yesterday. It is true some were detained by business pressure, sickness and what-not.

But not seventeen. And there were seventeen other men who itched to play through the tourney.

JONES, SEAVER VICTORS

FAY'S PUTTER FAILS

In the only other time they have met in the national amateur, Sweetser walloped Jones by the lopsided margin of 8 and 7, at Brookline in 1922, the year that big Jess won the tournament. But the Georgian has become the giant of the links since then, holder of more national titles than any other man in golfing history.

Had Coleman been able to do any consistent work at all with his putter today, the Californian might have given Jones an unpleasantly close call for Bobby was clearly off his game throughout the morning round. On the fourth hole, 595 yards, the Georgian topped his second shot and put his third in a trap but he got a half in six. He three-putted the first, but so did Coleman. He three-putted the sixth and lost it. He drove out of bounds on the 15th and lost the hole, but nevertheless he finished the round 2 up on a youngster who was unable to answer Old Man Opportunity's knock at the door.

Before he started the afternoon round, Jones did something unusual for him by practicing fifteen minutes with the wood and it paid immediate dividends. Despite two more lapses on the part of "Calamity Jane," his famous putter, Jones became 6 up at the twenty-seventh and played the last six holes in 1 under par to beat Coleman by 6 and 5 on the thirty-first green. Seven down, with eight to go, the Californian made a game stand by winning two successive holes, the twenty-ninth and thirtieth, with birdie 3's, but it was just a gesture, for Bobby's par 3 was good enough to win the short thirty-first and settle the match.

Jones was only one over par for the thirteen holes he played in the afternoon, but so was Sweetser, for fourteen holes, and big Jess may give the Georgian a battle if he can keep the mashie niblick touch he displayed today.

McCARTHY CRACKS

Sweetser, however, needed the breaks to gain any kind of a lead over McCarthy, whose propensities as a hard fighter have been conspicuous from the start of this tournament.

Twice McCarthy lost easy chances to win holes from Sweetser when the latter laid stymies on the first and eighth holes. McCarthy was only five feet from the first hole for a win and barely a foot from the eighth for another win, but failed to hurdle Sweetser's ball and halved each hole. In spite of these bad breaks, the youngster ended the morning round 1 up and it looked like another finish fight. But in the afternoon Sweetser struck a streak of par golf, while the "Iron-man" cracked.

Big Jess squared the match at the nineteenth, took the lead at the twenty-first, increased it to 3 up at the twenty-seventh and wound up the victor, 5 and 4, on the thirty-second hole. Sweetser got a break on the twenty-eighth, where his drive went out of bounds into the road and bounced back on the fairway. On the twenty-ninth, he put his second in a trap, came out weakly and took three more to get down for 6, but McCarthy duplicated the performance and the hole was halved.

Homans began the rout of Lehman by taking the last three holes of the morning round in quick succession, but the Jersey youth was in the lead from the second hole to the finish at the twenty-ninth green. The western star's putter, usually so reliable, failed him consistently with the exception of two holes, the seventh and tenth, on which he ran down putts of 40 and 30 feet, respectively. Homans was the personification of steadiness all the way. He had the best medal score of the day when he posted 73, three over for his morning round and he was even par for the eleven holes he played in the afternoon.

An 18-foot putt for a birdie 4 on the 595-yard twenty-second hole and another long putt for a birdie 3 on the twenty-eighth helped the Jersey star settle the match quickly.

CHARLIE GREAT

Seaver, who looks like a prospective Stanford halfback, with a pair of hands that would make a shortstop envious, did a workmanlike job of beating McPhail, the slim Bostonian, after a shaky time of it in the morning. The California youngster was 2 down at the eleventh when he suddenly braced, squared the match at the fourteenth and became 1 up at the eighteenth when McPhail missed a two-foot putt. Seaver was unable to increase his lead through the outward nine of the afternoon play, but he kept it intact after a battle and then reeled off three straight 4's—all pars, to take complete command. McPhail wilted from the effects of the day's intense heat and so did his game. He prolonged the match to the thirty-second by halving the last two holes, Seaver winning by 5 and 4.

Less than a half-hour after the quarter-finals were completed, a terrific storm broke and flooded the Merion course, chasing some 5000 perspiring spectators to cover, but it brought a welcome end to the hot spell.

The schedule for the semifinal matches tomorrow calls for the Homans-Seaver contest at 8:30 a.m. (E.S.T.) the Jones-Sweetser match at 9.

no experience in competition. The rest of the line, Haughton (Fat) Norfleet, Jones, Oliver and Willoughby are playing their first game on the Bruin varsity team.

"Our players should learn much from the game. They need it," Spaulding stated as he looked over his team on the new field just off the Westwood campus. Spaulding believes if his team could meet the Trojans on Thanksgiving Day they would make a much better showing.

"It is not so much how a team performs on the opening day that counts but what they do in the latter part of the season," Bunker Bill said with a half smile.

The Bruin line will average about 180 pounds. Spaulding will have about thirty-five players available for action. The Bruins had about the same number last year. One thing is certain, the Bruins are not going ruin their chances for the rest of the season in the Trojan game. Spaulding will save his men as much as possible.

Steve Cunningham, graduate manager, believes the crowd will reach the 50,000 mark. Last year's game drew in the neighborhood of 35,000 fans. Tickets are on sale at B. H. Dyas and both universities.

The Bruin squad is intact with the exception of Sorenson, Painter and Millum. They have minor injuries suffered in practice. Mario Pozo, transfer from Glendale Junior College and Georgetown, is not eligible from all accounts to play with the Bruins. He, however, took part in practice and looked very good.

BUCS BLANKED BY CARDINALS

hander, from the hill in the second inning.

"Sunny Jim" Bottomley, big Redbird first baseman, sent the noisy fans into a frenzy of joy early in the first inning with a long home run over the right-field pavilion, scoring Adams and Frisch ahead of him. Just before this Douthit, who had doubled when the inning opened, had scored on Frisch's single.

Spencer went to the mound for Pittsburgh in the second, but the confident Cards kept on hitting, scoring two more runs in that inning, one in the third, and two in the sixth. In the second Gelbert tripled and scored on Grimes's single. Grimes advanced on Douthit's single and Frisch's walk, then scored on Bottomley's sacrifice fly. Watkins tripled in the third and came home on an infield out. In the sixth Grimes singled, Douthit doubled, scoring Grimes and went to third on the throw to the plate. Adams singled and Douthit scored.

Manager Gabby Street and his Birds were happy men tonight and vowed they would go out to clinch the pennant by taking the second game from the Pirates tomorrow. Since the Chicago Cubs won today from the Cincinnati Reds, the Cardinals must win one more game to assure them the National League championship and the chance to battle the Philadelphia Athletics, American League champions, in the world's series. ERIC PEDLEY SHINES

WESTBURY (N. Y.) Sept. 25. (AP)—While H. J. (Jock) Whitney was being married at Philadelphia today, and Thomas Hitchcock, Jr. was acting as one of his ushers, their Green Tree polo team with two substitute players won its way to the finals of the Monty Waterbury high-goal handicap tourney, beating old Aiken, 13 to 8, at Whitney Field, Meadowbrook.

Greentree will be pitted Saturday in the Waterbury Cup play against Roslyn, containing the two Texans, Cecil Smith and H. R. (Rube) Williams. Hitchcock, certainly, and Whitney, probably, will be back for the play then.

ERIC PEDLEY

Eric Pedley, California internationalist, substituted on short notice for Hitchcock in today's game and was largely responsible for his team's victory, scoring six of its thirteen goals.

Athletics Tip Yankees, 13-3

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Athletics turned the first game of their final series of the season into a session of batting practice against the New York Yankees today, pounding out a 13-to-3 victory before the game was halted at the end of the sixth by rain.

Lou Gehrig accounted for all the Yankee runs in the first as he hit his forty-first home run of the season after Reese had doubled and Ruth had reached first on an error.

FABRILES PLAY TOMORROW

Play in the baseball series between the Fabriles, champions of Mexico, and the local Mexico-El Paso club will be resumed at White Sox Park tomorrow when one game is scheduled. A double-header will be played Sunday.

HAMAS WINS BY KAYO DESPITE BROKEN HAND

Despite a broken hand suffered in the first round, Steve Hamas, hard-hitting young heavyweight, knocked out Cecil Myart, subbing for Chief Whitehorse, in the sixth round of the scheduled ten-round main event at Pasadena last night. If Hamas was bothered by his broken paw it was not apparent in his actions, because he had Myart on the floor once in the fifth round and three times in the sixth before putting him away for keeps.

JOE M'CARTHY QUITS CUBS

four or five days," McCarthy said after the conference broke up, "and then I think I shall attend the world series. After mature deliberation I thought the best course for all concerned would be for me to retire now."

President Veeck issued a statement in which he said that in view of the fact McCarthy was not to be tendered a contract for the 1931 season, McCarthy had made the request he be relieved of further duties in connection with the club. For more than an hour Wrigley and Veeck attempted to persuade McCarthy to finish up the National League schedule, but he refused to yield.

McCarthy will be honored by Cub fans Saturday, at which time "Marse Joe" will be presented with a chest of silver.

McCarthy's contract, which does not expire until January 1, 1931, has been paid in full. He will receive a substantial bonus, provided the club finishes in second place, an offer Owner Wrigley recently made. McCarthy also is down for a slice of the city series receipts.
